Kenneth York, District Conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service, reports that a tile machine will begin working in Rockcastle County during the month of April.

Any farmer who has some wet bottomland that he wishes to drain should contact Mr. York at the Soil Conservation Service Office (Phone 256-2541) as soon as possible. If the farmer will agree to install tile according to Soil Conservation Service specifications, the Soil Conservation Service will do the needed engineering work, to layout and design the tile system free of charge. The tile machine contractor will be Jack Price from Casey County. The price per foot for the complete tile job (cut the ditch, lay the tile and backfill the trench) will be approximately 47 cents per foot for 4-inch plastic tile. There will be an additional charge for $20 for the 12 foot metal outlet pipe and a slight additional charge for T-joints and couplings. All tile installation work is guaranteed. If a tile system fails to work due to faulty installation, the tile will be reinstalled at no cost to the farmer. If you have some wetland and wish to install tile drainage, contact Kenneth York at the Soil Conservation Service office or phone 256-2541.

LIVINGSTON WOMAN "OUT-FOXES" UNWEL COB INTRUDER

Last Saturday afternoon Mrs. Delmer New of Livingston was preparing to feed her livestock when she heard a terrible commotion coming from the vicinity of her chicken house. When she investigated, she got a glimpse of what she thought was one of "those pesky dogs" attempting to make a meal out of one of her prize hens. Now, she was determined that this culprit was not going to get a free meal in her hen house, so, in a sudden burst of anger she proceeded to grab the beast by the neck and choke it until her hands cramped and she was sure it would steal no more.

Mr. New came out to see what the fuss was all about and was amazed to find that his wife had successfully wrestled and "out-foxed" a two and one-half year old gray fox which had been terrorizing her chickens for some time.

They later took the dead animal to Frankfort where it was determined the fox was free of rabies.

Citizens Meet With School Board; Request Action Concerning Teacher

A group of from 30 to 40 parents and interested citizens met with the Rockcastle County Board of Education Monday night at their regular meeting, to discuss with the Board what if any, action was going to be taken concerning a teacher at Mt. Vernon Elementary School who allegedly paddled an 11-year-old child to the extent of leaving bruises.

The child's mother, Mrs. Henry Stewart, passed around photographs to the group which had been taken of the child's hip and which showed the bruise. Mrs. Stewart said the paddling took place on March 20th of this school year in a special Math class. The child was also reportedly paddled a second time, by the teacher, in the office of the school's principal Bud Parkinson.

During the discussion, several of the parents reported previous incidents of punishment, which, according to them, amounted to extreme humiliation for the pupils.

Parrett also said that he did not feel the Board should question the teacher in their investigation unless the teacher had the benefit of legal counsel.

The Board finally decided to conduct their own investigation into the charges and to meet again Monday night, April 21st when, in executive session, they will decide whether or not to file charges to have the teacher dismissed.

Bid Accepted
In other business, the Board accepted the only bid offered for the construction of a storage building at the Vocational School. The bid was submitted by Ruse Lawrence and Wendell Lawrence of Brodhead for $7,750. Mr. Parsons told the Board that the architect's estimate on the job had been $6,000 to $7,000 and that $1,500 had been approved by the State Vocational Department which will bear 80% of the cost of the project. The other 20% will be paid by the local board.

No Calamity Days
Superintendent Parsons read to the Board an excerpt from the last regular meeting of the State Department of Education which disallows any calamity days for school districts unless they teach over the 175 days minimum. Mr. Parsons said that, since Rockcastle County did not have but the 175 teaching days scheduled no calamity days would be allowed by the state. Barring any more lost days, school in Rockcastle County will now be out June 5th.

A Thanks To The Lions
During the meeting, the Board and Supt. Parsons also voted to express their appreciation to the three Lions Clubs in the County, in the form of a letter, for their efforts in raising $3,000 toward the lighting of the high school football field.

Mrs. Carter Employed
Mrs. Martha Carter was employed as manager of the lunchroom at Mt. Vernon Elementary School filling a position created by the resignation of Mrs. Marie Price.

Seats for the Football Field
Supt. Parsons showed the Board the Architect's drawings for the seating for the new football field. Mrs. Parsons said that eventually there would be 9 rows of concrete seats, built on the incline above the field. There is no cost estimate on the project as at yet it is hoped that at least the middle section of the stands can be built this summer providing seating for 500 persons. The seating can be extended either way at a later date as funds become available. The Board unanimously approved the plans.

Facilities Survey
Supt. Parsons presented to the Board a revised Facilities Survey for the Rockcastle County School System. In the revised survey, drawn up by Mrs. Parsons and recommended by him to the Board, the middle school recommended in the state survey would instead continue to be incorporated in each of the grand schools in the county (for the present) and instead of doing away with Livingston Elementary School at a later date, as recommended by the state's survey, the school there would be renovated and additional playground area and parking space provided by the acquisition of adjacent property.

The first priority called for in Capital Outlay Expenditures in the revised facilities survey drawn up by Mrs. Parsons calls for the construction of a new wing or pod at the Mt. Vernon Elementary School which would house the primary students and provide for a new cafeteria and kitchen. The new wing would be constructed in such a manner that it could be added on to in the future when financially possible to complete a total new

In other action, the Court raised the health tax from 2.3¢

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY'S FIRST TRAFFIC FATALITY

ROCKCASTLE COUNTY'S FIRST TRAFFIC FATALITY of the year was recorded last Friday afternoon when Bernice Richters of Manchester was killed in a one-car accident on 17th Street four miles south of Mt. Vernon. According to State Police reports, Ms. Richters was a passenger in a car driven by Richard Wiley of Chastant, Ohio. Wiley apparently lost control of his car when he attempted to pass another vehicle and left the road striking an embankment and overturning. Ms. Richters was pronounced dead on arrival at the Rockcastle County Hospital. Wiley was charged with Reckless Homicide by Trooper Jim Silvers who investigated the accident.

per $100 assessment to 4.0¢ beginning with the 1975-76 budget.

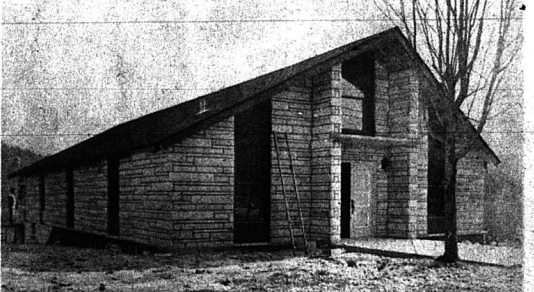

Magistrate Chester Whitaker made a report to the Court concerning his contact with Clyde Payne about the possible purchase or lease of a land-filling site. Mr. Whitaker said that Mr. Payne agreed to rent the county land for this purpose for $200 per month with a five-year contract. But, Mr. Payne stipulated that if he had to cover garbage dumped there, a new agreement would have to be worked out.

Rennie Caudill, Area FHA Administrator, is shown presenting Roy G. Brown with letters of payment authorization for a loan in the amount of $653,000 and Grant in the amount of $350,000 to construct water lines in Rockcastle and Lincoln counties. The Water District hopes to have easements signed and all preliminary work done ready to advertise for contract by May 15, 1975. Others in the picture, making up the board of the Western Rockcastle Water Association, Inc., are, counter-clockwise around the table: Money E. Cummins, Charles D. Burton, Tommy H. Mink and Henry Brown, Mr. Caudill, Mr. Brown, Brad Reynolds, Floyd Gabbard, Jerry Cox and Estil Craig. Mr. Brown said that anyone wanting to sign easement can contact any of the above-named directors. Also, on April 7th, the Western Rockcastle Water Association adopted the following policy: "Refunds to meter purchasers will be deferred until project construction is done to the possibility that lines will be extended as far as available money permits."

Is the long ballot this year for statewide offices a sign of renewed faith in the political system?
In the aftermath of Watergate and the resignation of a President, are people taking more of an interest in politics?
Jay Hart thinks not.

any renewed faith in the political system.
"People look around to see what they can do to pick up some extra money," Hart notes.
If Hart is right, then Kentucky's economy is in a poor state, indeed.

sign of the economy than of look Jay Hart, working as a consultant for the state, two days and nights to come up with a format that would accommodate the list. His problems are not limited to the statewide candidates.

The sample he drew was for Boyd County, where in Ashland more than 30 people are seeking election as mayor or city commissioner.

In another area of Eastern Kentucky, he has to deal with a raft of local office seekers along with the added task of filing 11 names under the heading of state representative.

The way he managed the sheet was to set up three Democratic columns and two for the GOP. The names are stacked as much as four deep in those columns in some cases. There are 11 running for lieutenant governor and as many as half a dozen Democratic contenders for other statewide offices.

Not surprisingly, the long lists of candidates come on the Democratic side of the ballot. With a two to one margin in registration, the Republican list is rarely too crowded.

In fact, state GOP executive director Larry VanHoose was on the telephone well into the last hours for filing developing a slate to run against the packed Democratic field.

In all but the top two offices, only a lone Republican filed and for legislative seats that had Republican filers, it was rare to have more than one on the GOP side except in the handful of solid Republican districts.

The size of the field for the Democratic nomination for lieutenant governor is likely to make that race even more interesting.

With so many in the race, if the gap between Thelma Sorvall and her well-known secretary of state, and some of the other strong candidates gets any smaller, even a few thousand votes shifted from those front-runners could make a crucial difference.

Except by the rest of the candidates, Mrs. Sorvall is still generally considered to be ahead of the pack, but there are signs of turmoil in the next few spots.

Winchester businessman Edward Johnson has made some good strides. Some observers are putting him in second position, just ahead of State Sen. Bill Sullivan.

A powerful and expensive campaign by Pike County Judge Wayne Rutherford should be heightening his formerly low name recognition.

At the top of the field, however, General Ed Hancock still stands out as the best dark horse bet in the field.

Money is expensive

for you. For us.

Expanding our facilities to meet the electrical needs of 300,000 customers costs money. $7 million last year. $92 million this year. And we expect to invest more than $550 million by 1979. More than $370 million of this must be borrowed, despite spiraling interest rates... up from about 4 1/2% in 1965 to above 9% today. Our annual outlay for interest in 1968 was $2 1/2 million. Today it's $14 1/2 million. That's an important part of our—and your—cost of electricity.

A saving of only 1% in the interest rate on $370 million can save over $3 1/2 million a year. About the only way a utility company can hold down its interest cost is by maintaining the best possible credit rating. This requires fair and equitable electric rate increases today to preserve a sound, stable company able to hold down tomorrow's price of electricity. Our biggest continuing job is to hold down all costs without sacrificing either the environment or the reliability of your service.

Electricity... use it wisely.

Corn Yields Not Hurt When Nitrogen Applied as side-dressing

Farmers who cannot obtain enough nitrogen for their 1975 corn crop before planting time may be able to make up the shortage by side-dressing later on.

The most efficient use of nitrogen was made when it is side-dressed. Corn plants use very little nitrogen during the first 30 days after planting.

Side-dressing is subject to leaching during those first 30 days. Late corn nitrogen can be side-dressed and still produce high yields.

Red Clover (alone or with grass). The best hay crops are made at bud and early bloom clover stage.

Heavy Grass (with little or no legumes). Cut when in boot to early bloom. Annual Lespedeza (Kobe or Korvan). Cut at early bloom 1/10 to 1/3.

(witted) should be stored at 50-65 percent.

First Year Alfalfa and Alfalfa-Grass. Late summer seedings made in 1974 should be cut no more than three times this year.

Old Stands of Alfalfa and Alfalfa-Grass. You may take the first cut at early bud stage.

HOMELINE

By: Cheryl Witt County Extension Agent For Home Economics

Will more nitrogen fertilizer be available after the big spring planting rush? We can only speculate about this.

Even if you plan to apply most of the nitrogen for your corn as side-dressing, 20-30 pounds of nitrogen per acre in the starter fertilizer at planting time if it is available.

SMITHS-Although General-William Smith was one of the most important citizens in the newly-forged county of Rockcastle, it is now locally known concerning him. He was born in Virginia in 1776, but the date of his coming here is not on record. His grandson Col. James Maret, says that Smith built his big log house here in Mt. Vernon and lived in it until his death in 1849. He gives the date of the erection of the house as 1795 at which time Smith would have been only 20 years old, a little young for pioneering on his own and building such a large house before he was even married. His future wife, Ann Fish, would have been only 11 years old when the house was built. Although it was not known for a young man of 20 to shoulder all responsibilities of a home and family at such an early age, it is not probable that he married his wife when she was only 11.

But, regardless of who built the old house, General Smith and his wife occupied it until his death and they raised their family there. They were George W., who went to Columbus, Texas became a lawyer and was a member of the Superior Court, under Confederate occupancy. He died of yellow fever in 1873. At time of death, he owned 20,000 acres of land, 10,000 head of cattle and property in several Texas cities. Alfred, who became a major in the Rockcastle County and was a man of affairs; James, concerning whom little is now known; Pendleton, the youngest son, who is buried beside his parents in Mt. Vernon; Eliza, who married George S. Maret and became the mother of James Maret, frequently referred to in these pages and Glatha, who married Mitchell Maret, brother of George.

General and Mrs. Ann Fish Smith and 5 sons and 3 daughters. They were: George W., who went to Columbus, Texas became a lawyer and was a member of the Superior Court, under Confederate occupancy. He died of yellow fever in 1873. At time of death, he owned 20,000 acres of land, 10,000 head of cattle and property in several Texas cities. Alfred, who became a major in the Rockcastle County and was a man of affairs; James, concerning whom little is now known; Pendleton, the youngest son, who is buried beside his parents in Mt. Vernon; Eliza, who married George S. Maret and became the mother of James Maret, frequently referred to in these pages and Glatha, who married Mitchell Maret, brother of George.

In the War of 1812, General Smith was a Captain in command of the Kentucky Battalion of Mounted Volunteers, made up of Rockcastle troops, the first to leave the county for the field of action. He was later advanced to General in the Kentucky Militia. The Fish Brothers, Thomas and William, served under his command - William being later advanced to Colonel. He was married to their sister, Ann Fish, daughter of Thomas Fish, Sr., and his wife, the former Winford Birney.

After the death of General Smith, Calloway Mullins purchased from his heirs a large tract of land from one of his original grants. Calloway and wife sold 700 acres to the L&N Railroad Company as right-of-way when they were building their line through here. This tract later came into my possession and I have the original survey, going back to the first deed made for it. General Smith was, at one time, about the biggest land owner in Rockcastle County and his son, Eliza Smith, also owned many acres, in different locations.

PENNINGTON-Abel Pennington, Sr. was born in Virginia at a date now unknown. He came to Kentucky as a young man, settling in Perry County and later removing to Jackson County where he spent the remainder of his life as a farmer. A son, Levi Pennington, married a Miss Rachel Combs, in Perry County and was a farmer in Jackson County up until he enlisted in the Union Army in the beginning of the War Between the States, in which he lost his life in an engagement near Vicksburg, Mississippi, in 1863.

Preston Pennington, a son of Levi and Rachel Combs Pennington, married Susan Ball, of Clay County and their children were: Monroe, who married Martha Porter of Clay County, under whose urging he graduated from medical school and became a highly successful practicing physician for many years, most of which he spent in Mt. Vernon; Rachael, who married Henry Shepard, a substantial farmer of Laurel County; John D., who lived out his life as a successful farmer in Jackson County; A. Lincoln, who spent many years in the service of the L&N Railroad; James F., who also became a physician and was a member of the Medical Corps of the United States Army during World War One. After spending several years as a company physician in various coal camps, he too came to Mt. Vernon and established a successful practice here until his retirement.

Abel Pennington, Jr., came to Mt. Vernon from Louisville in 1891, having been attracted here by a newspaper advertisement of a farm offered for sale and which he purchased at first sight. This acreage included what is now a large part of the most desirable business and residential section of the town of Mt. Vernon. He and his wife, Angeline, were the parents of 11 children as follows: Jeff, Samuel, George, Archie, Alex, Tabitha, Surrilla, Emma, Bettie, Flora and Florence. Tabitha married Ned Parrot, who became one of Mt. Vernon's most successful contractors and a daughter, Mrs.

Emma Drith, at the age of 97 is one of the county's oldest and best-bred ex-schoolteachers. Another daughter, Mrs. Surlida Brown, who died recently at a very advanced age, was a member of the Mt. Vernon Baptist Church for almost 80 years.

Members of the Pennington family have been substantial and progressive citizens of Mt. Vernon and Rockcastle County and have left their mark on the communities in which they lived. Dr. Monroe Pennington who was, during his lifetime, always the forefront of any worthy cause, deserves and will receive further notice in this work.

The glaring mistake in last week's article relative to the Singleton family was entirely mine and not chargeable in any way to the printers. After correcting the Philip Singleton family chart, I forgot to remove the first account from my copy before turning it in to the typesetter who, by the way, has always done a most excellent job on straightening out some of the poorly typed copy I too often turn in. Instead of always copying it like I write it, she often copies it like I should have written it.

What's Happening At Mt. Vernon Elementary School

Where There is Love

Where there is love, the heart is light
Where there is love the day is bright,
Where there is a song
To help when things are going wrong,
Where there is love, there is a smile
To make all things seem more worthwhile.

Where there is love there's
A tranquil place where turmoil
Love changes darkness into light
And makes the heart take wingless flight.

Oh, best are they who walk in love
They also walk with God above
And, when man walks with God again
There shall be Peace on Earth for Men.

News From The Classroom

Mrs. Roberts' Fifth Grade-We have been learning to write poetry. The class enjoyed writing about nature and to some degree insulting their friends.

There were 31 tired sets of fingers after two days of taking achievement tests.

Our room met in Mrs. Skidmore's and Mrs. Napier's rooms for a spelling bee. We were proud to be winners with 6 people left up.

Congratulations to Dyche Mullins upon the arrival of a baby sister, Callie Ellen.

We are striving to win the attendance average for the semester in order to get a party.

fall. This week, we are studying the benefits of rainfall. Each child has drawn a picture of why he thinks rain is important. Some are humorous - "Puddles are For Splashing In," some serious - "We need rain to replenish our lakes and streams" - "Without Rain We could never have a Rainbow."
These are displayed on our bulletin board and will be changed often so that each picture may be seen.

Mrs. Napier's Fifth Grade- Mrs. Napier's Science Classes are studying plants. There are four major plant groups which are Thallophyta, Bryophyta, Pteridophyta and Spermatophyta.

They will be learning the structure and methods of reproduction. The classes also will be using the microscope for taking a closer look at the plant kingdom.

The speech contest is coming up soon and everyone is preparing a poem or speech. We are striving for the banner for highest attendance but haven't quite made it yet. Marjorie Cramer, Reporter ### for the construction of a new junior high school in the future.

The recommendation approved by the Board ends with this statement: "It is the philosophy of this board that each community large enough to support a good educational program is entitled to its community school. It is also felt that with the increased cost of operating school buses, we should re-consider the concept of community schools thus eliminating transportation costs. Citizens and parents tend to take greater interest in the program and activities of community schools. For these reasons, the Rockcastle County School Board objects to moving Livingston School eight (8) miles away as recommended by the Facilities Survey Committee. The Citizens of Livingston strongly object to the relocation of their school and desire to keep and support their community school."
