Ann D. Allen Suggests...

As many homemakers are finding out, it's not enough to save money on food when you buy it. In these times you have to save after you cook it too. You have to know how to handle leftovers!

A large cut of meat, for instance, can make three meals: a roast, a stew and hamburgers.

Leftover vegetables can be given a new lease on life when mixed together and covered with a tasty white sauce made from two tablespoons of butter, two tablespoons of flour, one-half teaspoon salt and two cups of milk for each cup of vegetables.

Cold fish can be turned into a delicious dish if you top it with a blend of dairy sour cream and pickle relish. Bits of meat and vegetables too few to make a meal can be turned into a delicious casserole with noodles or rice and lots of cheese. Treat your leftovers right the second time around, and there probably won't be any leftovers left over for a third time.

Self-Employed People with Low Earnings May Get Social Security Credit with Optional Report

People who had low net earnings from self-employment in 1974 may get social security credit if they report their earnings by an optional method, according to social security officials here.

"Instead of reporting their net earnings for the year," a spokesman said, "people can report two-thirds of their gross earnings from self-employment for social security credit—if two-thirds is $400 or more and not more than $1,600, provided these amounts are not less than their actual net earnings.

"They can get social security credit," he said, "if their net for the year is under $400 but their gross is $600 or more and they report their self-employment earnings by the optional method."

Earnings reports and social security contributions should be sent with income tax returns to the Internal Revenue Service by April 15.

The optional method of reporting may be used only by people who had net self-employment earnings of $400 or more for at least 2 out of the 3 previous years. Under the law, the option may be used only five times.

Eligibility for social security benefits depends on credits earned by people who work in jobs covered by social security. The amount of monthly social security benefits is based on the worker's average earnings over a period of years.

People can call or write any social security office for more information about the optional method of reporting self-employment earnings. The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Retired workers can get their full social security benefits at 65 or reduced retirement benefits as early as 62.

If you're working while you get social security checks, be sure to notify a social security office if your earnings go higher than you expected.

You can often handle your social security business over the telephone. Telephone first and save a trip.

When you change jobs, always show your social security card to your new employer to make sure your wages are correctly reported.

TOBACCO DAY PROGRAM SET FOR FEB. 20TH AT UK...

Tobacco Day, a program designed to provide Kentucky farmers with the latest information on tobacco production and marketing, will take place in Lexington on February 20th. The event is sponsored by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and will be held in the Seay Auditorium on the UK campus.

The program is scheduled to get under way at 9:30 a.m. and will run until 3 p.m. The first speaker will be Robert Miller, Director of the USDA's Agricultural Statistical and Analytical Division in Washington, D.C. who will discuss the supply-demand situation for terry tobacco. He will be followed by William Lanier, director of the USDA's Tobacco Division who will talk about USDA terry program.

Two speakers will discuss industry needs for fertilizer. The needs of the manufacturer will be covered by William Longest, vice-president of Philip Morris Tobacco Company in Richmond, Virginia. The needs of the dealer will be presented by Howard Cone, vice president of United Tobacco Company, also of Richmond, Virginia.

The morning session will conclude with a discussion of mechanization in tobacco marketing. The speaker will be A. H. Galloway, agricultural economist with the USDA stationed at North Carolina State University in Raleigh, North Carolina.

The afternoon session of the Tobacco Day program will be devoted to presenting the latest ideas for mechanizing terry tobacco production. Opening comments will be made by John N. Walker, Chairman of the Department of Agricultural Engineering ring at the University of Kentucky.

The development of a loose-leaf marketing package will be discussed by George Duncan, UK Extension Agricultural Engineer, and J. H. Smiley, UK Extension Tobacco Specialist.

A realistic evaluation of stalk mechanization developments and potential will be made by Elmon Yoder, agricultural engineer with the USDA's Agricultural Research Service working at the UK. Joe M. Bunn, Associate Professor of Agricultural Engineering at UK, will discuss bulk curving and Ivan Neas, researcher with the R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company, will explain how production practices influence the usability of terry tobacco.

The final presentation of the day will be on leaf harvesting and curing equipment trends and availability. The speaker will be Rupert Watkins, Extension Agricultural engineer at N. C. State University.

LOOK OUR FOR LICE.....

Winter is the time to be on the look out for lice build up on beef cattle. Unthrifty poor-looking animals with a rough looking coat should be checked for lice. If your cattle are doing a lot of rubbing against posts, etc. they probably have a lice infestation. In severe cases cattle will rub off patches of hair and injure their skin.

Good animals management is the first step in lice control. Proper nutrition and sanitation go a long way in decreasing lice population. Delouse new animals before they are added to your herd.

Chemical control may be necessary. Systemic insecticides, pour-ons, or insecticidal dusts have decided advantages over sprays during the winter. Wetting agents with sprays during cold weather increases their susceptibility to pneumonia. Rack rubbers also aid in lice control.

For more information on specific chemicals check with your county agent and extension publications ENT 4, 11, 12, and 23.

PLANT TREES AND SHRUBS

Late February is an excellent time to plant deciduous trees, shrubs, and needle evergreens. Your county agent's office has copies of a new leaflet, No. 343, "Planting Ornamental Trees" by R. W. Henley.

If you have bare spots in an established lawn, seed with Ken-Blue Bluegrass. Late spring frost will work the seed into the ground. Don't seed steeply graded new lawn areas until early April. The seed doesn't germinate until the ground warms, about the first week in April, and could wash off before it germinates.

Check with a free leaflet available at any social security office.

The leaflet—Estimating your social security retirement check—explains how much work people need to be eligible for social security benefits and shows them how to figure the approximate

Or maybe it is the sincere dedication that each member of the Dowell and Martin Funeral Home Staff has to helping people when they need it the most. Each individual family has different desires and wishes. We are here to obey each and every request.

VOLUME 88 NUMBER 23

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1975

Several Wrecks Reported

No injuries were reported in a minor accident early Friday morning on Interstate 75, seven and three-tenths miles South of Mt. Vernon.

According to State Police reports, John Thomas Breslin of East Lansing, Michigan, was traveling south on the interstate when he was overtaken by an auto driven by Robert Ballard of Lancaster. Ballard attempted to change over to the right lane too quickly and struck the auto driven by Breslin.

Last Thursday evening, James Marshall Dykes, 19, of Route 5, Somerset, received Class III (non-incapacitating) injuries when the car he was driving slid into a utility pole on Kentucky 1249 in the city limits of Mt. Vernon. A passenger in the car, Bobby Loren Cromer, 16, of Route 1, Mt. Vernon, received Class II (incapacitating) injuries in the accident.

Dykes told State Police that he was proceeding North on 1249 when he started down a hill and observed ice on the road. He started sliding, panicked and hit his brakes, sliding into a utility pole.

Snow and ice were also blamed for the one-car accident in which Juanita Hansel of Route 2, Mt. Vernon received Class III injuries last Thursday afternoon about 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Hansel was traveling North on U.S. 42 when she applied her brakes and due to the road being covered with snow and ice, she slid around several times and came to rest in a ditch.

THE NEW SEARS STORE is scheduled for its Grand Opening beginning next Thursday, February 20 through Saturday, February 22. ## Extension Service Sponsors Farm Management School

Dr. Kenneth Willis, Soil Specialist from the University of Kentucky and Dr. Wilmer Browning, Farm Management Specialist also from UK recently conducted a two-day Farm Management School in Mt. Vernon in the Production Credit Association's building.

According to Dr. Browning, the school discussed first what farm management is, the broad areas of management and principles of economic tools helpful in making management decisions. The plan also involved selecting livestock, land use and soil management. Dr. Willis part in the program involved helping the farmers to set up a planning system to make land as least limiting as possible. Farm income was also discussed and this centered around determining what kind of soil you would find on farms, how to separate it into productive fields and matching crops to the different fields in order to get maximum crop production. Dr. Willis said the attempt was to get as much crop production per farm as can be obtained without abusing the land.

"We have found through experience at UK, that most farmers can just about double their farm income by taking this approach," Dr. Willis said. The Farm Management School was sponsored by the Rockcastle County Extension Service and Billy Lawrence's farm was used as a model for the man involved in the school to

Frankfort Watchline

BY: GARY AUXIER

Frankfort, Ky. - The City of San Francisco made national headlines last week when the school board decided to drop the entire school sports program along with such extracurricular activities as debating and music.

The action is a storm warning for school systems throughout the nation, including those in Kentucky, although it may be difficult to imagine Kentucky schools without basketball.

In the long run, Kentucky schools are going to be as hard hit by inflation as anywhere else in the face of society's debt perhaps harder.

One public school superintendent came before the state Public Service Commission last week to protest electric rate hikes that have added fifty percent to bills in recent months.

School systems just don't have that kind of money in the budget to pay drastically increased costs.

That's just one example. The cost of textbooks is soaring, largely because of the price of paper jumped.

Teachers, like other working people, are facing costs that are going up 12 to 18 percent a year and trying to meet them with salary increases that don't approach that level.

Not so very far down the line is the problem this and succeeding state administrations face in putting the school systems in Kentucky - all of them - on an equal footing.

That could cost in the hundreds of millions of dollars before it is over with. At the very least, Kentucky will have to go far beyond what is now being poured into the Minimum Foundation Program.

Education, as usual, promises to be one of the big campaign issues of the upcoming races for state office. Along with the shoddy state of the economy in general, it may be the big issue in the gubernatorial campaign.

Whether Governor Carroll has already begun his program, so to speak, by talking the almost sure success of Post of Superintendent of Public Instruction out of running.

Wendell Butler, that old familiar face in state government, has decided to accept the "deal" offered him by Gov. Carroll to take an appointive role in the Carroll administration. Instead of running for superintendent again.

Carroll says he wants a stronger administrator, a better qualified educator for the job.

Butler has no complaints. He appears to be well satisfied with the promise of a good-paying job from which he can retire in a couple of years.

Carroll's people say the governor is a bit dismayed at Butler's choice of words in describing what transpired between the two of them.

But it is obviously a measure of the importance Carroll is placing on education.

Yet another measure, hinted at but not yet confirmed, is that a place might be found for Dr. Lyman Ginger, the current Superintendent, who also just happens to be Secretary for Education and Arts.

Under the reorganization last year, the latter position was established and Ginger was given both jobs.

But as one Carroll aide notes, there is no reason why Ginger couldn't retain the secretaryship.

By the same reasoning, there is nothing to keep the governor from making the secretary's position a stronger subordinate to the secretary.

The precedent is there. The department of agriculture, headed by elected Commissioner Wendell Butler, is only part of the Development Cabinet, headed by an appointed secretary.

Whether Ginger remains or someone else is appointed, the governor's ability to exercise infinite control over the department is there.

That, alone, should push down the road the content of the gubernatorial campaign.

26 UTILITIES ARE HELPING EACH OTHER TO HELP YOU.

From coast to coast, 15 regional reliability networks across the U.S. protect millions of electric customers from critical widespread service interruptions.  ECAR is made up of the electric companies serving an 8-state area that have joined together to safeguard the reliability of your electric service. Through ECAR each system coordinates its planning, construction and operation to assure this reliability. And through ECAR interconnections all of us can obtain and transmit power to help solve problems anywhere in the ECAR network. ECAR has as its only objective the most reliable network of electric service that engineers and computers can devise.

We are part of KIP—the Kentucky-Indiana Pool

A bouquet to the Broadhead Post Office from Albert Albright which was passed on to us this week by Mr. Albright. It seems that he (Mr. Albright) mailed a Christmas card to Genevaville, Florida with an incorrect address and no return address. Mr. Albright said that within a week he had the card back in his possession. It seems that because of the Broadhead postmark, the card was desire to serve all citizens in a fair and impartial manner. I pledge to work hard for the elector. I pledge to work hard for the preservation of the rights of the people, for Law and Order and for a strong economy." Mr. Van Hook stated.

Serving as Mr. VanHook's Rockcastle County campaign chairman is former Rockcastle County Judge Wayne Van Hook.

Mr. VanHook's wife is the former Glenna Faye Shelton and they have three children. He is a graduate of Pulaski County High School, received an Associate Arts Degree with Central Florida Junior College, a BA Degree from the University of South Florida. His major field of study was marketing and management, with an economics minor.

Mr. VanHook's experience includes General Operations and Labor Management, Bookkeeping and Auditing, College Instructor, and Oil Distributor. He is also a member of the Baptist Church, Masonic Lodge, Shrine Club, National Federation of Independent Businessmen, Chamber of Commerce, Honorable Order of Kentucky Colonels, Kentucky Sheriffs Association, Associate Member, Kentucky Walking Horse Association, Inc., Pulaski County Young Men's Christian Association and the Pulaski County Young Republican's Club.

returned there and can only thing Mr. Albright can figure from there is that the postal employees in Broadhead are familiar enough with his handwriting that they know where it went. Another advantage of living in a small town, right?.....

ROCKETEES basketball coach Bill Riddle tells us that the drawings for the district basketball Tournament will be held (Thursday) today at Annville. He also told us that the site of the District Tournament has not as yet been selected but will be tomorrow, so - it's that time of year again, folks.....

You know, it seems to have been a hard winter and for one am ready for Spring - a little early perhaps but ready. The school children have missed approximately eleven days because of snow thus far which is probably why their dismissal date into June - but that's a small problem for me anyway. I was pleased recently to notice some Easter flowers bravely coming up next to our walk but was dismayed a day or so later when you couldn't find them for the snow. But, after all, it is February and even I can't expect things to shape up this quickly, right? I am thoroughly looking forward to Tuesday night and even I just think! No more home heating bills, no more winter clothes, no more snow and slush and certainly not the least consideration - nor more basketball games. I am worn out, trying to keep up with the eighth grade and high school games, and as a teacher's helper, done either very well, but it certainly hasn't been from a lack of trying. I was counting my blessings recently that I only had the one son to follow through the sports routine when my sixth grade daughter reminded me that she would probably be playing basketball next year - I haven't spoken to the kid since. Seriously, I don't mind. It's good exercise for them and gives them another interest at an age when their only interest seems to be in setting a new world's record for running the mile.

come to our house for either Jim or myself. I may begin charging for answering the phone for the kids and for having to stop quarrel when two of them arrive at the instrument simultaneously to answer it. I can remember the first telephone was had at home and my Dad held out as long as possible against one, believe me..... Even after we got one he wouldn't let us make long distance calls on it for quite some time. Of course, we finally wore him down, but I don't think how it was such a bad idea. An even better idea, though, would be to do away with the monthly base rate charge (at least in households with children) and instead charge by the minute for usage. I bet that, after a couple of month's bills, my husband would join my in my crusade to pry the children loose from the phone.....

QUILT EXHIBITION.....

"The Design of Picked Quilts" - quilts from the Miriam Gittelman - Quilt Collection; Opening, Wednesday evening, February 12 at 7:30; Lecture given by Mrs. Tsuka on the evening of the opening University Art Gallery, Fine Arts Building, UK, Rose Street, Lexington. Gallery Hours: Daily 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Saturday and Sunday - 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. - continuing through March 2 on Sunday.

Of the twenty-two quilts in this exhibition, some date from the early 19th century, others from the 20th. All but one is American and most many are from Kentucky. Some works are in pristine condition and others are faded and even trayed here and there from household use. Most of the patterns are familiar names such as tumbling blocks, log cabin, Star of Bethlehem, pinwheel, etc.

The single quality, superceding all other criteria, is the strength of the design found in each work. Once hung on the wall, these quilts become paintings in fabric. The collection is one of the finest in the country; its form is generated by the personal taste and vision of the collector.

Mrs. Tsuka has been searching out quilts for nearly two decades.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE

Unemployment benefits paid to jobless Kentuckians continued to rise during the fourth week of January, based on figures released through the Bureau for Social Insurance of the Dept. for Human Resources. DHR's local unemployment insurance offices reported that individuals filing for continuing unemployment insurance benefits claimed 73,033 weeks last week of January.

A total of $4,033,448 was paid to Kentucky's unemployed during that week.

Compared to the same period last year - during which $1,814,463 was paid - benefits increased by more than $2 million.

Recent federal legislation, passed in the form of the Special Unemployment Assistance (SUA) program, makes many of the unemployed eligible for benefits who are not entitled to unemployment insurance under the regular program. Individuals who now qualify include domestics, farm workers, and government employees.

During January, 2,867 people filed claims for the new SUA benefits. That number is expected to continue to climb. A brief breakdown of unemployment insurance activity shows that those filing initial claims under the regular benefits program totaled 41,410 for the month of January compared to 26,088 for the same period last year. The 41,410 includes 40,491 individuals filing for state unemployment insurance, 943 filing for 'Inemployment Compensation or Federal Employees (UCFE) and 578 filing for Social Insurance pension for Ex-Servicemen (UCX).

Individuals claimed 281,261 weeks of unemployment insurance benefits in January of 1974, compared to the January 1974 figure of 157,035 weeks claimed.

NON-DRIVER PERSONAL IDENTIFICATION CARDS ISSUED

For those who don't drive or find it hard to obtain a driver's license, there is a new method of identification available. The Dept. of Transportation has implemented the use of a non-driver identification card that will make checking easier for the elderly and non-drivers alike.

These cards may be applied for at the circuit clerk's office in the county in which the applicant resides. The process of applying is fairly simple, for it can be done in much the same manner as acquiring a driver's license. After establishing a positive proof of identification, the applicant signs a layout card which has the non-driver's date of birth and address typed on it. The card is placed in a camera especially designed to take a picture of both the card and the applicant simultaneously.

According to E. B. Hodges, director of the driver's licensing division of the Dept. of Transportation, the cards are available to all non-drivers, including the elderly, the handicapped or anyone else not possessing a valid driver's license, for use as identification. The fee for the laminated personal identification card is $2.00.

Disabled Workers Should Apply Promptly

Working people who face a long-term severe disability should apply promptly for social security benefits to avoid loss of payments they may be entitled to according to social security officials here.

Social security pays monthly benefits to eligible workers and their families if the worker is severely disabled and cannot work for a year or more. Payment begins with the sixth full month of disability.

"Back payments can only be made for up to 12 months," a spokesman said.

"So disabled workers shouldn't delay their applications, even if they're not sure they'll qualify for payments. About one of every 12 workers getting social security disability payments misses out on some payments because he applied too late."

Disabled workers who haven't applied for benefits should call any social security office as soon as possible, according to the spokesman. "Or, they can ask a friend or relative to make the call," he said. Social security disability benefits are paid to over 2 million disabled workers and over 1 1/2 million dependents. The average payment is $208 a month. Disabled people who have been entitled to social security disability benefits for 24 consecutive months or more also are eligible for Medicare health insurance.

The Social Security Administration is an agency of the U. S. Department of Health, Education, and Welfare.

Make sure your employer correctly records your name and social security number.

questions and answers

Q. I plan to visit my sister in Mexico and will probably stay with her for 3 or 4 months. How will this affect my monthly supplemental security income payments?

A. Under the law, you're not eligible for a supplemental security income payment for any full month you're outside the United States. If you stay outside the U.S. for 30 or more consecutive days, your payments cannot be started again until you return to the U.S. and remain for 30 or more consecutive days. Before you leave, you should notify social security that you're going to Mexico. Include the date you plan to leave the U.S. and the date you plan to return.

Q. My great-aunt is 72, and her monthly income she has is a small social security check. Would she be eligible for monthly supplemental security income payments?

A. The supplemental security income program makes monthly payments to people with little or no income and limited resources, who are 65 or over or blind and disabled to your great-aunt may be eligible. She can see a formulator about applying for supplemental security income by calling or writing any social security office.

Gilbert Adams, an organizing member of the chapter who died January 8, 1974. The book was accepted by Librarian, Mrs. Davis.

A program on "Native Indian Artifacts" was given by Mrs. Elwood Everole. She listed types of early people living in the state-mound dwellers, cave dwellers, cliff dwellers, etc. and later the Northern and Southern tribes who hunted in the territory.

She discussed the origin of the earliest peoples as probably being Asiatic and also discussed reasons for believing that some of the early peoples were Caucasian. She displayed an interesting collection of Indian Artifacts - arrow heads, axes, scrapers, a hoe, pestles for grinding grain, bone flaking tools, a bone needle and others and told of finding them in Rockcastle Co. One of the most interesting instruments was a small rounded doughnut shaped stone with a diagonal center hole which was a spindle whirl.

Following the program awards were placed on three Rockcastle Co. High School students. The Award for Excellence in American History was presented by Mrs. Joe Henderson to Nora Winstead. Mrs. Eversole presented the Good Citizenship Award for a Senior Boy to Roger Reynolds. Mrs. Young presented the Good Citizen Award for a senior girl to Gowan Harris.

Other guests of the Chapter were the mothers and grand-mothers of the award winners and Mrs. Hugh Ramey and Mrs. Yelam Bullock of Crab Orchard and Miss Nell Nicoley of Springfield, Ohio. Miss Nicoley had recently donated a splendid collection of genealogical books and film to the Rockcastle Library.

RECORD AMOUNT PAID OUT IN SOCIAL SECURITY

A record $886,165,000 was paid out in social security cash benefits to residents of Kentucky in calendar year 1974, according to LaJuan Horn, social security branch manager.

Legislation enacted in December 1973 provided for an 11 percent increase in monthly benefits, effective June 1974, with 7 percent of this amount payable for March 1974 through May 1974.

Benefits also will increase automatically in future years and the first possible automatic increase in benefits would be effective for June 1975.

Of the social security benefits paid to beneficiaries in Kentucky during 1974, $399,704,000 went to retired workers and their dependents and $234,622,000 to the survivors of workers who have died.

Another $141,829,000 was paid to severely disabled workers and their dependents.

Nationally, social security cash benefit payments in 1974 totaled $58.5 billion. This was about $7.1 billion higher than in the previous year.

At the end of December 1974, about 31 million men, women, and children were receiving monthly social security benefits. The number of persons on the benefit rolls increased by over a million during the course of the year, LaJuan Horn said.

Retired workers and their dependents account for about sixty-three percent of all those receiving payments monthly.

The survivors of workers who have died, including children and their widowed mothers, aged or disabled widows and widowers, and aged dependent parents, make up close to one-quarter of all those receiving social security payments.

Another twenty percent are disabled workers and their dependents.

Social security is not only a program for the elderly, LaJuan Horn said. Almost 24 percent of all beneficiaries are under age 60, and 15 percent are under age 22.

A POSITIVE FOOD POLICY

For 1975 food grain and feed grain farmers are responding beautifully to the need for increasing production. Their response comes in answer to a call from the marketplace, rather than from government.

Winter wheat acreage is up 6 percent over the very scarce in 1974. Preliminary indications are that feed grain production in 1975 will also be up.

The signals sent back to farmers in the form of 44 wheat, $3 corn, and $6 soybeans are persuasive. They are stronger signals than any government bureaucrats can produce. They are signals that a farmer can decipher with a dull lead pencil. Farmers respond to this type.

A recent study showed that some of our best farmers get acreage yields that are 50 percent or more higher than the national average.

It is the responsibility of the Dept. of Agriculture and farmers to see that American agriculture will continue to make production gains. This is a responsibility that extends well beyond the farm and beyond farm people.

We must work to see that 215 million Americans are well fed at reasonable prices. We must make sure that we have food to assist in feeding literally hundreds of millions of people around the world - both cash customers and the needy.

We must continue American farm exports as the number one source of foreign exchange.

All these things add up to one positive food policy - a food policy in the interest of a better and better fed America, a policy in the interest of a prosperous agriculture and rural America.

Our is a food policy consistent with the humanitarian instincts of Americans. It is a food policy that minimizes costs to the taxpayer. It is a food policy consistent with the precepts of incentive and freedom for individuals. It is a policy based on the wise and efficient utilization for the marvelous agricultural resources the Lord placed in America, to the end that all the peoples of the world can live better.

It is indeed the most positive and forward looking food policy this country has had in decades. It is the food policy of the future. It is a policy of plenty.

Rockets Lose To Monticello And Lincoln

Monticello took the measure of the Rockcastle Rockets last Friday night and Tuesday night, the Lincoln County Patriots may have thought they were going to have an "easy" win but the ROCKETS fought back, taking them into overtime only to lose 71 to 66.

Last Friday night, the Rockets led through the entire first half with a five-point margin at the end of the first quarter. However, in the second quarter, Monticello closed the gap and the Rockets were out in front only by two at the end 35 to 33.

have position for the rebound while a couple of Trojan players watch the action.

In the third quarter, Monticello took the lead and there they stayed despite several valiant attempts by the Rockets to stage a rally. However, Monticello pulled away in the fourth quarter to win 68 to 60.

High scorer for the night was Garlan VanHook with 14 points, followed closely by John Clontz with 13, Dale Whitaker with 12, Dwight Griffin got 11 and Eddie Hammonds, 10.

Tuesday night, the gymnasium at Memorial was packed with Rocket and Lincoln County fans for the first meeting between these two schools.

The Patriots took an early 6 to 0 lead and things looked bad for the Rockets until Dwight Griffin began to open up things with some deadly outside shooting. The Rockets tenacious defense caused several turnovers by the Patriots and after trailing the entire first half, the Rockets found themselves in a see-saw battle with the Patriots.

The Rockets were down by three points when, with 26 seconds to go in the game, Eddie Hammonds grabbed a Rocket rebound and muscle in two points and was fouled in the process. Following a time out, Hammond put the free throw through to tie the game up. However, it was not over as far as the Patriots were concerned since they had 26 seconds in which to get the ball down the floor for the game-winning basket. They moved the ball around to eat up time and with four seconds showing, tried to throw the ball to their big man under the basket. However, it was a high throw and the ball went out of bounds to the Rockets.

With four seconds on the clock, the Rockets made three long passes and had the ball to a Rockets player under the basket who missed the layup attempt and most of the Rocket fans thought he was fouled but there was no whistle by the referee and the game was into overtime.

A couple of turnovers at a crucial time by the Rockets and a full-court press which enabled the Patriots to get a man wide open under the basket for two easy layups made the difference here and Lincoln County came out ahead 71 to 66.

Dwight Griffin, hitting the basket from outside with deadly accuracy, and playing probably his best offensive game of the season, had a total of 18 points. Vanhook got 21, Whitaker 11, Clontz 10 and Hammonds 6.

This Friday night, the ROCKETS travel to Middleboro for what should be a good game and next Tuesday night, travel to Richmond Model.

RIDDLE: First of this name in Rockcastle County shows up on the census report for 1820, in the person of James Riddle. An Aquila Riddle shows up in the 1830 census, with two sons, James and William. In the 1840 report, John, Sr., John, Jr., Barnett and Robert Riddle were listed as heads of families. James and I have been unable to connect them with a branch of the Riddle family descended from Harrison Riddle, concerning whom we have considerable information, indicating that he died during the Gold E. in 1851.

Harrison was married to Elizabeth Thompson, daughter of James and Beulah Thompson. Their son, John, Riddle, born in 1830, married Esther Susan Price in 1869. She was a daughter of William Price and his wife, the former Jane Vanhook. William Price was a son of James Price and Susan Gastineau. Her father was Job Gastineau, Jr., born in Virginia, in 1744, and died in Palasko County, Kentucky, 1870. His father, Job, Sr., was born in France, 1782. He died in Pulaski County in 1856. His wife, Elizabeth Mercer, was born in Virginia in 1767 and died in 1805 on the pioneer trek from Abingdon, Virginia to Kentucky. In the same year her son, Job, Jr., was married in Abingdon to Sarah Ann Hays, daughter of James Hays and Elizabeth Leman Hays.

The Jane Van Hook who was the mother of Esther Susan Price, was the daughter of Benjamin J. Vanhook and Susan Higgins Van Hook. Jane was a granddaughter of Samuel Van Hook, who was living at Rudders Station when it was taken by the British and Indians, in 1780. He was the son of the first Nancy fort, famous for the Indians who were turned out. He and his wife and their one-year-old son were divided when the Indians took them captive. His wife and son went with one tribe and he with another. Being unable to keep up with her captors, his wife was tomahawked and he fled on the way to the Indian encampment in Ohio. The son, however, was spared and he and Samuel were released in accordance with the terms of a later treaty with their captors. They came back to Harrison County and at some later date Samuel moved to Rockcastle County. He is buried in a small family graveyard on Brindle Ridge. I have not yet had an opportunity to visit his grave but art told by Shirley Riddle, a descendant, that it is marked by a rough fieldstone marker, on which the name is yet legible.

Going back to a part of the root stock of the Riddle family we find that the children of Benjamin Van Hook and wife, Susan, were as follows: Ellen, Ellen, Sam, Bob, James, Susan, William and Elizabeth Children of Job Gastineau, Sr. and his wife, the former Elizabeth Mercer, were: Job, Jr., who married Sarah Ann Hays; Charles, who married Anna Douglas; Elizabeth, who married John Douglas; William, who married Elizabeth; James, who married Job, Jr., married Sarah Ann Hays and they had the following children: Sarah, 1816, married Mattilda Godby; Isaac, 1811, married Polly Todd; George, 1813, married Frances; James, 1815, married Nancy; Marion, 1816, married Leah Lee; James, 1817, married Susanne McBee Barron; Christley, 1818 married Elizabeth Todd; Mary Ann, 1823, married William Dutton; Rachael, 1821, married William Newman. Children of James and Susie Gastineau Price were William, James, Alfred and Martha. William and Jane Van Hook Price were parents of George, Robert, Esther, Susan, Nancy and Sally.

This is by no means a complete history of the Riddles in Rockcastle County. We would like to have more information, especially from branches of the Rev. James Riddle and Barnett Allen Riddle connection. We would also like to carry the source of the family back of Harrison Riddle, who died in 1851.

BURDETTE: Entries on Rockcastle County tax lists 1812-1825 show a John Burdett as owning a farm of 220 acres on Skaggs Creek. Spencer Burdett is shown on the same lists 1825-1846. Both were sons of Frederick Burdett, born in Centre, Virginia, in 1743, who died in Garrard County, Kentucky, in 1808. He was married in Virginia, in 1770, to Mary Smith, a daughter of Revolutionary soldier Joseph Smith. Mary Smith was born 1743 and died sometime after 1793. Army records show Frederick Burdett as having furnished beef and brandy to the commissary of the Revolutionary forces during the war. By 1787 he and his family had moved from Fauquier County, Virginia, to Lincoln County, Kentucky.

Children of Frederick and Mary Smith Burdett are listed below, with date of birth and the person to whom they were married. Anne, 1788, married Joseph Crockett; Judith, 1780, married John Kemper; Joshua, 1762, married Gracie Floyd; Frederick, Jr., 1766, married Susan Sewell; Joseph Smith, 1764, married Wilhelmina Smith; Hannah, 1770, married George Mayfield; Katy, 1772, married David Floy; Spencer, 1773, married Jimima Holtzclaw; William, 1773, married Mary Shirley; Lucy, 1775, married a Creech; Enoch, 1777, married Peggy Thompson; and Polly, 1780, never married.

Either Spencer did not come to Kentucky with his father's family or else he went back to Fauquier County, Virginia, to marry Jimima Holtzclaw in 1800. She was a daughter of Benjamin Hartzell, also a pioneer, who came to Kentucky in 1780. Spencer and Jimima moved to Kentucky about 1804 with her parents, who also settled in Lincoln County. The Burdetts lived for awhile in Garrard County on Gilbert's Creek, then in 1828 moved to Rockcastle, settling on Reno's Creek. He died here in 1846; she in 1846. They had seven children: Nancy, 1801, married Anderson; William, 1806, married Elizabeth Coleman. Their six children were John, Melissa, Coleman, Anderson, Nannie and Allen; Thompson, 1809, married Martha Cook. They had one child, William Davis Burdette; Morgan, 1812, married Jane Cook, daughter of Lotfus and Sallie Cook. Lotfus Cook was an officer in the War of 1812 and is buried in the Renfro Valley Cemetery. Morgan Burdette left Rockcastle in 1865 to become one of the early trustees of Berea College. Anderson Burdette, son of William Russell, lived at Renfro Valley. He was a farmer and educator, having taught in Rockcastle County Schools between twenty and thirty years. His brother, Coleman, owned a large farm in the Green Hill section of the county. Another brother, known to be William Peaslee, who married in 1878, Samuel Burdette, a prominent lawyer at Mt. Vernon, was elected county attorney for Rockcastle County.

CHESTNUT: John Chestnut enlisted in the Army from Augusta County, Virginia in 1777 and his father, William Chestnut, is on record as owning four hundred acres of land in Augusta County in 1782. John married Patsie Gunton and they moved to Tennessee in 1790. Before they made this move, their son William had come to Kentucky with relatives and had married Sallie Graham in Nelson County, Kentucky. His brothers, John, Jr., Jacob and Abraham Chestnut, were married in Virginia, about 1798. John, Jr., and Jacob joined William in Washington County, Kentucky, which had originally been a part of Nelson County. They lived there until 1804, when they became interested in a 2500 acre body of land, in what is now Laurel County, Kentucky. Hereafter show that John, Sr., John, Jr., Abraham and Jacob Chestnut, with the heirs of William Chestnut, bought almost the entire tract in 1804. Soon afterward, Jacob moved to Rockcastle County, settling on Roundstone Creek, where he is listed as head of a family in the 1810 census. In 1811, with his six oldest mother and brothers John and Benjamin, Jacob moved to Lawrence County, Indiana with his families.

Abraham, son of Jacob Chestnut, however, stayed in Rockcastle County, having married Charlotte Spangler's Hall, daughter of pioneer William Peaslee's Hatt. They raised a family of seven, including three ministers. Rev. James Monroe, Rev. Benjamin and Rev. Abraham. Their children were William Peaslee, who married Amestiza Jones; Lucy, who married Jonathan Newcomer; Bonell, who accidentally shot himself when 19; and Mary Ann, who married Captain R. L. Myers.

The Chestnut name was further increased in Rockcastle County by William Peaslee Chestnut and his wife, the former Amestiza Jones. Their children were: Charlotte, 1838, who married James F. Butler; Cynthia, 1840; Lucy J., 1849, who married J. C. Carter; Samuel, 1845, who married Celia B. Wilson; Mary Ann, 1847, who married Dr. James H. West; William Jarrist, 1850, married George Howard; Richard, 1853; James F., 1858; Helen, 1859; Abraham, 1864. William Peaslee Chestnut, following the death of his first wife, married Judith Adams McCall, widow of William Burke (Buck) McCall.

The descendants of the Rockcastle branch of the Chestnut family have been substantial citizens. Best remembered, perhaps, have been the three brothers previously mentioned, who were ordained ministers, and Dr. Lee Chestnut, for many years an outstanding physician of Mt. Vernon, Kentucky. In neighboring Laurel County a more numerous branch of the family has gained prominence in the social and political affairs of their community.

FOOD CLIPS...

What are orange juice crystals? They're made by dehydrating concentrated orange juice and they contain about 97 percent natural citrus solids - and no sugar. Remember, after water, and possibly fat, protein is the most plentiful substance in the body.

Remember, after water, and possibly fat, protein is the most plentiful substance in the body. Fats are plentiful - in butter, margarine, shortening, salad oils, cream, most cheeses, mayonnaise, salad dressing, nuts and bacon.

Did you know that even meat can be up to 80% water? Soup is also a water source for the body, as are many fruits and vegetables.

Calcium is required for blood to clot and for the heart to function normally. It's found in milk, dark green leafy vegetables, salmon, and even sardines.

For a mid-morning snack ... try fruit. Why not cook rice in rapidly boiling water? If you use rapid boiling water the rice grains may break and the high temperatures could cause the rice to boil over.

Unwettered puffed corn, puffed wheat, or bite-size shredded wheat, corn or rice may be used as croutons. If you'd like to have soft rice (for rice rings, patties, and croquettes) just increase the amount of water you use and boil gently ... about 25 minutes if using one cup of rice and two cups to two and one-fourth cups water.

Do you know your peanuts? There are three common varieties - Virginia, which is long and slender; the Runner, small and stubby; and the Spanish peanut, round. And they're all high in protein. What are so-called "green" noodles? Considered an Italian specialty, green noodles contain spinach.

When using frozen corn on the cob, it should be partially thawed before cooking, so that the cob will be heated through by the time the corn is cooked. Holding corn after thawing or cooking causes soginess. Roasted frozen corn on the cob? It's easy. Just partially thaw the ears first - then brush with melted butter or margarine - salt and roast at 400 degrees F (hot oven) about 20 minutes.

Cornmeal and hominy grits now on the market are usually enriched with thiamin, niacin, riboflavin, and iron. Calcium and vitamin D also may be added to these cereals. Cornmeal is ground corn - while cornmeal and grits are traditional in the South; yellow cornmeal and grits are more likely to be found in the North. (These are differences in flavor as well as color in these products.)

What is "Banbury"? It's a soft, rich cheese, cylindrical in shape and about an inch thick. Having trouble with your first Medicare claim? Call your social security office for help.
