MOBHD CROWD DISAPPOINTED BY EDWARDS

(From The Arizona Republican. H. G. Edwards has pleaded guilty to the crime of constructive rape committed against his daughter, Mina Edwards Reavis. He will be sentenced at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

The notorious case attracted many women bent on hearing the unpleasant details of a sensational affair. The court room was crowded. Every seat was taken and men crowded the back of the room until it was hardly possible for the lawyers and interested parties to fight their way inside the bar. There was disappointment on the faces of many of them when the man pleaded guilty. But, though they were cheated out of hearing the testimony, they were given the satisfaction of seeing the criminal at the moment they craved when the State announced that Edwards had attempted to escape jail.

On various grounds, B. E. Marks, counsel for the defendant, asked for a month's continuance. He pleaded that his client was unable to speak, and in recognition of this constitutional rights a postponement should be granted. County Attorney Gandy replied that the prosecution could prove that he could both speak and hear. "He is shamming," said Mr. Gandy.

"The condition of his mind has not permitted him to prepare for trial," argued Mr. Marks. "If he had been as intent upon preparing for trial as in attempting to escape jail, he would be ready now," replied Mr. Gandy.

The court then called a twenty-five minute conference of attorneys. After the recess Mr. Marks asked for a hearing on the question of Edwards' sanity. This was denied on the grounds that there had been insufficient showing to doubt his sanity.

Judge Stanford then asked if the defendant cared to change his plea from not guilty to guilty. The court was compelled to instruct the clerk to write the message, and in turn Edwards wrote that he desired to plead guilty. "Sign your name," wrote the clerk.

Edwards picked up the pen and with a flourish signed "H. G. Edwards."

GUARDIAN ASKED Early yesterday morning just as the case went to trial a petition was filed asking the court to appoint A. A. Trippel guardian of the minor children of Edwards. Mr. Trippel is the son of Eugene Trippel of the land commission and was a city official of Tucson for several years. He has had business interests in Phoenix more recently.

The petition sets forth that the Edwards children are entitled to legacies of George Livesay to the amount of $7,500. The estate is being administered in Kentucky at the present time. Their mother Laura B. Edwards, who died January 2, 1913, left an estate of $2,500.

Edwards is said to be heavily involved financially and the property of the mother and the interests of the estate in Kentucky are the only source of provision for the children. A guardian must be appointed, since Edwards is not capable of acting.

NOTICE

Washington, Feb. 12.—In advertisements issued today for bids upon contracts for providing aerial mail service, Postmaster General Barlesen gives manufacturers of aeroplanes and hydroplanes opportunity to meet practical tests as regular carriers of the United States mails. The bids are to be opened May 12, and October 1, next in service as the date for beginning service.

The action is taken both to improve mail service and to stimulate the development of the science of aviation in the United States because of its close relation to the general question of military preparedness. In view of Philanthropic efforts already begun to finance undertakings which involve more general use of aeroplanes, such as that of maintaining an aerial patrol of the Atlantic and Pacific coasts as an adjunct of the Coast guard, it is believed that the capital will be raised to make tests in the postal service. The route across Buzzard's Bay and Nantucket Sound, in Southern Massachusetts, and seven routes in Alaska. If such service is proven feasible and reliable over these routes a gradual expansion to many other routes upon the present means of transportation.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, SIXTEENTH PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES. BORN FEBRUARY 12, 1809 (Watson on Lincoln). Bora as lowly as the Son of God in a hovel; reared in poverty, seclusion, with no sign of light for his surroundings; without grades, school or acquirements; without name or fame or official training; it was reserved for this strange being, late in life, to be smitten through obscurity, raised to supreme command at a supreme moment, and entrusted with the destiny of a nation.

The great leaders of his party, the most experienced and accomplished public men of the day, were used to stand aside; they were sent to the rear, while this unknown figure was led by unseen hands to the front and given the reins of government.

With them such a weight of responsibility as the world never witnessed before, he filled the vast spaces allotted him in the eyes and souls of mankind; and it is to say that he was inspired by God, for nowhere else could he have acquired the wisdom and the virtue.

Where did Shakespeare get his genius? Where did Mozart get his music? Whose hand smote the lyre of the Scottish plover, and stayed the life of the German priest? God, God, and God alone; nowhere else but as these were raised up by God, inspired by God, was Abraham Lincoln; and a thousand years hence no drama, no tragedy, no epic poem will be filled with greater wonder, or be followed by mankind with deeper feeling than that which tells the story of this man's life.

For an account of the life of Abraham Lincoln, the Lincoln Encyclopedia, the Chicago Auditorium, February 19, 1916.

Toxication's Self Poisoning.

Few Realize Causes of this Form of Ailment.

How realize what a great number of people among those who live in such cities as this, suffer from auto-intoxication. This condition, which has caused so much discussion, is nothing more nor less than a slow self poisoning of vital organs. It is the very foundation of many ailments.

When the organs become weakened from any cause they are unable to throw off the accumulations of waste matters. The putrefactive germs soon begin to get up their deadly work and the sufferer finally is a direct victim of poisons generated right in his own system.

Among the common results of this auto-intoxication are jaundice, hard cold, constipation, indigestion and fermenting of food, biliousness, sick headaches, backaches, diarrhea, dizziness, pain in the kidney region and nervousness.

Talco is designated, especially to combat this condition of auto-intoxication. Its properties as a tonic and irrigant tends to throw off the poisons and to spur the organs back to needed efforts, in short, to clean them and make them normal again.

As an automobilist it might be said that Talco acts as a spark plug in the human mechanism. It starts the vital engines and then keeps them going at a properly regulated speed.

Talco may be obtained in Mt. Vernon, at the drug store of Chas. C. Davis, also at Central Drug Co., Lexington; and John Robins' drug store, Brookhead, W. M. Owens' store, Barry, Ky., where its properties are cheerfully explained at all callery.

STATE-WIDE DEFEATED

Woman Suffrage is Placed on Calendar in House—Republicans Make Plans for State Convention March 1

Frankfort, Ky. (Special).—With the closing of the 1914 session of the Kentucky Legislature near to hand there is much speculation as to what bills will be passed to remedy business conditions. It was expected that more would be accomplished in the early days of the present session, but great deal of time was taken up over the Pike County division, prohibition and woman suffrage, neither of which have made any headway towards being enacted.

It appears that state-wide prohibition has been put to sleep for all this session, being defeated in both the House and the Senate.

The bill for the proposed Stanley county laid on the table in the Senate, is not expected to be brought up again.

Woman suffrage unfavorably reported in both the House and the Senate, but brought out in the lower body over the committee by a majority vote and placed on the calendar, appears to be certain of defeat.

The usual scramble at the eleventh hour is expected by those who have carefully watched the proceedings of this and many previous sessions of the Kentucky lawmakers.

Out of respect to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, both branches adjourned over Saturday, February 12th, his birthday.

The first thing Governor Stanley did after the State-wide prohibition amendment was defeated, was to call Attorney-General M. Logan, Auditor Herbert L. Greene and Treasurer Sherman Goodpastor into conference, with a view to legislation which is intended to liquidate the State debt of three million dollars.

The first thing to be done is to increase the passage of bills under which provision may be made for increasing the amount of interest now being paid by the State on its outstanding warrant.

A committee of the Kentucky Bankers' Association has assisted in the preparation of this bill. Several of the leading bankers of the State have already conferred with Governor Stanley regarding the matter, and administration officials are optimistic concerning the likelihood of settling the debt. Leaders declare that the future of the Democratic party in Kentucky depends in a great measure upon it.

The Duncan administration bill to amend the text book adoption law which provided that not more than three subjects of study shall be changed at any one year was recommitted with leave to bring it forth at any time. This bill has passed the Senate and will be substituted for the House Bill.

The solons are beginning to take stock now that the session of the General Assembly is more than half over. Every man who has a bill that he wants to pass in order to square himself with his constituents is beginning to figure on how he can get it through the legislative maze that now confronts him.

There will likely be some fancy "jockeying" from now on, and all sorts of arguments will be brought to bear by the anxious solons to get their measures advanced before the time when they must trust to the tender mercies of the Rules Committee.

State-wide prohibition was defeated in the House of Representatives failing to receive the necessary three-fifths by six votes.

The vote stood 54 for submission and 40 against.

During the debate on this measure in the House trouble arose between Representative W. E. Harvey, of Dixon, Webster county, and Representative J. D. Humphrey, of Flemingburg.

Speaking in support of the measure, Representative Harvey resigned a statement that a Democratic member who voted for the bill was a bootlegger. He referred to the Democratic candidate at Louisville last year as a bootlegger, the real sentiment of the party. He criticized Governor Stanley harshly and accused him of depicting the days in certain localities as to the attitude of the people.

When gained of title.

J. C. McCLARY

tended to vote for state-wide even though he knew it was contrary to the platform, because he had promised his constituents to support it. But he declined to do so, being silent when the Governor was being attacked.

The made charges that a chambermaid at a hotel in Frankfort has approached Representative Harvey of Laurel County line from Mt. Vernon, Ky., between Mt. Vernon and Livingston, Ky., known as State Aid Road No. 78, will be received up to noon February 21st, 1915, and will be publicly opened and read at 2 o'clock, p. m. on said date. The plans and specifications for said road may be seen at the office of the Clerk of the Rockcastle County Court in Mt. Vernon, having been approved by the Fiscal Court of Rockcastle County and the Commissioner of Public Roads, and bids must be for the work done in accordance with said plans and specifications. The road is approximately nine miles Hursey branded the statements of Partridge as "blatant lies" and "liberally and maliciously planned by a man against his enemy. He told that it was a frame-up by those opposed to state-wide prohibition. The state-wide prohibition amendment is dead for the present session of the legislature, having been defeated by the Senate.

The Woman Suffrage constitutional amendment providing for the people to vote on the question of whether women shall vote or not, was brought out by the House of Representatives despite their unfavorable report, by a vote of 41 to 40.

The vote of the Committee stood 3 to 4 in favor of killing the bill, but Representative Hobbs, of Lexington, author of the bill, moved for its standing the unfavorable report, the bill be given its first reading and placed in the calendar. He made a brief speech in favor of the bill and Representative Odie Duncan, of Henderson, spoke against it.

The galleries of the House were filled with women long before the time to vote on the matter was called. In all their success in having it placed in the calendar.

Without debate or roll call, the Prohibition program by President Wilson was endorsed by the Senate. A joint resolution was introduced by Senator Boole, of Spencer County.

The impeachment committee decided to make two reports to the House on the petition for the impeachment of J. E. Williams, Judge of McCrory County. The majority report, signed by the Democratic members, will recommend the impeachment.

The minority report, submitted by Representative White, of Wayne county, the sole Republican member on the committee, will recommend the petition be dismissed.

The Strickland-Pike, anti-pass bill, passed by both branches of the General Assembly, was the first signed by Governor Stanley and will become a law, January 1, 1917.

The State Board of Equalization has been organized with W. M. Duncan, of Lawrenceburg, as chairman, and W. D. Mason, of Lancaster, Clerk Clerk. The assistant clerks are E. E. Peterson, of Campbellsville and C. E. Hastings, of Brandenburg.

Secretary of State Lewis has reappointed Charles J. Howe, who has resigned as Secretary of the State, to hold until March 1st, 1915.

The Court of Appeals, in an opinion by Judge Turner, upheld the position of Attorney General Gresham and Attorney General Logan, refusing to allow the salaries of the porter and seven stenographers for the month of January to be paid.

Upon the admission of the General Assembly alone has power to appropriate public money to that purpose. Gilbert says that he will appeal to the legislature for help and that that effect will be thrashed out.

Two bills designed to enforce the Sunday closing law in Kenton and Campbell Counties passed the House without serious opposition after much trouble was experienced in getting these placed on the calendar and through the necessary readings before a vote was taken.

The bills were introduced by Representative Greene, of Carrollton. The representatives from Kenton and Campbell Counties fought valiantly to defeat the measures.

The first measure is known as the common nuisance injunction act. It provides any place where liquor is sold in violation of law shall be considered a common nuisance and provides for the abatement of such nuisances by injunction.

The second bill passed is a "forfeiture act." This measure provides any saloon keeper who violates the law shall forfeit his license and pay no such saloon keeper shall ever be granted another license.

The most drastic feature of the bill is the action which gives jurisdiction in all cases under the act to the Frankfort County Court upon the testimony of two credible witnesses that there has been a violation of the law. Either side may appeal to the Appellate Court.

The State Excise Commission Bill, which has been passed by the House, is a substitute for the measure was not introduced.

The "forfeiture act" has been reported unfavorable in the Senate.

TO THE

Tax Payers of Rockcastle County

who owes us back tax for 1914 and 1915.

I have given you ample time in which to settle your tax. As I have to make my final settlement with the county at once and I can't wait any longer, as I am a poor man and can't pay them for you, and as it is easier for you to raise three or four dollars than it is for me to raise three or four thousand dollars.

So please call at the office and settle at once, as I don't want to cause you any extra cost and trouble. Neither do I want to levy on your property but under the orders of the Fiscal Court and the law I am forced to collect these taxes.

So please be governed accordingly.

Livingston

J. W. Baker, of Mt. Vernon, was here to return Tuesday. —The L. & N. R. company is moving the water tank from Kufs and will put it up here. This will give them a double supply of water but the number of engines taking water here is so poor too much. There will be a series of meetings at the Christian church, in the near future, but as we have not learned the date we will give that later. —Miss Mae Evans is attending school at Mt. Vernon. —T. J. Nicely was in our town Wednesday on business. —Cupid has been in our town again and here is some more of his work. At 3:09 Tuesday morning, Ben Griffin and Miss Nettie Rice walked to the depot and purchased tickets for Louisville, and when No. 24 arrived they boarded the train which soon carried them out of the reach of parental objections. On arriving at Louisville conveyance was soon procured and they landed in Jeffersonville where they were soon made man and wife. Mr. Griffin is the son of G. S. Griffin and a partner in his father in the general dry goods and grocery store of G. S. Griffin & Son. Mrs. Griffin is the attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rice. We extend congratulations and best wishes for a happy life together. —Miss Ella Mae Elmsford, after a two-week visit with relatives in Louisville has returned home. —Some folks are claiming that yesterday, February 14th, was Ground Hog Day, and we thought that February 15th was. Now, Mr. Ed, not that it makes any difference which day the ground hog comes out, but we would very much like to have this matter settled. Let Jim Marot settle the question. We failed to have a letter from this point last week, but the reason was, the writer and better half were in Cincinnati and did not get back in time to write one. We will atone for this by telling all we know this week. —Old Uncle Johnie McDaniels, living near Livingston, died Monday. He was an old soldier of the war of 1861. —Died, February 10th, Mrs. Susie Patterson, and was laid to rest Friday, February 11th, in the Ward cemetery to await the resurrection and ascension home to be with her master. The bereaved have the sympathy of the community. —Mrs. G. S. Griffin and children are spending the week with relatives at or near Mt. Vernon. —Mrs. W. R. Ward is visiting relatives at Lebanon Junction and Louisville. —Mrs. E. Brown, of Maywood, visited relatives here latter part of last week. —A. Owens is on the sick list. —E. Brodhead

J. M. Broiles, of Pulaski County, shipped a car of 111 hogs from this place last week, and Brown & Craig shipped a car a few days later. —Judge A. J. Haggard sold a young horse to Allen Hiatt, of Quigg section, last week for $8.50. —Thomas S. Frith died at his home here at 4 o'clock a. m., Thursday last week after a short illness of a complication of troubles incident to old age. Mr. Frith, who was a little past seven five years of age, had spent most of his life in this county and had been engaged in the mercantile business for probably fifty years. In his earlier life was considered one of the best, as well as the most successful in business, and had accumulated quite a fortune, and even at the time of his death owned 5000 acres of land. He had been the most valuable in the county, and a few years ago was considered the wealthiest citizen in the county. In the past few years he was less active in business, and success had not crowned his efforts as formerly. He is survived by three sons, Tilden, Maurice and Horace Frith, and one brother, J. G. Frith, who is also a large owner of real estate in this section. His wife was burned to death in the summer of 1913, when her clothing caught fire at her home, death resulting in a few days. Mr. Frith was a life long member of the Christian Church, and was always found in church and Sunday school. He had been a member of Brodhead Masonic lodge for more than forty years. Short services were conducted at the residence by J. C. McClary, of Stanford, the officiating undertaker, Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock, followed by interment in the family burying ground, the Masons having charge of the final services. —Frank Brooks and Gus Getzel, of Crab Orchard, attended the funeral of T. S. Frith here last Friday. —John Robins sold the farm recently purchased from W. D. Jammies, known as the J. J. Woodard property, to Young Bros. These gentlemen are brothers of the Rev. H. T. Young, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Christian church. One of the brothers resides in Louisville, the other in Princeton, and the latter will move here about March first. We are certainly glad to have Mr. Young and his estimable family in our midst. —W. J. Owens moved his family to the H. L. Tharp property on Main street, recently vacated by C. T. Riddle, who moved to the property being owned by W. H. Lynch. —Mrs. Martha Roberts Templin died at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Shelton Saturday morning at 4 o'clock, and her remains were laid to rest in the Methodist church cemetery at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon, after short services by the Rev. Louis Powell. The deceased was a life long member of the Baptist church, and had spent the last several years of her life without a real home. Her husband died several years ago, and she had made her home with relatives and friends since. She had an only sister, Mrs. Katharine Deibel, of Union City, who was with her at the time of her death, and one brother, William Roberts, who resides at King's Mountain, but was unable to be here on account of serious illness. —We understand that our J. H. Ward bought a farm the first of the week near Lebanon, KY., containing 150 or more acres, for which he paid $50.00 per acre. We have not learned how soon Mr. Ward moves to this place. —Mrs. Jay Gorgensline, of Stanford, attended the funeral of her uncle, T. S. Frith here last Friday. —J. H. Hurst were here Wednesday to locate the road just South of town, where a change has to be made on account of the river over-flowing the old road. —Mrs. Cassie Furnish died at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Furish Wednesday morning at 7:30. We understand that she has been an invalid for a number of years. She was about eighty years of age, and owing to her weakened condition was unable to resist the severe attack of grip and other troubles that were visiting upon her. Her remains were taken to Warsaw, Ky., Wednesday afternoon for burial. A. T. Furish accompanying them. —Thomas Mink, of the Ottawa section, left Wednesday for Knoxville, Tenn., where he has a position with the railroad company. —George Owens, the Mt. Vernon undertaker, was here Wednesday on account of the death of Mrs. Cassie Furnish. —Dr. G. B. Lawrence was here Wednesday to see J. M. Adams. —Mrs. Wm. SEVERE COLDS QUICKLY CURED

"On December first I had a very severe cold or attack of bronchitis as it may be, and was nearly down sick in bed," writes O. J. Metcalf, "weatherly, Mo. I bought two bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it was nearly a few days until I was completely restored to health. I firmly believe that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is one of the very best medicines and will know what to do when I have another cold. Costainable everywhere."

Washington, Feb. 14.—President Wilson to-day formally gave his consent that his name be used as a candidate for re-nomination. In a letter to the Secretary of State of Ohio, the President stated that he was unwilling to enter a contest for the nomination, but was ready to permit the use of his name in the coming primary in order that the Democrats of Ohio might make known their preference.

The President made known his position in order to comply with the Ohio primary law which requires candidates for delegates to the party conventions to make known their first and second choices before February 25, and also requires that the candidates for delegates have the consent of their choices to make use of their names.

The President was formerly notified of the requirements of the law last week and to day he wrote Charles Q. McInerney, Secretary of State of Ohio as follows:

CHAMBERLAIN'S PIERCING-PAINS

To kill the nerve pains of sciatica you can always depend on Sloan's Liniment. It penetrates to the seat of pain and brings its ease as soon as it is applied. A great comfort too with Sloan's is that no rubbing is required. Sloan's Liniment is equally reliable for stopping muscular or nerve pain of any kind. Try it at once if you suffer with rheumatism, lumbago, sore throat, pains in chest, sprains, bruises, etc. It is excellent for neuralgia and headache. 25c at all druggists.

During the absence of H. C. Chappel, the editor, W. H. Buchanon, a Democrat, looked after the office of the Three States, Middleton, a Republican, who had a lively but pleasant time over the huge job Hughes perpetrated on the office. He didn't deceive the readers however, for at the outset he advised them of the situation and told them that a little change in their diet in the way of a good dosing of democracy would stimulate and aid their digestion. Nearly all the subscribers took the affair good humoredly.

In a recent issue of the Louisville Times, a writer gave an account of the vast fiasco of money paid to labor by the Louisville and Nashville railroad. Few people have any conception of the good this company is doing for Kentucky. It not only furnishes employment for thousands of persons but has done more to develop the resources of the state than any corporation or other organization. Yet it is quite a fact for leather-lunged politicians to lambast it and juries to give excessive verdicts in every case brought to court against it. When the people of Kentucky learn to encourage instead of discourage such enterprises, then the state will be come one of the leading business centers of the nation.—Danville Messenger.

True as preaching. Col. Roosevelt, in referring to President Wilson, calls him a Byzantine logothete. Jim Stears, of Nicholasville, says all the dictionaries have been exhausted, the encyclopedias ransacked, but nothing yet gives any light on the subject. It may be that the cologne ran up against it in the jungles of Africa. Others think it means that Wilson cannot be defeated for a second term. That doesn't make it.—Danville Messenger.

Possibly Teddy shot it but lost the scraw when the boat splashed him out into the river of Doubt while on his South American expedition.

An inquisitive person wants to know what we think of the strange case of Miss Mary Teocoyas as reported in certain California newspapers, who smoked and chewed tobacco all her life in addition to drinking much bad whiskey, and yet lived to be 106 years old. The answer is easy. We think it is a lie.—Evening Post.

Louis Ludrum's Danville Messenger says there "just ain't no talkin'" of attempting to nominate a candidate again the tall sycamore of the St. Asaph for Congress that Harvey has got 'em skinned a block and then some. It certainly "do" look that way to Zacariah.

Danville is tickled over the fact that it is to have a new hotel. They were some time getting started on this much needed building but are now "a pushing it."

SIMON KENTON'S MISFORTUNES.

Kentucky and the west, after the peace at Grovetville, washed forward with rapid strides in the career of population and wealth. Emigrants came pouring over the Alleghenies into the fertile valley of the Ohio, to occupy the beautiful "land of the canoe". These lands rose rapidly in price and importance, and Kenton was now thought to be one of the wealthiest men in his state, and deserved to be so, for he had purchased his wealth by many a bloody conflict, and by many incredible hardships. But behold the gratitude of his countrymen. The crafty offspring of Europe, who slept in the lap of ease and security, while this noble pioneer was enduring the hardships of the wilderness, and braving the gauntlet, and stake, and tomahawk of the Indian to redeem the soil of the west, creep in when the fight, and toil, and danger are past, and by a memorable trick, miserable technically, and cunning procedure, wrest the possession, bought at such a terrible price, from the gallant, unlettered, simple-hearted man, unversed in the rascality of civilization. He lost his lands acre after acre, the superior skill of the speculator prevailing over the simplicity and ignorance of the hunter.

What a burning, deep disgrace to the west, that the hero who had suffered so much and fought so well to win the soil of his glorious "cane land" from the savages, should, when the contest was ended, be compelled to leave it to those who never struck a blow in its defense.

Together with Boone and numerous other brave old frontiersmen, who bore "the heat and burden of the day", Kenton, like an old shoe, was kicked aside when he was no longer of any use, or had become too antiquated for the fashion of the time.

Kentucky treated her heroes and staunchest defenders scarcely so well as they treated their dogs.—After reading down the page she denied them the very same.

upon the very spot where he first built his cabin in '75—where he planted the first corn ever planted on the north of the Kentucky river by the hand of any white man—where he ranged the pathless forest in freedom and safety, where he subsequently erected his foremost station house, and battled the Indians in an hundred encounters, and, nearly alone, endured the hardships of the wilderness, while those who then reaped the fruits of his former sufferings were yet unborn, or dwell afar in the lap of ease and plenty? In 1798, beguiled by law suits and lured he moved to Urbana, Ohio. He himself never repined. In 1805 he was elected brigadier general of the Ohio Militia and in 1810 he joined the Methodist church; in 1818 he was with Governor Shelby in the battle of the Thames, in 1820 he moved to Mad river, where in April 1836 in sight of the place where the Indians fifty-eight years before, proposed to torture him to death, he breathed his last, surrounded by his family and neighbors, supported by the consolations of the gospel.

KENTON VISITS FRANKFORT IN 1824.

At the age of 70, in 1824, Kenton set out on a journey to Frankfort, in intemperate garments and a sorry horse, to endeavor to get the legislature, then in session to release the claim of the State on his mountain lands (on account of taxes due). Here where he had lived in an unbroken wilderness in the early day, now stood a flourishing city, but he walked up down its streets, an object of curiosity to the boys, a stranger, recognized by no one. A generation of people had arisen to people the land which he had defended, and his old friends and companions were gone. A bright General Thomas Fletcher, from 18th county, saw and knew him, and through his means the old pioneer was clothed in a decent suit and entertained in a kind and becoming manner. When it became known that Simon Kenton had the honor, many were especially anxious to see the celebrated warrior and hunter, and testify their regard for him. He was taken to the capital and placed in the speaker's chair, and then introduced as the second great adventure of the west to a crowd of assembly of legislators, judges, and the people.
