45 yards on two kick-off returns and Owens gained 15 yards on one return.
Owens punted five times for an average of 42 yards a punt.
Defensively, the Rockets were led by Boring, Welch and David Hunt, all of whom were credited with 6 tackles each. Owens, Larry Baker and Mark Holbrook, got 3 each. David Whitehead broke through for four tackles. Shaan Bullock was credit with 2 and Jerry Pensol and Hackworth 1 each.

This Friday afternoon, the Rockets take off for MMI to meet a strong team there and probably without the services of running backs Jerry Pensol and Joe Clontz. Pensol injured his knee at the Rocket-Evarts game, not while playing, and is having trouble with it. And, according to Coach Glen Polly, Joe Clontz, who originally injured his knee in the Berea game will probably be out the rest of the season after re-injuring the knee at home.

The Rockets had an exceptionally tough schedule for their first five games of the season and have been plagued by injuries to several key players since the beginning game.
The Rockets will, no doubt, fare better in their last six games is the opinion of the coach staff and fans in general.

Michael Polly, son of head coach Glen Polly, who received a broken leg in the first game of the season and was hospitalized in a Louisville hospital for several weeks, is now out of the hospital and attended the game last Friday night. He is also able to return to school.

New Program At the Nazarene Sunday School

The Nazarene Sunday School will begin a Sunday contest this Sunday which will run for six weeks.
Jack Stallworth and Betty Cameron are the Team Captains and there will be prizes and a plaque for the winner.
Reach Out and Touch is the theme of the contest - a world-wide effort of the Church of the Nazarene. We hope to reach our friends, our neighbors, the children and community. Each Sunday we will have a special theme and program. Watch this paper for the special each week.

Dr. Hazel Noble, D.C. has accepted the office of Sunday School Superintendent after working with the London Church of the Nazarene for the last eleven years. "We will be glad to see you return to reach the people of Rockcastle for the Lord. We are ready to pray and read the Bible with any who wish it," Dr. Noble said.

The first Sunday, September 28th, is KICK OFF SUNDAY. See Betty or Jack and tell them you will be there to help their side.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor
We were sadly disappointed to read in the Mt. Vernon Signal about the City Council's decision not to allow boats with gasoline engines on Lake Linville. We and our son, Luther M. Chaney, Jr., own lots (waterfront) on Lake Linville. We feel this decision is arbitrary and will decrease the value of our property and deprive us of much pleasure. Our son had planned to build his permanent home there.

We feel that boating should be allowed until such a time as the water does not test out for safe use. This plan is used on other lakes. To date, we have seen no scum on that lake. We do not wish to use a motor boat with the engine on perhaps one whole hour when we are on the lake for a week end. The rest of the time, we camp at the camping site, near the dock and visit our relatives there, go to the Renfro Valley performances and eat all our meals, except breakfast in town.

We note that fishermen use the lake in the early morning hours or late in the evening. When it is hot, the fish don't bite anyway and boaters and water skiers should be allowed on the lake during those hours when fishermen aren't out on the lake anyway. Our suggestion is that perhaps you might request water skiers and boaters with gasoline engines to be off the lake or docked by six o'clock in the evening. This would satisfy everyone who pays taxes there and pay water bills. This ruling should be fair to everyone.

However, we do feel that anytime the bacteria count shows up to a certain point (when it is hazardous to health) that all boaters, fishermen alike, should be kept off the lake until the bacteria count goes back down to a safe level.

We feel a compromise is in order.
Sincerely Yours,
Eras Lee Chaney
Luther M. Chaney, Sr.

Dear Editor,
We absolutely agree with the decision to stop swimming and gasoline engines on the lake. After all, the lake supplies the majority of the county's water. What kind of people is it that want to drink water after people swim in the water they drink? It's plain fish to have gasoline engines and people swimming in our water supply.

Mrs. Ronald Brummett

Dear Editor,
This is a letter to let the people of Mt. Vernon know what a tourist thinks of your town and its people.
Late in July, our camper truck broke down. It was about 15 to 20 miles from Mt. Vernon. Up to that time, we never knew a town like yours existed. My husband, son and I felt badly because we felt our holiday was now over. The gas station. The truck pulled our rig in and we parked behind the bank. They told us the garage was closed Sunday. The bank Monday, he said he would wait on our truck. Well, where we come from that means four days. Our spirits were low. We didn't know anything in town and really felt bad.

Sunday morning, we went to the restaurant in the hotel on Main Street for breakfast and so help me, I still don't believe everything that followed. We started talking with a lovely lady, Mrs. Jackie Cummins. She made us feel welcome than she tried to get some one to go golf with. Finally, her husband, Jess, volunteered to drive us out to your wonderful country club for the day. While we were out there, many of your young people wanted to help entertain us. Whatever we wanted, we got. Your youngsters are good with conversation, polite, friendly, warm and helpful. I'm sorry I did not get names so you could show these wonderful young people how beautiful they are. We had many people at the country club offer to drive us back to town or anywhere we wished. Other people came through the bank parking lot to ask if we needed or wanted anything. Everyone was so kind. Then, Monday morning, the garage man took a look see at our truck and again we went out to the club. What was also so nice was the Mt. Vernon Bank Manager and his employees. We were on their property but no one complained, they were all smiles and helpful. When we got back, the truck was fixed - which I might add at a price I couldn't believe because where I come from that would have been the price of parts. The job was well done and though we hated to, we had to start on our way. But I'll tell you this -

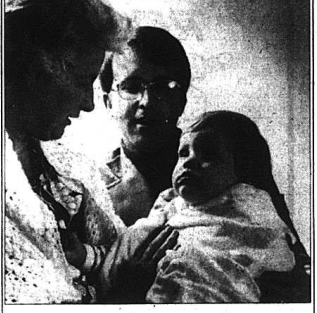

I'd sure love to live in Mt. Vernon with my family. You have a great town with a lot of beautiful people.
Everyone I know driving I-75, I tell them if they are near Mt. Vernon and have car trouble to stop there and have it taken care of. The town is the greatest - just stop and visit. They like people and they sure know how to treat folks and make them welcome.
The next time we are on I-75, we're going to make sure we stop in Mt. Vernon.
A letter similar to this was sent to your Governor telling him he should give your town a congeniality award because you folks sure deserve it.

Thanks to all of you for making us feel so good.

PSC GRANTS KU ELECTRIC RATE INCREASE

The Kentucky Public Service Commission has granted Kentucky Utilities Company an electric rate increase of $7,492,677 annually, effective September 19.

Since the commission earlier authorized an interim increase of $6.1 million, the new order grants a revenue increase of $1.4 million over rates now being charged.

The company had asked for an increase of $16.2 million or 13.6 per cent.

The commission found that KU's net income is inadequate and ordered into effect rates which were designed to bring in the additional revenue.

KU serves 294,000 customers in 78 Kentucky counties.

EMERGENCY REQUEST APPROVED FOR COUNTY

Gov. Julian Carroll has announced approval of an emergency request by Rockcastle County to expand their planned county road aid program by one additional project during this fiscal year.

According to Carroll, the newly approved project will provide for construction of a drainage structure 1.8 miles northwest of US 25 on Green Hill Road.

The project was approved because the drainage structure had deteriorated to an unsafe condition for vehicular traffic, the governor said.

State Transportation Secretary John C. Roberts said that the repairs will be accomplished using state highway personnel and equipment. The estimated cost will be $6,413.

Roberts said that funds for the project will come out of a special emergency aid fund set aside annually and administered by the Bureau of Highways.

Responses are coming in fast and furious from our questionnaire published last week concerning the City Council's action in banning gasoline motors from Lake Linnville.

We don't think it wise at this point to tell you how the response is going but will publish the total count in next week's paper.

If you haven't done so, please send in your opinion. We are reprinting the questionnaire this week so that you might have another opportunity to do so.

One thing on which we have been questioned which we

1. Lake Linnville should continue to be operated as it is presently with no restrictions as to the use of gasoline engines.

2. I support the City Council's action in banning gasoline engines from the lake.

3. A compromise should be worked out providing for all types of recreation on the lake which would insure boaters' safety and a quality water supply.

Four Men Arrested In Monday Night Break-In

Four Rockcastle men have been charged in connection with a Monday night break-in at Jerry's Tire Center in Mt. Vernon. One of the men, Floyd D. Bell was charged with burglary in the third degree and the other three men were charged with aiding and abetting another in the commission of a crime. Also charged were Glen D. Woodall, 23, of Brodhead, George Michael Lay, 23, also of Brodhead and Charles E. Pittman, 21, of Route 4, Mt. Vernon.

According to City Patrolman John Grider who made the arrest, he was patrolling Richmond Street Monday night about 11 p.m. when he noticed a van parked on the north side of Jerry's Tire Center with two men sitting in it and another man standing at the rear door of the van drinking a beer. He wrote the men a citation for drinking beer in a public place and in the process noticed that the side door to the tire center was slightly open.

Grider then called the ambulance service who relayed a message to the owner, Jerry Hamm, to come to the premises and when Mr. Hamm arrived, accompanied by John Allen, they went inside and found another man, Floyd D. Bell of Mt. Vernon.

Patrolman Grider arrested all four men who were later released from the Rockcastle County Jail on $1,000 bond each.

Rockcastle To Receive $4,110 In Coal Funds

More than a million dollars in strip-mine acreage and permit fees was recently returned to 43 coal producing counties, including Rockcastle.

Making the announcement, John S. Hoffman, secretary of the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection said the $1,191,827.50 returned this year reflects the increase in coal mining that occurred this year. The amount returned in 1974 more than doubles the $592,965 returned in 1974.

Each year, half the strip mine acreage and permit fees collected by the division of reclamation are returned to the counties where the mines are located. The other half is placed in the general fund.

Pike County received the largest check—$115,255. Menifee County's check for $162.50 was the smallest.

Following is a list of the would like to clear up is that the only reason we asked that the questionnaires be signed was to keep one person from "stuffing the ballot box" so to speak. Your name will not be published at any time.

Also, there are some interesting letters to the editor inside in a couple of places which you won't want to miss out on—some concerning the lake question and one in particular concerning a tourist's opinion of Mt. Vernon.

Please return the questionnaire to P.O. Box 185, Mt. Vernon, Ky. by 4 p.m. next Tuesday afternoon and if you are strongly interested in the question, attend the City Council meeting Monday night, October 13th at 7:30 p.m. and verbally voice your opinion there.

Sayre Spartans Clay Colson Presented With Distinguished Alumnus Award

A quick-moving Sayre Spartans team came to town last Friday night and, with some help from the rain which came down in buckets, successfully ruined the Rockets' homecoming by defeating us 20-6. Homecoming ceremonies, scheduled for half-time, were also postponed to a later date.

The Spartans were ahead 13-0 when the rains came in the second quarter and added another touchdown in the second half. The Rockets only score came on a blocked punt by Larry Welch who carried the ball near the Spartans goal line before being brought down by a combination of mud and tacklers. On the next play, sophomore Dusty Carlotis went over for the score. The Rockets try for the extra points was not good.

Offensively, the Rockets were led by Harkworth who picked up 12 yards in 6 carries; Hammons got 1 yard in 2 carries; Owens, 11 yards in 8 carries; Jerry Penol, 7 yards in 1 carry; Carlotis 4 yards in 3 carries and Shane Bullock, 4 yards in 1 carry.

Harkworth also picked up (Cont. to 12)

Clay Colson, Soil Conservationist for Rockcastle County from October, 1945 to June 30, 1972, was presented with a Distinguished Alumnus Award by the University of Kentucky, College of Agriculture, during pre-game ceremonies at the Kentucky-VPI football game September 13th.

The plaque, given to Mr. Colson, is for leadership, loyalty and service in the field of agriculture.

Mr. Colson's long career in the field of Agriculture has been long and varied. It began following his graduation from Berea College in 1937 with an A.B. Degree in Agriculture. In 1937, Mr. Colson served as assistant county agent in Berea and then went to Letcher County as County Extension Agent until September 1, 1939.

He then returned to school at the University of Kentucky and in 1941 received an M.S. degree in Agriculture. Following this, he spent two years as Associate County Agent in Jessamine County and two years in Estill County as County Agent.

In September of 1944, Mr. Colson went with the U.S.D.A. Sgl Conservation Service and was named Assistant District Conservationist for Johnson County where he served until December 31, 1944. He then came to Rockcastle County as District Conservationist, a capacity in which he served until March of 1945 when he joined the U.S. Navy Reserve and spent six months on active duty.

Mr. Colson remained in the Reserves until his retirement in June of 1969 after 23 years. He returned to Rockcastle County in October of 1945 and served here as Soil Conservationist until his retirement in June, 1972.

In addition to his work in the field of Agriculture, Mr. Colson has held memberships and served as officers of various civic organizations including the Rotary Club, Kiwanis Club, Lions Club, the Rockcastle Development Council and is past chairman of the Rockcastle County Fair Board.

Agriculture-related organizations in which Mr. Colson has officiated include president of the Rockcastle County Livestock Improvement Association and the Rockcastle County Forage Council. A director of the Kentucky Forage Council.

past director of the Rockcastle County Farm Bureau and past director of the Cumberland PCA and now a member of the advisory council.

Mr. Colson has also been a director of the Cedar Rapids Recreation Center, is an Elder at the Brodhead Christian Church and adult Sunday School School class teacher there since 1955.

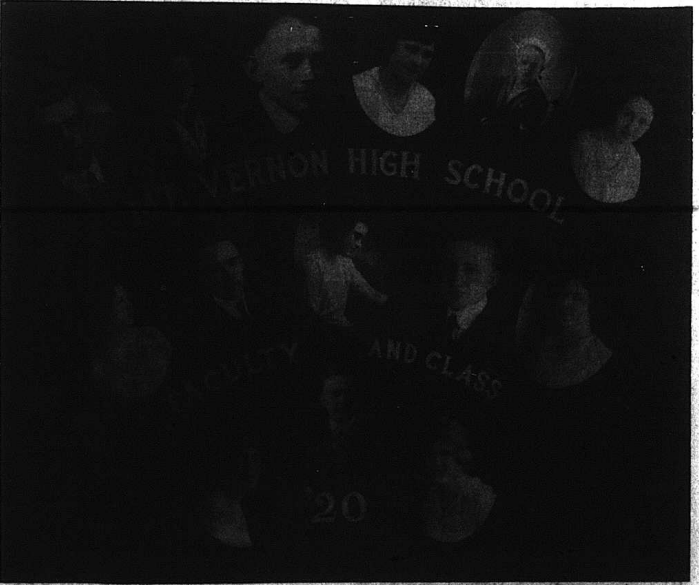

Other awards in recognition of his service include an award from the Kentucky Livestock Improvement Association in 1971 for his contribution toward livestock improvement in Kentucky and the Robert F. Spence award from the Berea Kiwanis Club as Outstanding Farmer in Rockcastle County in 1974.

Mr. Colson is married to the former Nellie Klutz and they have four sons, William Clay Colson, Capt. Robert M. Colson, Charles E. Colson and David G. Colson.

More than 23.5 million people have hospital insurance under Medicare.

FRANKFORT WATCHLINE

A recent order by Gov. Julian Carroll establishing independent offices for the Democratic and Republican leadership of the General Assembly raises some interesting questions about the use of tax money.

The offices are absolutely geared to partisan politics, but as several people associated with the decision noted, partisan politics plays a strong role in the business of the General Assembly.

If one adopts the opinion that the offices do not, by definition, constitute an abuse of tax money, there is still available for analysis a broad range of potential uses of the office on which serious questions could be raised.

According to the executive order, the offices were established because of the need of the two parties to be constantly abreast of what is happening.

But the order very specifically placed no restrictions on the office.

House Minority Leader W. Harold DeMarcus and House Majority Leader John Swinford both see their new offices as a means of assisting their respective legislators with constituent problem solving.

For example, if someone is having trouble getting a document or a check, the legislator could call his party's office and there would be someone here to quickly gain control of the situation.

Both leaders see the offices as a means of establishing party position papers on legislation, on relating legislative issues to guidelines or platforms set forth by the parties on the national level.

DeMarcus, though, considers speechwriting and even mailouts for Republican legislative candidates as being within the framework of the office.

While Swinford doesn't quarrel with this view, he did note in an interview that there is a fine line that needs to be drawn between the purely political and what is political in relation to legislative activities.

Carroll set no guidelines and his press secretary, John Nichols, said that it would be up to the General Assembly to set any guidelines if it saw the need for any.

Neither DeMarcus nor Swinford want any restrictions placed on the offices by law.

At present, the funding level is not high. The $25,000 Carroll granted from his contingency fund for each office through next June is about enough for one administrative assistant, secretary and a small operating budget for each.

There are no restrictions on what the General Assembly might want to vote these offices.

The legislature must act if the offices are to continue past this fiscal year. It also appears that there will be a move to sever the offices of Speaker of the House and President Pro-Tem of the Senate from the Legislative Research Commission and make them independently funded as well.

Separation of the leadership offices from the LRC may well have been the main reason for the order at any rate. In effect, what it will do is make the LRC entirely non-partisan.

It also releases the LRC from the burden of turning its head at the political uses to which the minority leadership office has been put on occasion in the past.

While it does the same for the majority offices, under this executive order, it is the GOP that is the biggest beneficiary.

As it was, the minority office existed at the whim of the majority party, an uncomfortable position, at best. It is something Carroll says everybody was interested in clearing up.

Letter to the Editor

I think it is a shame that the city parking lot isn't being used as it was intended to be.

I was on the City Council at the time the parking lot was leased from the railroad in June, 1967, for $25 a year with the stipulation that there was to be no parking meters or charges of any sort to the public.

I believe the parking lot was also built mostly from public donations. It was the intention of the Council at that time for the lot to be used for the merchants, their clerks and the people who worked out of the country. This would leave up-town parking for customers to do their shopping. I have noticed that most of the merchants and their clerks take up from one to three parking spaces up-town each day. Since the two-hour parking has been put on the lot, I have never seen over 12 cars in the parking lot at any given time. Before that, it was full at all times.

Since we have an energy shortage, we need parking facilities and car pooling more than ever.

With the Fiscal Court doing away with the garbage system and the City Council doing away with gasoline motors on the lake and the public all-day parking lot, I believe this is making our community go backwards instead of forward in progress.

Fred Morris

Dear Editor

Lake Linville is a beautiful lake, but it is not large enough for skiing and large motors. I think the City Council should restrict large motors, maybe limiting the size up to 10 h.p. I think fishermen need more than paddles or electric motors when a thunderstorm comes up.

It still would be a nice place to camp, picnic and boat ride with small motors. All limiting the horsepower to 10 would limit would be skiing and speeding.

According to tests made this summer, the fish in the lake didn't reproduce and I think the large motors were responsible for a large part of it. When the fish nets are washed out, the result is no young fish.

Henry Ries

Dear Editor,

In your paper of September 18th, I read another letter concerning the garbage problem.

First of all, I would like to say that as far as me asking someone else from another county to pick up garbage - I did not do this. Mr. Gunn came to my place of business about two weeks ago, which is on the same road that Mr. Hansel lives on, and asked to pick up my garbage and I employed him to pick up my garbage.

To quote from Mr. Dempsey Hansel's letter, "Now I would like to ask our present officials to help us. We need to know where to have our garbage taken care of properly without having to take it to a neighboring county and have them dispose of it."

As I remember, Mr. Hansel is a resident of Rockcastle County and for the past ten to fifteen years has worked in the Greater Cincinnati area and is only at home over the week end. It amazed me to know that Mr. Hansel was so concerned about our garbage problem.

All we would need to put Lake Linville out of business would be a landfill and an industrial park with about three chemical plants then we would have to go to Skages Creek and dam a hollow that no one could get to only by walking - then we could have some good water.

That was good advice and that is exactly what I do.

If anyone else has an opinion, please come to the Rockcastle County Courthouse the first Tuesday of each month at 9 a.m. and speak your opinion. It will be heard and appreciated.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Another Man's Opinion of the Action of the City Council.

I praise the Mt. Vernon City Councilmen for their action in closing Lake Linville to all gasoline engines. This needed to be done long ago. Why? Because if my memory is correct, when we signed for the water district there was not to be any boat motor larger than 10 h.p., no skiing and POSITIVELY NO Swimming. It was to be a fresh water supply for the county. In less than a year, the water coming into our bathtubs was so bad I would not take a bath in it. And, we were told the lake was turning over. I wonder why Woods Creek doesn't turn over and also Cow Bell Hollow is always clear.

I don't fish, boat or ski but I do like a good drink of water that has not been chlorinated so heavy it stinks. We have been boiling our drinking water for two years.

About the kids having a place to swim - Cedar Rapids has a good pool. And, besides, kids have no business swimming in the lake water where there is not a life guard. And, I think some of the kids also drink some tea.

When the health of my family and neighbors are at stake, I feel this pollution should go to a larger lake.

All we would need to put Lake Linville out of business would be a landfill and an industrial park with about three chemical plants then we would have to go to Skages Creek and dam a hollow that no one could get to only by walking - then we could have some good water.

Mrs. James David Shivel

Fowler - Shivel Vows Said At Danforth Chapel Aug. 9

Danforth Chapel in Berea provided the setting for the candlelight wedding ceremony Saturday, August 9th when Miss Katreka Fowler became the bride of James David Shivel. Reverend Charles Shivel, father of the groom, performed the double ring ceremony.

The rite is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Fowler of Berea. The groom's parents are Reverend and Mrs. Charles Shivel of Mt. Vernon.

The ceremony was performed before an altar featuring four arched candelabras, entwined with greenery and supporting white tapers. The altar was adorned with white gossamer and tulle, brass urns filled with green foliage placed in front of the arched candelabras completed the setting.

A program of wedding music was presented by Mrs. Edna Carol Maspin, organist and Mrs. Paula Gabbard, soloist. Songs included, "We've Only Just Begun," "Love Story," "One Hand One Heart," and the "Wedding Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her father, given in marriage by her parents, the bride wore a white gown of silk Potosiceera. Fashioned along princess lines the gown had a high ruffled neck line and featured a ribbed front, empire waist, and was accented with lace and clusters of seed pearls, and long tapered sleeves of lace ending with ruffled cuffs. The sheer Potosiceera skirt was accented with appliques of lace and pearls, which terminated into a cathedral train with a scalloped border of lace.

She completed her attire with a fingertip illusion veil, attached to a headpiece of lace and seed pearls. She carried a large bouquet of white roses and stephanotis entwined with baby's breath and greenery.

Miss Tamara Upton, Berea, served as maid of honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of turquoise Qiana. The bodice featured a v-neck with collar and full long sleeves with cuffs accented with covered buttons. The empire waist, ended with a sash, tied in the back and she carried an arm bouquet of six velvet soft pink roses nestled in baby's breath, tied with sheer white ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Miss Juanita Grey, Miss Brenda King, both of Berea, Miss Delores Osborne, Gate City, Virginia and Miss Jennifer Johnson, Knoxville, Tennessee. They were attired in dresses styled like the maid-of-honor, but in rainbow colors of blue, pink, coral and green. They carried identical bouquets to that of the maid-of-honor.

Gordon Graham, Mt. Vernon served as best man. He wore Jack J. Anglin, David Parsons, Kenny Babinson, all of Mt. Vernon and John B. Fowler, Berea, brother of the bride, as Mr. John Fowler, mother of the bride, chose a floor-length dress of blue with a matching jacket overlaid with lace for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Charles Shivel, mother of the groom, wore a floor-length dress of beige with a matching jacket overlaid with lace. Both mothers and grandmothers wore corsages of white orchids.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Holiday Inn in Richmond. The bride's table was covered with a floor-length pleated white tablecloth and held a four-tiered wedding cake, surrounded with pink roses.

The serving table, decorated similarly to the bride's table, was centered with a candelabra, holding white tapers and filled with pink roses and baby's breath. Servers were Miss Ann Adams, Mrs. Mike Davis and Mrs. Sue Oliver presided at the guest book.

For her wedding trip, the bride chose a two-piece dress and matching jacket in shades of pink with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white roses. After a wedding trip South, Mr. and Mrs. Shivel are residing in Mt. Vernon.

Pre-Nuptial Events

July 24th, Mrs. Shivel was given a linen shower by Miss Tamara Upton and Miss Juanita grey at the home of Mrs. Jennifer McHone.

Mrs. Sue Oliver entertained with a household shower July 31st in honor of Mrs. Shivel. A luncheon was given at Boone Tavern August 2 by Mrs. Lois Stone and her daughter, Mrs. Sandy Pratt for the bride and groom, mothers and grandmothers.

A rehearsal dinner was given by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shivel, parents of the groom, at the Renfro Valley Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Michael Childress

Vows Said August 30 In Lawn Ceremony

Myrna Doreen Lambert, daughter of Mrs. Ira Wade Lambert of Route 3, Broadhead and the late Jack Lambert and Michael Childress, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Childress, were united in marriage Saturday, August 30 in a lawn wedding at the home of the bride's mother.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Bro. Raymond Flynn. Vows were exchanged before a white bridal arch entwined greenery and lily of the valley, flanked on each side by baskets of white gladioli and tangerine carnations, topped with wedding bells and orange ribbons. Music was provided by Miss Kathy Pope.

The bride was escorted by her cousin, Glen Albert Rigby, and given in marriage by her mother. She wore a gown of white silk organza fashioned along empire lines. The gown featured a bodice of white cotton lace encrusted with clusters of seed pearls, long slim lace sleeves and a full flowing applique skirt accented by a deep cotton lace flounce at the hemline and trimming the chapel length train. Her veil was shoulder-length silk illusion attached to a three-inch cascade of matching lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of white poms with tangerine carnations accented in the center with lily of the valley and white streamers.

Miss Rhonda Berry served as maid of honor. Miss Berry wore a floor-length gown of peach polyester with orange and blue flowers and a peach picture hat with an orange ribbon. She carried a bouquet of white poms and tangerine carnations with orange streamers.

Miss Patty Taylor served as bridesmaid. Miss Taylor's gown was identical to that of the maid of honor and she also wore a peach picture hat with a blue ribbon and carried a bouquet of white poms and blue carnations with blue streamers.

Stephanie Ann Mabry, niece of the groom, served as flower girl. She wore a blue dotted swiss floor length gown with a white apron and carried a white basket with orange streamers filled with white carnation petals.

Quentin "Petey" Childress, brother of the groom, served as best man. Guests were ushered to their seats by Glen Hammonds, Ringbearer was Larry Brent Childress, nephew of the groom. The bride's train was carried by Robert Scott Childress, also nephew of the groom.

The groom wore a white formal tuxedo trimmed in black with matching accessories and his attendants were attired in light-blue tuxedos with matching accessories. All wore white carnations.

Miss Kaye Rigby, cousin of the bride, presided at the guest register. Ring bags were distributed by Miss Rhonda Childress, sister of the groom.

Mrs. Lambert wore a floor-length gown of blue polyester with white accessories. Mrs. Childress wore a floor-length gown of mint green polyester with matching green accessories. Both mothers wore white carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The bride's table featured a white antique tablecloth over a blue table linen and a three-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom with orange roses and greenery. The centerpiece was a bouquet of white mums, tangerine carnations and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Harold Clarkson Wright

Miss Rebecca S. Tinch Weds Harold C. Wright

On September 13 at the Missionary Baptist Temple in Franklin, Ohio, Miss Rebecca Susan Tinch and Harold Clarkson Wright were married.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Tinch of Franklin, Ohio. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wright of Franklin are the parents of the bridegroom. Rev. Edward Bates officiated at the nuptial ceremony.

After a reception at the church, the couple left for a trip south. They will live at 117 Vanborn Ave., Franklin, Ohio. An alumna of Franklin High School and Carousal Beauty College, the bride is employed at the Florine Beauty Shop. Her husband attended Franklin High School and is employed by Robert's Furniture, Inc. James Marshall was best man and Dan Ballard, Larry Tinch and Perry Lambert were ushers.

Miss Debra Simpson, maid of honor, wore a blue polyester gown made with an empire waistline, v-neckline, short jacket with layered sleeves. A matching picture hat completed her attire.

Miss Jacqueline Tinch, sister of the bride, Mrs. Paul Scott, sister of the bridegroom and Miss Kathy Haines, all bridesmaids, wore matching styled gowns in shades of peach, yellow and green.

Misses Beth and Connie Tinch, sisters of the bride, junior bridesmaids, wore matching styled gowns and veils in pink.

Amy Scott and John Bentle were flower girl and ringbearer.

A silk organza gown, featuring a ruffled-edged skirt with bands of re-embroidered lace, was worn by the bride. The dress had a Victorian bodice, high neckline, ruffle-trimmed bishop sleeves and a chapel-length skirt. The bride's veil, a floor-length mantilla edged with lace, was caught to a Juliet cap.

Paternal grandparents of the bride are Mrs. Laura Tinch and the late Aden Tinch of Franklin, Ohio.

Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Edith Mullins and the late Captain Mullins of Route 3, Berea.

Since 1966, almost 800 water withdrawal permits have been issued by the division of water resources in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection. Just over 600 are still active. Anyone who withdraws more than 10,000 gallons of water a day from Kentucky streams and lakes must obtain a permit from the division.

There are about 150 sanitary landfills permitted by the division of solid waste in the Kentucky Department for Natural Resources and Environmental Protection.

Rockcastle Recollections

By: John Lair

ROCKCASTLE FIRSTS

First blacksmith's tire shrinker belonged to H.C. (Uncle Henry) Gentry and now belongs in the Renfro Valley Museum.

First dental chair installed by Dr. M.L. Meyers, Mt. Vernon's first up-to-date dentist.

First school to teach high school subjects was J.N. Brown's (Buck Vernon) Level Green Academy. First to offer complete high school courses was Brodhead School.

First regular Christian Church erected by G.B. Bragg and S.H. Thompson, contractors. Early preachers were Rev. John Quinn and Rev. Dickey Collier.

First merchant was Mason C. Miller. His store was near where the Mt. Vernon Post Office now stands.

First tin roof in the county covered the Joplin Hotel.

Oddfellow's Lodge, at Mt. Vernon, organized about 1870. Lodge rooms were over the store of J.J. Williams. There were no lodge meetings after 1874.

First real estate addition to Mt. Vernon was in 1890, when James I. White opened Newcomb Avenue and High Street in North Mt. Vernon.

First monument erected by Jonathan Langford on a lot in the Mt. Vernon Cemetery. Made of Rockcastle freestone and still in good state of preservation. Mr. Langford himself buried elsewhere.

First locomotive to enter Mt. Vernon when the railroad was built through here was a wood-burner, old Number 2.

First iron safe with a combination lock was owned by J.H. Otter.

First rubber-tired vehicle belonged to Manly Albright of Brodhead.

First wooden water pump made by H.G. Howard of Brodhead.

First roller flour mill installed by R.S. Martin, T.S. Frith and John Perkins at Brodhead.

First tobacco factory was established at Brodhead by Dick Martin from Virginia who ran it in Brodhead for many years, later moving it to Junction City to take advantage of better freight rates.

First dynamite known in this county was used by the construction crew employed in building the Kentucky Central Railroad.

First courthouse in the county was a log building, finished in 1811. Second courthouse was the first brick building in the county and was erected in 1873.

First gasoline lights used by S.W. Davis, in his harness shop.

First private electric lights installed by G.T. Johnson in residence and store at Mt. Vernon on February 1, 1906.

First pepperbox pistol owned and exhibited by Sidney Franklin, along with a collection of old guns, pistols, cannon balls, etc. in the county's first museum.

Lucifer matches sold first in the store of M.C. Miller or that of Alfred Smith.

First county fair established at Brodhead in 1896.

First licensed physician to practice in Rockcastle County was Dr. Joplin, who came here from Virginia.

First resident of Rockcastle to travel around the world was W.O. Jones. First to spend a vacation in Europe was Miss Ida May Adams.

First native born Rockcastleite to reach high military rank was General Jake Williams, a member of the staff of General Patton in World War Two.

First from Rockcastle to be heard on radio in its pioneer days was a group of string musicians (country-style) consisting of Karl Davis, Hartford Taylor, Cecil Purcell and a fourth member whose name is not now remembered. They were taken to Louisville by Dr. Monroe Pennington and made a guest appearance over WHAS.

Harve Mink cast the first vote in Rockcastle County. It was a vote for the Republican Party.

First undertaker was James F. Allen, with his funeral home on Old Main Street, near present Appliance Service Center Store, owned by Roy Winstead. Allen and his wife were from Virginia.

First blacksmith was Thomas Ramsey.

First egg cases were used by Willis Adams, Jr., in 1872, in business with his father, Jack Adams, where the Mt. Vernon Bargain Store now is. Prior to that time, eggs had been shipped in boxes and barrels with great breakage.

First ten pin alley was run by Thomas Smith at about the present location of Jim's Dollar Store.

First grain drill brought to the county by J.W. Moore.

First tomatoes cultivated by Henry Frederick, a German. Known as Love Apples, they were considered an ornamental plant only and people were long araid to eat them.

A man by the name of Davidson was the first man legally hanged in Rockcastle County in 1841.

First graduating Class (1914) of Mt. Vernon High School was composed of three members - Jamie Thompson, Robert McKenzie and John Lair. All three were present at the graduation of the last class (1972) before the school was incorporated into a new county high school.

James Marx in his voluminous list of Rockcastle firsts stated that the first church in the county was Brush Creek, established in 1850. I later found mention of a church at Mt. Vernon in 1835. Later, I found in the old church record book of Pleasant Run Baptist Church where a meeting was held on the second day of November, 1820, for the purpose of organizing a United Baptist Church at Brush Creek. Among those present at this meeting were

What About These Weeds In the Lawn?

During the hot summer months we have been telling people not to spray to control broadleaved weeds in the lawn. Now, with the approach of fall and cooler weather, it is an excellent time to start a weed control program.

New Seedings

Tupersan (sulfuron) is the only herbicide that can be used selectively in new fall seedings of lawn grasses. Although he usually think of applying Tupersan in the spring, an application during fall seedings will prevent many of the weed seeds from germinating and crowding out the new grass before freezing weather in late fall and early winter sets in.

Established Lawns

Start your lawn weed control program now. Many broadleaf perennial weeds such as dandelion, plantain, wild garlic, wild onion, and ground ivy can be controlled by chemical treatments in September, October or early November. Winter annual weeds such as chickweed and henbit can also be controlled by fall applications.

Recommended materials for general broadleaf weed control are 2,4-D, silvex, or banvel. These herbicides are sold under various trade names as dandelion, plantain, wild garlic, or as combinations (2,4-D and silvex). For controlling chickweed in the lawn, one of the products containing silvex or banvel should be used. For rates to use, follow directions on the label of the container in which the material is purchased. Care should be taken to avoid spray drift to desirable plants.

Fall applications for these herbicides often do not act as rapidly as in the spring, when weather conditions are more favorable, but they will be effective if properly applied.

Although annual weeds such as crabgrass and foxtail can be seen in the lawn now, good control can't be obtained this late in the year. Wait until early next spring before treating to control these latter two weeds.

Bulbs for Indoor Bloom

Fall is the time to anticipate spring by planting tulips, crocuses, hyacinths, and other bulbs. These bright and often fragrant blooms can be enjoyed even earlier if the season you plan some for "forcing" indoors during the winter. The flowers will bloom in January or February if started in October and given proper treatment. The idea is to provide warm temperatures indoors ahead of nature's outdoor schedule.

Place large, plump bulbs in well drained clay flower pots or bulb pans which are at least twice as high as the bulbs. For the best effect, use enough bulbs to comfortably fill the containers without allowing them to touch the sides of the container or each other. Certain varieties are better for forcing than others: Prince of Austria and William Pitt Tulips, Cheerfulness, King Alfred and Mount Hood daffodils; Bismach and La Victorie hyacinths.

Half fill the pots with packaged potting soil (or 1:1:1 loam, peat, sand mixture) and gently set the bulbs on the surface. Do not press them down. With tulips, face the flat side toward the edge of the pot for better balance. Add soil around the bulbs, leaving the tips of the bulbs exposed. Water thoroughly and label each container with the flower name, variety and date of planting.

The next step is a period of "cold treatment." These hardy bulbs must be exposed to 40 degrees fahrenheit temperatures for 12 weeks to permit root and initial shoot formation. There are several ways to meet the chilling requirement. (1) Store the bulbs in a cool, completely dark basement, garage or shed. Water when needed to keep the soil moist, not soggy, at all times. If a dark location is not available, wrap the containers loosely in black plastic. (2) Bury the bulbs outdoors in a 1 foot deep trench. Cover the pots with at least 4 inches of leaves or straw and several inches of soil. (3) Place the bulbs in a wooden fruit crate outdoors. Put 2 to 3 inches of gravel in the bottom and surround the containers with moist leaves or peatmoss. When the ground freezes, cover the box with leaves or straw.

When a mass of roots has formed and the stems are 2 to 3 inches tall, bring the bulbs indoors and put them in a cool (40 to 50 degrees F) place with bright, indirect light in a couple of weeks, after the tips have grown several inches. Move the bulbs into full sunlight where the temperature is 60 to 70 degrees F. Keep the plants well watered.

Blooms should appear in several weeks. The flowers require even more water than the developing bulbs, so keep the soil moist but not soggy. Avoid drafts and high temperatures which might shorten the blooming period.

Place pots of bulbs in attractive metal or ceramic containers for a more decorative accent. Of course, the blooms can also be cut for arrangements. Slagger planting times during October and November to have a supply of spring flowers throughout the gray months of winter and early spring.

How and Where To Store Fresh Garden Produce

Even with an old time root cellar, you can find several good ways to store fresh garden produce at your house this fall and winter.

Depending on the vegetables to be held, UK Extension Horticulturist C.R. Roberts says you should be able to manage very well with one or more of the following storage facilities:

An unheated basement or cellar. An extra refrigerator. An unheated room. A partitioned off corner of a heated basement, an attic and insulated outdoor storage pile.

Most root vegetables ideally need storage temperatures between 32 and 40 degrees F. Dr. Roberts says that a dirt-floored cellar under a house without central heating would probably come closest to a satisfying condition. Here in Kentucky, however, even a root cellar seldom stays colder than 40 degrees F.

A refrigerator is the modern-day replacement for both a root cellar and a food storage place at the spring, offering about the same temperature range for keeping foods fresh and safe. The big difference is in the relative humidity, because refrigerated air is very dry. Perforated plastic bags will help keep out dry air and hold in the natural moisture of fruits and vegetables.

An extra secondhand refrigerator could be a good investment for keeping large quantities of garden produce. Keep it in utility room, garage, or even on an unheated closed-in porch.

There's a surprising variation of temperatures from shelf to shelf in some refrigerators. Check yours with a thermometer. Note which sections are relatively warm (over 50 degrees F.), cold (40 to 50 degrees F.) and very cold (32 to 40 degrees F.).

Study your house to see what additional arrangements you can make for proper storage of your produce. Check the temperature, relative humidity and ventilation of each prospective storage area. Outside doors and windows help you regulate both temperature and relative humidity. You can buy inexpensive thermometers and humidity gauges for around $10 or less - a wise move if you're serious about this whole food-keeping project.

You can maintain high relative humidity in an unheated cellar by wetting down the dirt floor. Wet sawdust, wet burlap bales and a tub of moistened sand are other ways to add dampness to a room. If you have trouble keeping the relative humidity high enough for root vegetables, put them in perforated plastic bags.

Slatted-wood boxes, shallow lugs, perforated cardboard boxes and woven baskets all make good bulk-storage containers. Set those up off the floor on shelves or stack them on wood crossboards to allow air circulation in between.

Louisville uses more water than other municipalities in the state. It takes between 120 and 130 million gallons of water from the Ohio River every day. Lexington takes 32 million gallons a day from the Kentucky River.
