Clean-up week is April 20-24

At Monday night's meeting of the Mt. Vernon City Council, Clean-Up Week, April 20-24, was discussed with final plans being made by the Council.

All residents of the town are asked to clean around their homes and when trash to be hauled away is assembled, city workers will haul it away for you. Just call 256-2879.

During the meeting, Mayor Roland Mullins recommended to the council that instead of hiring someone to take care of the city's financial records, the Bank of Mt. Vernon be instructed to use their computer to give the city a monthly read-out of its expenditures in relation to the balance in each budgeted category. Mayor Mullins said the estimated cost of this plan would be $50 per month which, he said, "should" be quite a savings over having to hire a person to keep the books.

The council approved the recommendation. Councilman Tom Welch brought before the council his feeling that the Police Department could use an extra man. Welch pointed out that one patrolman is presently undergoing 10 weeks of schooling and that is forcing the other three policemen to work quite a bit of overtime.

Welch also said that he felt what the force needed was a chief who would come in and report on the department to the council and the council would give the chief only instructions they wished to see carried out in the Department.

The councilman then made a recommendation that Joe Howard, a former member of the police department, be hired as chief. However, Mayor Mullins ruled the recommendation out of order because he said the council has not had much heated discussion as to how money could be found in the budget to pay for another full-time policeman. The Mayor said he felt that with the savings in overtime, a part-time policeman might be hired at the present time but the council took no action on the discussion.

The council also discussed a recent suit filed against the City and Patrolman Charles Lovell by two out-of-town youths over an arrest last year. (See story elsewhere in this issue.) The council's main concern was whether or not the city was covered by insurance for this eventuality and City Attorney Carl Clontz was instructed to talk to Donnie Singleton of Singleton and Associates to ascertain this.

In other business, the council discussed the possibility of cleaning up a vacant lot on Main Street, belonging to Ford Realty and Auction Co., for use as a parking lot. Councilman Welch said he had talked with Danny Ford concerning the loan of the lot to the city until it was needed for the owner's use and that the possibility that an agreement could be worked out was good.

Civil Suit Filed Against City and City Policeman

Joe Harper, Jr. and Jerry Phillips of Monticello have filed suit against the City of Mt. Vernon and city police officer Charles M. Lovell, Jr. claiming that they were illegally arrested by Lovell on April 11, 1980, while traveling south through Mt. Vernon.

The two are asking for $10,000 each for damages as a result of being held overnight in the Rockcastle County Jail and being charged with transporting alcoholic beverages in a dry option district for purpose of resale. The damages as stated in the suit contend that the two suffered public embarrassment and humiliation and mental pain and anguish as a result of being arrested, imprisoned and so charged.

After a hearing in District Court last May 14, Judge Walter McGuire dismissed the cases in which Harper was charged with being a minor in possession of alcoholic beverages and Phillips was charged with transporting alcohol for the purpose of resale.

Ten cases of beer and a 15 gallon keg of beer taken from the boys by Lovell was returned after the hearing with Phillips signing the receipt.

NOTICE:

The Rockcastle County Republican Woman's Club will meet Monday night at 7 p.m. at the Courthouse.

Plans will be made for exciting projects.

Coffey Sentenced

Sentencing date for James Lee Coffey, 28, who pled guilty last week in Circuit court to charges of first degree assault was set for April 16th. The jury recommended a sentence of 10 years for the December 1979 incident in which Coffey admitted to severely burning and beating three year old Gilbert VanWinkle, his brother-in-law.

Guns Taken

About 8 guns were taken from the home of Howell Cameron on Fairground Hill sometime between last Tuesday night and Thursday night, the time during which he was away at his job. The guns, valued at around $1,000, were returned to his porch after he "put the word out that he knew who did it", according to Sheriff Henry Lee Abney. Abney said that evidence was found at the house which led him to believe he knew who took the guns.

Burglary

Mr. and Mrs. R.A. Baker's house on West Main Street was burglarized Friday night sometime between dark and 9:30 according to Mr. Baker who said that thieves took a gun, some jewelry and some other items, most of which were small. Entry was gained through a back window. Mr. Baker stated that no one has been arrested as yet, but that they have gotten some leads on some suspects.

Armed Robbery

Two masked men each armed with a hand gun took approximately $450 in cash from the Renfro Valley Exxon about 5:30 Friday morning and left the service station on foot, according to Jack Lawless of the Kentucky State Police. Lawless said that Frankie Hasty was the attendant on duty when the robbery occurred and he described the bandits as being about six feet and six feet, two inches, and both having medium builds. The service station is owned by Danny Bullock.

Community Sunrise Service

The annual Community Sunrise Service will be held at 6:30 a.m. Easter Sunday morning at the Christian Assembly Camp near Brodhead.

The service is being sponsored by the Brodhead Home-makers and the family is invited to attend.

Radio-Thon

There will be a Radio-thon sponsored by the Rockcastle County unit of the American Cancer Society, Saturday, April 18th, from 9 a.m. until 12 noon. The Radio-thon will be held over WRVK, Renfro Valley.

Proceeds from this endeavor will be used in the fight against cancer. Your calling in on donations will be very much appreciated. If you need further information, please call the Rockcastle Co. Unit President, Mike Bryant, at either 256-5246 or 256-4416.

Still Found

According to State Police Detective, Roland Huckabee, he and another officer, Greg Ennis, discovered a moonshine still about 5 miles from Mt. Vernon on Kirby property on the southwest side of the Chestnut Ridge Road. Huckabee said that they confiscated the copper worm, but left the two 55 gallon drums that were found at the site.

PARSONS WITHDRAWS

T.J. Parsons, who filed several weeks ago as a candidate for sheriff in the May Republican Primary, announced Tuesday that he is withdrawing from the race and is no longer a candidate even though his name will appear on the voting machine ballot. Mr. Parsons wishes to thank his friends for their help and encouragement.

SPELLING BEE

It is not too late to enter the Spelling Bee sponsored by the Mt. Vernon Woman's Club next Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Upper Courtroom of the Courthouse. The last five contestants to be left will receive awards and compete for first place.

The Woman's Club challenges the men in the community to see which are better spellers men or women. A nominal fee of 50 cents will be charged spectators.

D.A. Robbins

Only Principal Many Brodhead Alumni Remember

By: Nancy Mullins

Because most people have spent so many waking hours at school by the time they are 21, many adult memories and nostalgic recollections center around those friends, teachers, events and even principals we have known from school days.

Many students who attended Brodhead School, like myself, never knew one other principal other than D.A. Robbins, who served in that position for 36 years.

Mr. Robbins saw many changes during those years at Brodhead, some for which he was responsible - some for which time was responsible.

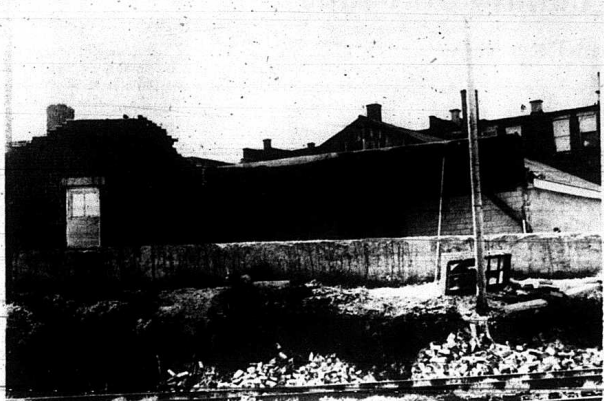

There is much comment and speculation these days about, "Why Johnny can't read," he says. He feels that people need to stop and consider that perhaps even though everyone graduating from high school can read or write on a 12th grade level (according to standardized tests), when one compares the widespread illiteracy of 50 years ago with today's "education" for everyone, we've come a long way in a short time.

Dealva was born February 15, 1908, one of seven children of Frank and Mattie (Howard) Robbins. His father, who had taught school for 5 or 6 years, moved to Copper Creek from Lincoln County after he married and began farming.

In 1918 the Robbins home burned and the family moved to town, partly because his father was interested in an education for his children at Brodhead Grade and High School, a private school district. Children from the county were allowed to attend school but were charged tuition.

Dealva entered 5th grade at Brodhead in 1919 and was seated right across the aisle from Vivian Albright, the girl whom he would later marry. He finished elementary school and attended 3 years of high school at Brodhead but transferred to Union College Academy to finish his last year because he wanted to play football on a wood floor. Brodhead did not have a gym, but played basketball games on outdoor courts.

After attending Union for one semester; he decided to return and graduate with his

Part of the original structure of the Rockcastle Hotel building built in 1913 is being torn down this week to make parking space available for apartment dwellers in the building. The section being torn down is behind the hotel and once housed Eaton's Garage. For the last seven years the area had been used for storage. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Winstead are owners of the property.

CAR WASH IS SATURDAY

The RCHS Senior Class is sponsoring a car wash at Burger Queen, Saturday, April 18, 14 p.m. Pay only $3. per car and get a free coke with wash.

JAYCEE PIE SUPPER

Plans now to attend the Political Pie Supper this Friday night beginning at 7 p.m. at the RCHS luncheonroom. Entertainment provided.

Traffic Accident Kills Jackson County Man

Troy Hillard, 46, of Route 3, McKee was fatally injured in a one vehicle accident near midnight Friday, April 10 on Ky. 490, 11 miles S. of Mt. Vernon. According to investigating officer, Guy Blovinis, Fleet Hammock, 73, of Route 3, Mt. Vernon was driving the vehicle south when he ran off the road while rounding a curve. He lost control of the vehicle and struck a tree. Receiving third class injuries in the accident was Ronnie Lewis, 20 of Route 3, McKee.

classmates. Officials at Union, however, enticed him to stay by allowing him to enter college there with only 14 credits. After one semester and a summer term at Union, but still without a high school diploma, he returned to teach his first year at Gum Sulphur when he was only 18 or 19. The next year, he taught at Negro Creek.

In 1929, 1930 and 1931, Dealva attended Transylvania University in Lexington at the urging of a friend, Austin Durham of Mt. Vernon. Austin's father had put money aside for his education but, with the onslaught of the depression, the bank went broke and Austin was forced to work to pay for much of his education. Transylvania was a college which was under the auspices of the Disciples of Christ Church and anyone indicating an intention to go into the ministry could attend free. Harry Sparks, Dealva's friend, attended with this understanding; however, Mr. Robbins said that Mr. Sparks preached only one sermon and then changed his mind.

According to Mr. Robbins during the depression tuition and student numbers were down. His father helped him all he could but he had to work at any job he could find to help finance his education. Those with money in the Brodhead bank were a little luckier than most since it remained solvent throughout the depression.

Dealva majored in history and turned down a scholarship to Duke University because he was needed at home. His mother had died and he felt obligated to help out since for 3 years his education had put a burden on the family.

His father was on the school board and, in 1931, got him his first job as the third high school teacher hired by the system. He taught 5 years. He was actually hired to teach 8th grade but was transferred to high school to teach 6 classes including the natural sciences and citizenship. His duties also included coaching both the girls' and boys' basketball teams. He was paid $25 a month.

In those days, girls basketball was a big sports attraction with as many attending the games as attended the boys' games. In 1931, two years after the new brick school and gym were built, the school had an extra good girls team which would have gone to the state tournament had Virginia Owens (Saylor) not missed two free throws in the last minutes of play.

From the time he took the job as principal of the school in 1936 until the district merged with the county system in about 1950, Mr. Robbins says he and the school were highly scrutinized and sometimes criticized by the townspeople who elected a governing local board. Mr. Robbins said he was always keenly aware of and felt pressure from the community's opinion of what was happening at the school.

The principal whom he succeeded had allowed students to go to town every Friday afternoon and had, by his general leniency, lost the respect and support of the townspeople. When Mr. Robbins was hired to be head of the school, at the young age of 28, it was with the understanding that he would keep "books" when "books" were supposed to be kept and in general be strict. He said he was on trial and didn't know at the time if he could handle high school or not. In his favor, he says, was the fact that he had good teachers without which a good school is impossible.

With a school board race every 2 years and hearing constant rumblings of disgruntled opposition and people fighting to get a job during hard times when there was little other employment really kept the school principal young and cautious (not to mention nervous).

Mr. Robbins says he was always careful to keep politics out of the school but one year he invited a speaker from Somerset to give the graduation address. The speaker proceeded to lambast the Democrat party from "top to bottom" in his address much to Mr. Robbins' horror and embarrassment since he had 3 "very" democrat board members (all in attendance) and had to watch as they scooted lower and lower in their seats and took the party brooding.

One policy which he had to change related to religious assemblies in the school. Mr. Robbins had always allowed preachers to hold assemblies and speak to the students a few minutes especially during times of community revivals. Once he says he allowed 3 ministers who were conducting some kind of services in the area to have an assembly. Rather than limiting the talk to a few minutes devotional and inviting the students to attend church, the three preachers took 45 minutes and each preached a good long sermon. The sermons were followed by an invitation to the students to come forward and change their ways. He said he looked up to see one of the rowdiest, ornate jesters in school going forward in order to get a laugh

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor,
 I read this ad in the Signal about the Elephant party which I appreciated. We Republicans are really strong. We are not weak like those Roosters.
 But, I really agree that we need someone in office who will uphold the law and fight not only who will that be if we could find someone who would do that, I would vote in a hurry but there has never been anyone yet who did anything and this man is no exception. His name has never done anything either.
 I am a Republican because I have common sense. I wonder what poor people these Democrats help out. These young folks need to work, they don't need hand-outs. We sure don't want this other party in office. We don't want our country in a worse mess if we can't ever get back to normal. He said about the Republicans wanting him to run well, they are not Republicans - they are a and off the fence. They don't know what the Republican party stands for. The real Republicans are strong and know what it means.

Our President lies wounded, felled by a bullet fired from a "Saturday Night Special." This favorite weapon of the assassin was easily obtained at a Dallas pawnshop.
 In all but one of the eleven assassinations and attempted assassinations of Presidents or Presidential candidates, the assassin used a handgun. Presidents Lincoln, Garfield, and McKinley were slain. Candidate Robert Kennedy was killed. Governor George Wallace is crippled. In September, 1975 alone, President Ford's life was threatened twice by assassins wielding handguns. Now President Reagan has been shot.
 Must we bury another President before the Congress acts to pass an effective national handgun control law? Together we can make the Congress act now to control handguns. Join with us today.

Dear Editor,

I would enjoy hearing from descendants or anyone who has any knowledge of the Potts and Chance families of Lincoln and Rockcastle Counties. Ky. Stephen Potts from Loudoun Co., Va. bought land in Lincoln Co., Ky. in 1797. In the 1820 census for Rockcastle Co., there was a Stephen Potts, 45 years and over and a Samuel Potts in the 25 to 45 year age group. Samuel had married Catherine Chance, b. Orange Co., N.C., daughter of Ezekiel Chance. Their daughter, Sarah, married Henry Owsley, son of Thomas Owsley, the 4th and Dinah.
 The 1850 census of Rockcastle showed Samuel Potts, 68 years, born Virginia, Catherine Potts, 66, born North Carolina, and Elizabeth, 24 years, born in Kentucky. There was also a Stephen Potts, 30 years and a Samuel Potts, Jr., 26 years. The 1880 census for Rockcastle showed Stephen Potts, 61 years, Matilda, 55 years, John, 30 years, Martha, 16 years and Joseph, 20 years. There was also Jonas Potts, 56 years; Nancy, 46 years; Elizabeth, 22 years; Martha, 19 years and William, 16 years.
 Are there any descendants of these families still in your area.

Yours truly,

Hazel Elvey (Mrs. Don) 115 La Folia Ave. Santa Cruz, Ca. 95065

Editor:

I wrote a letter concerning our freed hostages. I believe I wrote back on the day they were released, on Tuesday, January 20, 1981. I said, "Editor, their change the subject from basketball to the Hostages are Free." I know it was the prayers of God's people that are free. Perline said she lost the letter to the Editor. I know it can happen but our hostages, 52 of them, are free, after 444 days of being held hostage. They are free, thank the good Lord, they are free. I know all churches and the people who are Christian were praying for them. I knew the hostages would be freed. I had faith in the Lord. My daddy said they would never get out of Iran. That is my daddy, Colt Brock. But I told my daddy they would get out of Iran. I told Daddy that you have to have faith in God and my daddy knows that.

Former President Carter got the hostages out of Iran but 25 minutes after President Ronald Reagan was nominated, they were released. I give former President Carter a lot of credit, getting them out, but I said earlier the prayers of all people is the reason they are out of Iran.

Don't forget to print in the Mt. Vernon Signal this week or next week. President Reagan you were lucky last week, but most of all the Lord was with you and Mr. James Brady and three others who were shot, last Monday, March 30th. They said that Mr. Hinkley was a little off, that is crazy. I know not his first name.

Now let's talk a little basketball and recognize the basketball team under the coaching of Mr. Bill Riddle and now the 13th Regional champions, the Brothead Tigers and also recognize the Tigers cheerleaders and the basketball team of the Tigers: Clayton Cash, Ronald Arnold, Tommy Mullins, Darrell Proctor, Oll Mink, Jerry Burton, Dennis Harris, Ronnie Brown, Pat Crawford and Gary Smith. They went to the state in March, 1972. Now lets recognize the Tigers' cheerleaders, maiden name and married name: Paula Holbrook, married name unknown; Mrs. Debbie Sileox Harper, Mrs. Elaine Price Taylor, Mrs. Cindy Whitehead Burton, Mrs. Tom Boyner McClure and Mrs. Cheryl Riddle Brown.

Thank you,
 Your Friend Always,
 David Daniel Brock

P.S. I think a lot of you basketball players of 1972 and also the wonderful, sweet and also cheerleaders of BHS has never been the same since the consolation game and never will be the same.

Space What?

A six-year-old, confused this past Sunday morning about all the excitement centered around the televised launching of the maiden voyage of the U.S. space shuttle, asked, "What does space shewel do anyway."

Freda ABNEY

for County Clerk

To the Citizens of Rockcastle County,

Since this is the first time I have asked for public office in Rockcastle County, I would like to take this opportunity to ask for the support and vote of the people of Rockcastle County.

I have lived in Rockcastle County all my life. I am the wife of Fred Abney and the mother of seven children and have one grandchild. I am the daughter of the late Bud and Martha Cameron of Mt. Vernon.

I have met hundreds of people in this county already and will try my very best to see everyone. I have enjoyed talking and visiting with you and appreciate the encouragement and support you have given me.

Thank You,
Freda Abney

To The Voters of Rockcastle County

I appreciate the encouragement and support I have received from the people throughout the county. Listed below are some of the commitments that I have made. These commitments are not campaign promises to be broken, "The Day After Election." I fully intend to keep these obligations.

- #1. I will have a concerned citizen from each district "Deputized" to assist us with enforcing the law in each community - I have already selected William "Willie" Powell of Conway to serve in this capacity from Magisterial District #4 if I am elected.
- #2. I will have someone on call 7 days a week, 24 hours.
- #3. One of my Deputies or I will check out each and every complaint that we receive.
- #4. The roads of our county will be patrolled.

"Our actions shall prove our words true. The people who know me "know" that I am 'Honest' and 'Trustworthy'."
 I invite anyone to feel free to talk to me and offer any advice or suggestions that will improve your County Sheriffs Dept. I believe the Sheriffs Dept., with the help of the people, can make Rockcastle County a better place to live and raise our children.

From the Depths of My Heart, I Sincerely ask you, the voters, for your support and votes.

State PVA's Again Argue Reassessment

[The following is a reprint from the Thursday, April 9, 1981, issue of The Lexington Leader.]

By Sy Ramsey

The state Revenue Department and many property valuation administrators have clashed again verbally before the Kentucky Supreme Court.

"The PVA's have not done their job" in assessing property adequately in a number of counties," Nathan Goldman, an attorney for the revenue agency, said Wednesday.

But Bill Scott, attorney for the PVA's, said the state merely has "decided to put the monkey on the back of PVA's" in the controversy.

The state has appealed two rulings in recent months which are favorable to the PVA's.

The first was last August when Special Franklin Circuit Judge J. Paul Keith voided the Revenue Department's action earlier in the year directing that assessments be increased in many counties.

The second was last December when the state Court of Appeals affirmed Keith's opinion.

When the legal squabble began, more than 60 counties were affected.

After a few months, 103 of the 120 counties reached what the Revenue Department believed was fair cash valuation.

One of Keith's comments in the decision was that there should be "a lot more cooperation" between the state and the PVA's and this theme was taken up during the exchange before the Supreme Court.

Goldman said his agency does not expect PVA's to go back over almost every piece of property previously assessed when the department does not accept a county's total valuation.

When Justice Calvin Akers told Goldman that what the state has asked assessors to do "is almost impossible within the time frame" of drawing up new assessments, Goldman replied:

"The impossibility arises when the PVA's resist and say 'we're not going to do it.'"

Legislative Report

By Rep. Harold DeMarcus

It has been nine months since Kentucky's General Assembly was in session and, bringing a special session called by the governor, it will be another nine months before the legislature is in session again.

At its midpoint, the 198-81 interim has proven to be more active than the 1978-79 interim. Already, thirty-nine bills have been pre-filed for consideration in the 1982 General Assembly. By comparison, only fifteen bills had been pre-filed by October of the 1978-79 interim.

The Legislative Research Commission has completed and published ten informational and research publications. These publications range from alternatives for the future management of radioactive waste to studying the feasibility of establishing a statewide helicopter ambulance service.

Before the 1982 General Assembly convenes, it is anticipated that a dozen more studies will be published. Among the new studies will be an evaluation of volunteer fire department functions and a review of the state's generic drug law.

The legislature's investigative committees on Program Review, Personal Service Contracts and Capital Construction are continuing to make governmental information more accessible to the public, which invariably leads to better efficiency.

For example, since it was formed three and a half years ago, the Personal Service Contract Review subcommittee has helped reduce state spending on personal service contracts by $12 million.

Also, committees such as the Task Force on Small Business are holding hearings around the Commonwealth and gaining increased citizen input. As always, the major issues facing the legislature concern the state budget.

Sometime in the near future, the executive administration will announce where they plan to cut $185 million from the 1981-82 state budget. Further, speculation has it that the governor might call a special session in July to deal with the budget.

The only circumstance where a special session would be a responsible action is if the executive administration were to decide not to cut the budget. In this instance, the legislature would have to be convened to address the issue.

At the last Appropriations and Revenue Committee meeting, the Chief Justice of Kentucky's Supreme Court said that, in his opinion, the executive administration does not have the power to reduce the state budget because that authority rests solely with the legislature.

The 1980 legislature, did enact a statute to allow the executive administration to reduce the budget in the event of a revenue shortfall. The question of which branch of government will eventually take responsibility is as yet unresolved.

QUAL HOMEMAKERS WILL MEET

The Qual Homemakers monthly meeting has been changed to April 27, 1981 at the home of Mrs. Glenda Riddle.

REVIVAL

A Revival will begin April 20 at the Central Baptist Church in Mt. Vernon and continue through April 26. Services, with Evangelist Tom Price, pastor of Pleasant View Baptist Church in Dry Ridge, will begin at 7:30 nightly.

There will be special singing and everyone is welcome.

The Department for Human Resources recently sponsored a statewide Employer Relations Representative seminar. It was the first of a series of on-going training seminars to establish a communication vehicle among employer relations representatives and to provide updated information to better serve private sector employers. Among those attending the seminar were employer relations representative Charles Nantz (left) and Joe Johnson, manager, Corbin Job Service office. The Corbin Job Service office serves Clay, Jackson, Knox, Laurel, Rockcastle and Whitley counties.

Vote HUBERT THACKER

for County Judge Executive

May 26, 1981

Election day will soon be here and I know all of you are planning to cast your vote for the candidates who you think can best represent the best interests of Rockcastle County. I plan to and I think you should.

I believe that most of you realize by now that I am trying very hard to help get the things done that you, the people, have said you wanted for our county. I am most thankful for the good spirit of cooperation you have shown me and the fiscal court in these efforts. I think that you know what my attitude is toward such things which we have either begun or improved upon. These include: jobs, new ambulances and ambulance service, assistance for our older citizens, a new County Health Department building, a county park system, better roads and better markets for the produce from our hard working farmers.

I believe my record shows where my interests are and I don't feel I have to rely upon a lot of last issue rumors to spread about my opponents. I believe our County's chief administrative officer should be above this. I urge you all to remember that once the election is over, we must continue to work together toward providing more and better opportunities for all of us. Due to the many responsibilities that I have as County Judge, I am sure that I will not get to talk to everyone, but I want you to know that I need and will appreciate your vote in the Republican Primary on Tuesday, May 26th.

ALWAYS YOUR FRIEND,

Hubert Thacker

Selective Service Launches Program To Select Potential Draft Board Members in Kentucky

With the agreement of Governor John Y. Brown of Kentucky, the Selective Service has begun a program to recruit and train civilian volunteers for possible future draft boards in that state. This is a part of the peacetime revitalization of Selective Service that was called for by the Congress. The boards themselves would not be established unless Congress directed a return to the draft. However, pre-selection and training of board members in peacetime will be beneficial in several ways.

(1) It will assure that people selected will be representative of the communities they serve.
 (2) It will give Selective Service time, in the relative calm of peacetime, to train the board members in Selective Service policies and procedures to assure uniform treatment of individuals appearing before boards for postponements, deferments and exemptions-it is the local draft board that makes these crucial judgemental decisions. If we waited until a mobilization to select board members, with all the chaos attendant to such a situation, it would be much more difficult to ensure the appointment of quality boards that would consistently produce equitable results.

 By law draft board members are nominated by each state governor and appointed by the President. To be eligible for consideration, an individual must:

—Be a citizen of the United States between the ages of 18 and 60.
 —Not be a member of the armed forces (including reserve or retired status, but not excluding veterans of military service).

—Not already have served as a draft board member for a total of 15 or more years.
 —Be willing to participate in a national training program, and if the draft is ever resumed, be willing to serve without pay in making difficult but important decisions concerning applications from local residents for deferment or exemption from the draft.

The law also contemplates that the make-up of each draft board by representative of the racial and ethnic backgrounds of the registrant population under its jurisdiction. A major goal of this selection program is to generate sufficient citizen participation to ensure such balance. Approximately 185 appointments will be made in Kentucky. The full national program to be undertaken over the next few months will bring total appointments to approximately 10,000. Volunteers for Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands, Guam and Trust Territories are included in this figure.

Interested residents of Kentucky may obtain additional information from: Mr. Taylor Davidson, Sr., State Director of Selective Service, Federal Bldg., 330 W. Broadway, Frankfort, Ky. 40601.

Louisville Orchestra To Give Benefit Concert at UK

The Louisville Orchestra, conducted by Akira Endo and featuring pianist Lee Luvisi, will be in concert Sunday, April 26, at the University of Kentucky Medical Center for the Arts. The 2:30 p.m. concert will be held in the center's Concert Hall.

The concert is made possible by a special grant from Citizens Fidelity Bank and Trust Company of Louisville for the benefit of the fine arts collections in the UK libraries. The event is being coordinated by the UK College of Fine Arts and the UK Library Associates.

The afternoon musical program includes Duke Ellington's "Suite from the River", Ludwig Van Beethoven's "Piano Concerto No. 4, Opus 58," featuring Lee Luvisi on piano, and Igor Stravinsky's "Le Sacre Du Printemps."

"Although library resources have grown more than 20 percent since 1976 when the UK College of Fine Arts were established, they are less than adequate to support the expanding instructional programs and series of public performances," said Paul Willis, UK library director.

"The appearance of the Louisville Orchestra on the Lexington campus is significant in the growing cultural heritage of our Center for the Arts," J. Robert Willis, dean of the UK College of Fine Arts, said. "The fact that it is funded in part by Citizens Fidelity is particularly welcomed and essential in our fund-raising efforts."

Tickets for the concert are $10 for general admission and $3 for students and senior citizens.

For more information or to reserve tickets telephone the UK ticket office (606) 258-2680. The ticket office is located in the east corner (Rose and Euclid Avenue) of the UK Center for the Arts.

Phillips Appointed To Extension Post

Shirley H. Phillips was named associate director of the Cooperative Extension Service in the College of Agriculture by the University of Kentucky Board of Trustees meeting in Lexington, April 7.

Mr. Phillips, a native of Rockcastle County, live at Conway and Wildie and is a graduate of Mt. Vernon High School. He is the son of S.H. Phillips, Sr., deceased, and Mayme Thacker Phillips.

Phillips, 54, has been Assistant Director of the Cooperative Extension Service for Agriculture 11 years, and has a long record of service in the College of Agriculture. He was a county Extension agent in Harlan and Pulaski counties 1948-53.

In 1953, he was appointed state Extension specialist in grain crops and moved to the Lexington campus working with farmers throughout Kentucky. Phillips pioneered the establishment of the no-tillage system of growing corn and soybeans. For this leadership, he was named "No Till Educator of the Year" in 1972 by No Till Farmer, a nationally circulated magazine.

No-till production helps protect the land in row crops from soil erosion, saves tractor fuel and reduces investment in machinery. Widely used in Kentucky, no-till now is increasing in the major corn and soybean production areas in the U.S. as farmers seek ways to hedge against costs and reduce fuel consumption in the face of inflation and energy shortages.

Phillips' leadership is credited for helping Kentucky farmers increase crop yields and increase acreage by bringing into corn and soybean production land that once was considered unsuitable for row crops—a major factor in the growth of Kentucky Agriculture. As assistant director of Extension the past 11 years, he has been responsible for directing the work of the agricultural Extension agents located in all of Kentucky counties. These agents work directly with farmers and agri-business people.

He has received many awards. In 1976, "PPhillips was named "Man of the South" by Progressive Farmer, a magazine covering the South and Southwest. The same magazine named him "Man of the Year in Service to Kentucky Agriculture" in 1973. He also has received the "Outstanding Specialist" award from the Association of Kentucky Extension Specialists and the "Meritorious Service Award" from Epsilon Sigma Phi, professional fraternity of Extension workers.

Phillips holds memberships in the American Society of Agronomy, Epsilon Sigma Phi and Gamma Sigma Delta, national honorary society of agriculture.

A prolific writer on agricultural topics, Phillips has authored 87 magazine articles, 50 Extension publications and three scientific papers in the Agronomy Journal. He is co-author of a widely distributed book, "No Tillage Farming."

He has served as an agricultural consultant in Nigeria, Argentina and Brazil. An alumnus of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, Phillips obtained a bachelor of science degree in 1948 and a master of science degree in 1954.

Phillips and his wife, Frances, formerly of Harlan County, are the parents of a son, William and reside in Lexington.

Dr. Jack Hilt, also a native of Rockcastle County and currently Chairman of the Department of Agronomy at the University of Kentucky, stated: "Shirley Phillips' research and extension work in no-tillage led to one of the most significant advances in agriculture during the last 50 years. Scientist and farmers world-wide have looked to the University of Kentucky for information on this innovative practice. While no-tillage farming has become a common practice by Kentucky farmers, many states are just beginning to learn the advantages of this system of farming. Shirley's name is synonymous with no-tillage around the world. Rockcastle County can take great pride in his accomplishments."

Annual Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Contest Is Underway

The 1981 Tom Wallace Farm Forestry Awards competition, sponsored by The Courier Journal and The Louisville Times, is now underway throughout Kentucky and 31 Southern Indiana counties.

Kentucky and Southern Indiana farmers and wood land owners nominated by Jonica Gayle Robbins celebrated her 9th birthday March 28 with a party at the home of her parents, Sp/5 and Mrs. William Terry Robbins, Ft. Belvoir, Virginia. Veronica is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Veri Robbins, Rt. 1, Brodhead and Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Anglin, Jr. of Rt. 1, Mt. Vernon and the great granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Gentry, Rt. 1, Brodhead.

their district or service foresters are eligible to compete for the $1,000 in cash prizes that will be awarded for outstanding management of woodlands.

Three top winners will be named in the competition and awarded cash prizes of $500, $350 and $150. The winners, their families and foresters will each receive an all-expense-paid trip to Louisville for the annual Awards Luncheon in March, 1982, where the prizes will be awarded.

In addition to the top three prizes, special recognition will be given to each nominee, and forestry district winners will each receive a personalized plaque.

Woodland owners in all Kentucky counties are eligible (or nomination by Kentucky Division of Forestry district foresters.

Woodland owners who wish to have themselves considered for nomination for the awards should contact their district or service forester, county agricultural or forestry extension agents, or district soil and water conservationist.

Auction

Bullen Brothers'
LOTS - TRACTS - FARMLAND
Saturday, April 18, 1981 1:30 p.m.

Roundstone Section Rockcastle Co., Ky.

LOCATION: Approximately 8 miles South of Bera, Kentucky and 7 miles North of Mount Vernon, Ky. Turn off US 25 at Parsons Gas and Appliance Store and follow auction signs approximately 300 feet to the sale site.

Due to other interests the Bullen Brothers are dissolving their partnership on this land and are offering it for the absolute high bid.

LOTS NO. 1 through 6
Fronts on the Northside of the Scaffold Cane Road, have city water and each measure approximately 1 1/2 acres. Ideal for your new home.

LOT NO. 7
Fronts on both the Scaffold Cane Road and the Roundstone Church Road (Old Conway Road) and contains nearly 7 1/2 acres with 200 feet of road frontage on Scaffold Cane Road and 120 feet on the Roundstone Church Road. It has city water and would be a beautiful home-site.

LOTS NO. 8 and 9
Each front on the Roundstone Church Road and measure 110 x 72' and have city water.

TRACT NO. 1
Contains approximately 6 acres and front on the Roundstone Church Road. A good small farm within itself. City water also available to this tract and it has several good home sites.

The owners reserve the right to group or combine these lots and tract in any manner, and as a whole to reflect the best returns. When combined there will be a total of 14.93 acres in this entire field.

TRACT NO. 2 and 3
Located on the Southside of the Scaffold Cane Road across the road from the aforementioned lots. Tract No. 2 and 3 each contain 1 1/2 acres. Each have 154 feet of road frontage along the Scaffold Cane Road and have city water. They would be ideal for home sites with plenty of "piddling space".

TRACT NO. 4
This tract is a triangular shaped tract and contains 2.31 acres. It fronts on the Scaffold Cane Road a distance of 84 feet and runs along the I. & N Railroad a distance of 600 feet. This tract also has city water available.

The owners reserve the right to sell these tracts and then combine them to reflect the best returns.

TRACT NO. 5
Contains 9.83 acres on the Wildie Road with approximately 5 acres of cleared bottom land and the balance in woodland. This tract has city water available and there is also a creek running through the land to provide stock water.

TRACT NO. 6
Contains 27 acres of fertile farmland and is located just off the Wildie Road. Most all of this tract is level cropland.

TRACT NO. 7
Triangular shaped lot on the northside of Scaffold Cane Road-city water.

Whether you are interested in a choice lot, a good small tract of land, or a farm, then make plans now to attend this Absolute Auction!

TERMS: 20% down day of the sale, the balance in 30 days upon delivery of the deed.

OWNERS: Mr. John D. Bullen, Mr. Joe Bullen and Mr. Tom Bullen.

from the whole student body. He accomplished his mission. Looking back, Mr. Robbins seems to feel that it was incredible that he kept his job all those years when he says the general consensus of the people was that, like a preacher, 2 or 3 years was long enough to be principal. He said he somehow managed to keep a majority of the board on his side by mending fences and not having everybody mad at him at the same time. When they went into the county's system, the pressure on him eased considerably.

He admits that as he got older he mellowed in his attitude, toward such strict discipline and attributes the change in part to the fact that he was not so afraid of losing his job.

He says that he had no real bad discipline problems, but that he used the paddle quite a bit. In later years, he learned to use the end of the year school trip that all classes took as a means of controlling student behavior.

The class trips were the culmination of the school year. In the early days, the big trip was to Mammoth Cave in the back of a pick-up padded with hay. In 1941, the high school took its first out-of-state trip and traveled down through Tennessee and home via Gatlinburg (which had only one motel) on roads that were unbelievably bad.

Each class, even in grade school, went somewhere at the end of the year. It is Mr. Robbins' firm belief that the trips were an invaluable part of the educational process. Many students had never been out of the state or even out of the county until the trips. He cites examples of students who went to New York at the end of the senior year - a much needed experience since a few months later would find them stationed there or in some other big city.

One student burst into tears from the emotion of seeing Niagara Falls for the first time. Mr. Robbins says he was very lucky that no student was hurt and nothing bad happened on the many trips he took students on. It was the general instructions to chaperones on these trips that the students were to be given the responsibility of caring for themselves in the city which sometimes came as a shock to some of the rural, protected students. Mr. Robbins' opinion is that a taste of independence and traveling on one's own is something every high schooler should experience before entering adult life. He believes that the third best way to learn something is to read about it; the second best way is to be told about it and the best way to learn is to see and do which makes the trips in his estimation highly successful.

The trips were financed by various fund raising activities including the Halloween Carnival which Mr. Robbins says served both as a fund raiser and a chance for good will to blossom between the community and the school. The times when the school brings out the parents and friends of students are good for the community not only because it helps promote better understanding and cooperation but it helps create school and community pride.

The money made by each class to compete for the title of King and Queen at the Carnival was used by that class for the school trip. Classes also sold cokes and popcorn at ballgames and performed plays. At one time, the Senior FFA boys kept hogs in a school lot and fed them every afternoon with scraps from the school cafeteria. The profit went to the trip fund. (When residents began to complain of the smell, the project had to be "scrapped.")

On these trips, the only expense students were expected to pay was for food and souvenirs.

Mr. Robbins' trips did not include long bus trips only. In the spring and fall, each class got to go on at least one (sometimes two) field trips. Robbins relieved the teachers of the wriggling children, took them on long afternoon hikes, taught them to identify wild flowers, read them poems about nature and the seasons and, in general, enjoyed the trips as much as the students.

Mr. Robbins resists the philosophy that "in order to learn, students have to be enclosed in a building."

One field trip remains vivid in Mr. Robbins' mind and that is the time he took the fourth graders by himself (a privilege in itself) on a hike up by the swinging bridge near the Christian Church Campground. On the way back, they were due to return before school was out and in an effort to stall so the excited students would not disturb the whole school, he told them they could "wade" in the creek. The day was hot and before he knew it, the wading turned into a swim party, clothes and all. He said he thought he would have turned them off of the creek and back to school. By the time he did, school was out and the buses were waiting on the dripping children. He said he was sure he would receive some calls or notes from irate parents but got none which convinced him that, in most cases, if the children are happy, so would the parents.

One of Mr. Robbins' methods of communicating with students was via the Bulletin Board. Teachers and students had separate bulletin boards both of which were usually read several times a day in anticipation of news or instructions. The official notes were signed "DAR" to which students enjoyed adding "ling". In Mr. Robbins' opinion, one area in which there was a lack of opportunity in the community was cultural advantages. So artists, musicians of all kinds, gymnasts, magicians and actors were engaged through seven yearly Southern Assembly Programs. At the time when there was no TV in the mostly rural homes, these programs plus a few movies the whole school attended, provided all the cultural enrichment most students received. For a nominal fee, classes walked to town to the theatre to see movies including "Gone With the Wind", "Sargeant York", and "The Kentucky Story".

In the beginning the Halloween Carnival was held to make money to pay teachers last two months salary. The West state later financed these 2 months, the school used some of the carnival money to add books to the library. Mr. Robbins says that he was not aware at the time, but that he later learned that Brodhead had built the best elementary library in eastern Kentucky.

He attributes the good library and reading program and contest that required each student to read 3 books a month and gave prizes to students reading the most at the end of the year, as being responsible for the fact that his elementary and high school students usually scored higher on the end of the year achievement tests than those in the other county schools. Some students, he said, read as many as 250 books a year.

Districts now have "money to wallow in" he says. For instance, he feels that now there is little incentive or chance for schools to make a profit from the school lunchroom. Back before the government got so heavily into the lunch program, he was able to accumulate $10,000 in the lunchroom fund much of which he spent on the school before he retired.

Mr. Robbins says that even though public education is under attack, he is very much in favor of it as he believes it is the "great leveler". In his opinion, church and private schools shield children from the real world in which they have to rub elbows with minorities, make decisions about right and wrong and compete on a larger scale. In the early years as he started a career in the field of education, Mr. Robbins said that 70-80 percent of the people in the county could not read or write, now you can't find anyone capable of learning, who is illiterate. In his lifetime, he has seen nothing but improvement county-wide, not only in the field of education but in all aspects of life.

SPEAKING WHILE THE BIBLE SPEAKS

By Austin Mobley
Minister
Providence Church of Christ

Is God the Author of Confusion?

Let us suppose that an evangelist comes to our community to conduct a religious meeting and proceeds as follows:

At the first service, he preaches that salvation is by faith only; but at the next he contents that it is by faith exercised in obedience to the gospel, rather than by faith alone.

At the third service he tells people that they ought to baptize their babies; but at the fourth service, he says that penitent believers are the only spiritual subjects for baptism.

At the fifth service, he preaches once in grace, always in grace, but at the sixth, he tells the people it is possible for them to fall from grace, that some have fallen, and that the New Testament tells how to keep from falling.

At the seventh service he teaches that it is all right to have human creeds; but at the eighth he declares that we should take the Bible as our only guide in religion.

At the ninth service he emphasizes that churches can use instruments of music in worship; then at the tenth service he shows that the New Testament authorizes singing, and warns about adding to the word of God.

No thoughtful person would continue to listen to one preached preaching like that, but the majority of people are perfectly willing for ten preachers to preach these conflicting doctrines. They say that if one man should preach that way, he would contradict himself and, be very inconsistent. But what kind of God do they suppose we have if He endorses all these conflicting doctrines and has sent these preachers to preach them?

The apostle Paul said, "God is not the author of confusion." (1 Cor. 14:33) and that Christians are to "speak the same thing." (1 Cor. 1:1) and "walk by the same rule." (Phil. 3:16).

Property Valuation Administrator

Since I have been your Property Valuation Administrator, I have always tried to uphold the laws pertaining to property assessment procedure, trying to satisfy each and every property owner with their assessment. Sometimes this is hard to do.

Any Property Owner who feels He or She are unfairly assessed, should visit Property Valuation Administrator's Office and I will do everything possible to reach a fair and equitable assessment with you.

I ask each of you to check your property assessment. Then ask yourself, "Is my property assessed a 100% of fair market value?" Then, I believe, you will say, "No." Robert Cromer has been more than fair and we must re-elect him to keep good sound government in the Property Valuation Administrator's Office.

Your Vote and Support will be greatly appreciated.

Mr. Willie Taylor visited Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Long Friday evening.

LADIES AID MISSIONARY SOCIETY MEETS RECENTLY

With Barbara Watson as hostess, nine members were present at the Missionary Meeting of the Ladies Aid of Brodhead Christian Church.

Those present were Margie Shivel, Elizabeth Mullins, Nellie Colson, Loraine Newland, Barbara Watson, Emily Glowak, Ella Mae Martin, Ruth Shivel and Mary Johnson. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Mullins because of the illness of Mrs. Watson's father-in-law.

Minutes of the previous meeting were read by Mrs. Mullins after the meeting was brought to order by Mrs. Watson.

Old business of table cloths being hemmed by Kay Carr was discussed and in the new business, members decided to get some newborn baby clothes for a needy family. More old nylon hose are needed for pillow fillings which some of the church members are making.

Margie Shivel presented the lesson on "The Last Six Days of Christ's Life on Earth," telling the book of the Bible and the verse where this could be found and also told this memorable story in a most interesting way.

Before adjournment, Mrs. Watson served delicious refreshments.

To The Citizens of Rockcastle County

I am a candidate for Sheriff of Rockcastle County, subject to the May Republican Primary. I want to take this time to say a few words about the two men whom I have chosen to serve as your deputies for the entire four year term. Both these men are fully qualified and both have agreed to serve in this capacity the full term of this office. I am proud of both these men and grateful that they will serve in this capacity and I feel sure you will be just as proud of them as I am. This is definitely a three-man sober Sheriff's Department ticket.

Now, let me say here and now that neither I nor my deputies will have anything derogatory to say, now or later, about our opponents whatsoever. There may be some candidates who will start rumors and try to tear down other people and, in the same sentence, try to build themselves up. We promise you here and now that we will not run this type of campaign. The things we want to tell you is what you can expect from us as your Sheriff's Department and not to slander any opponent.

We have agreed to have telephones in each of our homes and radios in our cars so that you can and will have personal contact with your Sheriff's Department 24 hours a day. We believe that a lot of crime could be prevented by the Sheriff's patrol cars just patrolling the roads and being available in any area of our county at a short notice. We plan to work closely with any and all crime prevention groups in the rural and farm areas. Of course, any and all church revivals or public gatherings will be patrolled just to letting us know. We will work with all funeral homes and give escort to all funerals. We will also attend all our school ballgames and school functions to protect our children.

We realize that we cannot stop all the stealing and breaking in of businesses, homes and farms but I guarantee you that we will slow it down and we will be at your side in a very short time when you call us, day or night. Yes, we will answer all your calls at once, not the next day or so.

So, if you are for slowing down crime in Rockcastle County, please consider this Sheriff's Ticket to serve you. We will do you a good job and do Sincerely Appreciate your Support and Vote.

This is not just another political promise that is made every four years. This is our word to you, the citizens of Rockcastle County, to give you the protection and service you deserve from your Sheriff's Department.

SINCERELY,

Oscar "Larney" Durham

Softball Leagues Begin June 1st

The men's and women's slo-pitch softball leagues held annually at the Mt. Vernon grade school field will begin on June 1st. This year's leagues will be limited to 4 teams for the women and 8 teams for the men. The teams will be entered into the leagues on a first come first basis. Anyone wishing to enter a team in the leagues should contact The President of the Recreation Council, Larry Woods at 758-1153 or see him at Rockcastle County High School during the day.

Once a team has been submitted to Mr. Woods they will have until May 22, to pay the entry fee. If the entry fee is not paid by this date the team will be dropped from the league. The entry fees for this season will be $75 for the women and $150 for the men.

The women will play approximately 12 games and the men 14. At the end of the regular season games a double elimination tournament will be held for both leagues. The games will be played on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday with no games played on the weekends. The games will begin at 6:30 with the women playing the first game and the men will start at 7:30. The league and league tournament should be over around August 1st.

Rockets Lose To Model 5-2

The Rockcastle County Rockets baseball team ran into a little bad luck Tuesday when they traveled to Richmond to play the Model Patriots. The Rockets came away with their 7th loss of the season by a score of 5-2.

Late in the game the Patriots had bases loaded when the Rockets made an error allowing 3 runs to cross the plate, which resulted in the difference in the ballgame. Sophomore Spencer-Benge went the distance on the mound picking up the loss. The Rockets are now 3 and 7 on the season. The Rockets will play two games at home this week on Thursday and Friday.

Fishing Report

Crappie are beginning to congregate in shallow water as water temperatures rise in Kentucky's major lakes, but fishing generally is only fair to good around the state. The lake-by-lake rundown, as compiled by the Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources:

Kentucky: crappie good (with some limits) on minnows and stick-ups and shallow cover; black bass slow, in tail-waters, catfish, crappie, and white bass good; clear, rising, 0-2 foot below summer pool and 60 degrees.

Barkley: crappie good on minnows and jigs over shallow submerged cover; in tailwaters, bluegill good on worms and crickets, black bass and white bass fair; clear, rising, 0-9 foot below summer pool and 60 degrees.

Barren: crappie fair on minnows over stick-ups and submerged cover; black bass and white bass fair in headwaters; clear to murky to muddy, rising slowly, 10 feet below summer pool and 61 degrees.

Nolin: crappie fair in headwaters on minnows around stick-ups and shallow cover; black bass slow in heads of Green River: crappie fair on minnows over submerged cover; black bass fair on crankbaits and spinnerbaits; clear to murky rising slowly, four feet below summer pool and 61 degrees.

Cumberland: crappie fair on minnows around stick-ups and submerged cover; white bass fair in heads of creeks; black bass fair in tributaries on spinner baits and crank baits; rockfish fair to good on live shiners and deep runners in Beaver Creek section; in tailwaters; trout good (with some limits) on worms, cheese and corn; clear to murky, rising, 23 feet below the timberline and 59 degrees.

Cave Run: black bass and crappie fair around banks on spinners and jigs; musky fair in headwaters on large plugs, clear to murky to muddy, falling at summer pool and 60 degrees.

Buckhorn: crappie fair over submerged cover; white bass fair in headwaters, clear to murky to muddy, stable at 10 feet below summer pool and 62 degrees.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL PLAYERS LOVE THE GAME

LEXINGTON — Did you know most major college football players play for the love of the game? In a recent survey 60 percent said they play for the enjoyment of the game and the competitive challenge. Only 19 percent of the players play for the grant-in-aid they said was necessary to get an education. Fewer still showed an interest in playing pro football — 14.6 percent. Of course, fewer than that will make it in the play-for-pay game.

The research was done by the College Football Association. The CFA is made up of the biggies, all the major football conferences except the Big (Grand) and Pac 10, and almost all the big independent schools, like Notre Dame.

I was privileged to sit in on a seminar conducted by the CFA last week in Salisbury, N.C. Chuck Neinas, the executive director for the group, discussed the survey that was conducted among the players last fall.

If a player is hoping to be recruited for college football his best bet is to play in the offensive line. He may not get much publicity, but 87 percent of the recruits were offensive linemen. They also go to school longer. Almost 30 percent of the fifth-year players are offensive linemen. I was surprised that physical education is a poor second in the players' field of study. Business was the most popular with 33.7 percent studying business administration. Only 11.5 percent are majoring in phys ed.

The majority of major college football players come from small cities or rural areas. More than 61 percent were raised in communities of 100,000 or less.

Not surprisingly, the players selected their parents as the ones they would consult for advice by a 2-to-1 margin over the coaching staff.

Mom and Dad still have the best answers. At least the most honest ones.

The Easter Bunny Is On His Way

How To Boil a Good Easter Egg
Fill a saucepan half full with warm water. Carefully lower room temperature eggs into the water. Bring to a boil. Place a lid on and remove from heat for 12 to 15 minutes. Remove eggs into a bowl of cold water.

This works beautifully. You have soft, hard cooked eggs with no green around the yolk. Note: Older eggs are easier to peel than fresh eggs.

Decorating ideas

If you would like to keep decorative eggshells, here's an idea you might want to try. With a needle, puncture both ends of an egg then blow the contents out one end. You can decorate these eggshells any way you like and keep on hand for years to come.

Easter Beets and Eggs

1 lb. uncut sliced beets
6 hard cooked eggs
1/4 cup vinegar
2 1/2 to 4 inch cinnamon sticks
1/2 teaspoon whole cloves
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon sugar
Vinegar

Drain beets, reserving 1/4 cup liquid in saucepan. Place beets and eggs in quart jar. Combine reserved beet liquid and 1/4 cup vinegar, cinnamon sticks, cloves, salt and sugar in a small saucepan, bring to a boil. Pour liquid mixture over beets and eggs. Fill jar to top with vinegar. Refrigerate and use within one week. Yield: 6 servings.

Homemade Candy Eggs

1/4 pound butter
1 can sweetened condensed milk
2 pounds sifted confectioners sugar

Mix the above ingredients together and add your own flavoring and/or fruits and nuts. Shape the candy into any size, shape eggs that you so desire and place the eggs on a sheet of wax paper in your refrigerator overnight or in your freezer for one hour in order that they may harden for dipping.

To chocolate coat your Easter egg, take one large chocolate bar plus 1/2 stick of paraffin and melt these ingredients in a double boiler. Drop your cold Easter egg into chocolate coating and immediately lift it out with a fork and place it on a sheet of wax paper to finish drying. Recipe makes five pounds of candy or 30 small eggs.

Four years ago, the people of Rockcastle elected Irene Bales as County Clerk. At that time, several people were under the impression that she would not run for another term.

Mrs. Bales has changed her mind, whatever the reasons, and wants the people to give her four more years. If elected, she will have served in office a total of 20 years.

I, for one, feel the people have been gracious enough. It's time to elect someone who will serve the people with kindness and honesty all four years and not just at election time.

Adjust Ration When Changing Dairy Forage

Spring weather bringing an end to the winter feeding season is a signal for dairymen to make plans for changing the type of forage feed to their herds.

"The change from corn silage to small grain silage or pasture will require adjustments in rations," said Dr. Gary Lane, Extension dairy specialist in the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

Protein levels can be reduced by 2 to 3% while grain or concentrate amounts should be increased by 2 to 4 pounds a day. "This will make up for the energy lost in switching from corn silage," added Lane.

Lane said that if alfalfa hay is dropped from the ration, dairymen may need to watch calcium and phosphorus levels in the grain mix.

As temperatures begin to increase, Lane suggested feeding fresh silage three times per day to keep intake high.

The specialist recommended using wheat silage as long as it's supplemented with additional energy. "Many dairymen don't get the maximum potential from wheat silage because of improper supplementation," Lane said.

Receives License

The Motor Vehicle Dealer Board approved 46 licenses for auto dealerships throughout the state in a recent meeting.

Receiving a permanent dealers license from Rockcastle County was Roger's E. dy Shop and Used Cars, Livingston.

Dollar Stretching

The American Cancer Society is able to keep its fund-raising costs low because the Society's programs are carried out primarily by more than two million volunteers. The Society's ration of volunteers to staff is 800 to 1.

Ben Ponder, 4, of Scaffold Cane holds a 3 3/4 pound "dry land fish" his father, Marvin Ponder recently brought in from the woods. This variety of mushroom, which many local residents fry and eat, can be found in the woods from early spring through summer if there is enough moisture in the ground.

RECEIVES ACCREDITATION

On March 20, 1981 John E. Affeldt, M.D., President of the Chicago based Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals (JCAH) notified the Cumberland River District Health-Mental Retardation Board, Inc. of its two year accreditation to operate psychiatric facilities.

The JCAH and its member organizations: the American College of Physicians, the American Hospital Association, the American College of Surgeons, and the American Medical Association have developed national standards of excellence for the delivery of mental health development disabilities services.

On January 13-16, 1981 three mental health professionals from Atlanta, New York City and Massachusetts reviewed the Cumberland River MH-MR programs. During their visit 1700 standards of excellence were compared to activities carried out by the mental health-mental retardation program. Questionnaires were gathered from the community, all service sites were visited, clients were interviewed, evaluation of treatment techniques outcome was conducted, and staff members were interviewed.

At this time the Cumberland River District MH-MR Board, Inc. operates the only community mental health center in the State of Kentucky that has two maximum two-year accreditation awards as a psychiatric facility. The JCAH review is the nationally recognized professional evaluation accruing accreditation of mental health development disability services.

Relief From Noxious Weeds. In Sight

Landowners with property adjacent to state-owned right of way may soon get relief from noxious weeds.

Kentucky's noxious weed law provides that the state will destroy noxious weeds on state-owned right of way at the request of the adjoining property owner.

The noxious weeds named in the law are Johnson grass, giant foxtail, Canada thistles, nodding thistles, and multiflora rose.

"Destroying the noxious weeds on just the right of way or just the adjoining property does not solve the problem," said George Franke, assistant state highway engineer. "Runners or windblown seed can cause the weeds to crop up again."

A joint effort between the state and the property owners must be made to destroy the noxious weeds, he said.

In Memory of Ulysses Crank Who Died April 8, 1980

April 8, was the day My father died No one will ever know The sorrow I felt inside.

It seems like yesterday That I touched his smiling face Now, memories of a solid in my mind And nothing can erase.

My father is in Heaven, now I miss him more each day Until I can be with him In my heart, daddy, you will stay.

IRENE BALES FOR COUNTY CLERK

In keeping you informed of my race for the office of County Clerk, I wish to announce that I am making the race alone. I am not connected with any other candidate seeking other offices.

Due to the heavy load of work involved with the clerk's office and realizing my duty and responsibility in this office, I will not be able to see everyone concerning my candidacy. So, if I don't see you, I would appreciate your vote and support.

I take pride in serving you with dedication and an efficient office. The clerk's office is an important one and I realize how important it is to keep the records correctly.

And, if elected, I pledge the same type of dedicated service. Your vote and anything you can do for me will be greatly appreciated.

Cystic Fibrosis Campaign

Cystic Fibrosis is the most common, fatal genetic disease in America. Presently, there is no cure for Cystic Fibrosis. The basic cause of the disease is not known, however, with early detection and comprehensive treatment, a child with Cystic Fibrosis has a 50 percent chance of surviving past the age of 18.

"In order to begin treatment in the early stages, detection of the disease is vital," says Lester Caldwell, Chairman of the Cystic Fibrosis "Breath of Spring" Campaign in Rockcastle County.

The signs of Cystic Fibrosis are recurrent wheezing, persistent coughing with excessive mucus, pneumonia more than once, excessive appetite, but poor weight gain, and clubbing (enlargement of the fingertips). More specific signs of CF include a salty taste to the skin, nasal polyps and persistent, bulky diarrhea.

A child with one or more of these signs should be examined by a physician.

The research, care and education programs of the Cystic

Spelling Bee Is April 21st

The Woman's Club Spelling Bee (for adults) will be held in the upper court room in the courthouse Tuesday night, April 21st, beginning at 7:30. Anyone willing to be a contestant or wanting to know more about the event should call Nancy Mullins at 256-4252 or 256-2244.

Mrs. Mullins urges all men and women to join contestants in an effort to see who are better spellers, men or women.

The public is invited to attend the Spelling Bee. A 50 cents admission will be charged spectators to cover awards costs.

Fibrosis Foundation are supported in large by the funds raised in the annual "Breath of Spring" Campaign.

According to Campaign Chairman, Lester Caldwell, Rockcastle County's "Breath of Spring" campaign will include a Walk-a-Thon to be held on Saturday, April 25th beginning at Denny's Grocery on Highway 461. The Walk-a-Thon will begin at 9 a.m. In order to participate, individuals must obtain a sponsor sheet from one of the following elementary schools, Mt. Vernon, Brodhead or Roundstone.

For more information, contact Lester Caldwell, at 256-4509.

Scaffold Cane To Show Gospel Film

On Easter Sunday night, April 19th, the Scaffold Cane Baptist Church will show a gospel film entitled "Climb a Tall Mountain." The film is in color and is 45 minutes long. This spiritually uplifting film was photographed entirely on location in the majestic Swiss Alps. Its message of love and forgiveness comes alive in a heart-warming way through the lives of the cast. The showing will be during the 7 p.m. worship service. Everyone is invited to attend and see this film designed for the entire family.

COUNTY ATTORNEY

Rockcastle County

Dear Friends and Fellow Citizens of Rockcastle County:

I wish to take this opportunity to express my heartfelt appreciation for the strong showing of support so many of you have given me in my race for County Attorney. I want you to know that I genuinely appreciate it.

In past issues of this newspaper, I have introduced myself and told you of my pledge to work with other law enforcement officials to bring strict law enforcement to Rockcastle County. This is in keeping with my belief that you deserve to know what a candidate believes in and feels is important.

This week; ladies and gentlemen, I wish to discuss a particular type of law enforcement problem of which many of you have expressed a great deal of concern. I am talking about stealing and break-ins and I want you to know I share your concern. I, for one, think it is absolutely terrible when a man and woman work all their lives to accumulate something only to have it stolen by some hoodlum who breaks into their home while they are away. Recently, this happened to a couple while they were at church. My pledge to you is that I will prosecute these criminals to the fullest and do my best to get them out of your homes and into jail where they belong.

In future issues of this newspaper, I will be discussing other concerns that you have suggested and ways that we can make our already good county even better.

Help me to help you.

Yours for a better Rockcastle County,

James H. Lambert

Notice is hereby given that Continental Telephone Company of Kentucky has filed tariffs with the Public Service Commission of Kentucky increasing its rates for local exchange service in all exchanges served by the Company. The effectiveness of these tariffs has been suspended by the Public Service Commission, pending a public hearing thereon which has been scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Eastern Daylight Time on Tuesday, May 4, 1981, in the Commission's offices in Frankfort, Kentucky.

The rates contained in this notice are the rates proposed by Continental Telephone Company. However, the Public Service Commission may, after evidentiary hearings, order rates to be charged that differ from those proposed rates. Such action may result in an increase in rates for consumers other than those included in this notice. The proposed rates, which are uniform within each group and applicable to each exchange, are as follows:

Where Does It All Go?

"How do you folks spend this dollar I'm about to give to the American Cancer Society?"

This was the question an American Cancer Society volunteer was asked last April during the Society's educational and fund raising Cancer Crusade, and she was glad to give a detailed answer, said Mike Bryant, Chairman of the 1981 event now underway in Rockcastle County.

"We want everyone to know what happens to the dollars it digs down to give each year to help defeat cancer," he declared.

"This year ACS budgeted more than $149 million of which approximately $117 million went into programs of research, education, service, and rehabilitation, Bryant said. Fund-raising accounted for 12 cents of each dollar, or $18 million, while management of the Society's affairs took nearly 10 cents, or $14.4 million.

FIRST BIRTHDAY-- Christy Lynn Mink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mink, celebrated her first birthday April 14th at her home. Maternal grandparents are Mrs. Wanda Hopkins of Brodhead, Arthur McHargue of Greenwood, Indiana and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds of Mt. Vernon.

Research, which he said is making steady gains against cancer, received about 32 cents of each dollar, or about $48 million, according to Bryant.

Patient and community services such as the Reach-to-Recovery program for women who've had breast surgery, or teaching people to talk after they've lost their voices to throat cancer surgery, nursing and homemaking services, transportation and mass screening received nearly $20 million, or about 19 cents of each dollar.

"Cancer prevention programs such as those which seek to reduce lung cancer deaths by encouraging people to drop the cigarette habit received about 16 cents of each dollar, or nearly $25 million, Bryant said. Other programs in this category aim at the earlier detection of cancer.

Nearly 10 cents of each dollar, or about $14.4 million, was allocated to professional education. These programs keep physicians, dentists, nurses and other medical personnel up-to-date on latest developments in the diagnosis and treatment of cancer.

"In spite of severe inflationary trends, we were able to keep tight control over our administrative costs and keep them within acceptable limits," Bryant commented. "We've held the line through the efforts of dedicated volunteers who give so generously of time as well as money," Bryant said.

To All Citizens Of Rockcastle County

I would like to express my sincere appreciation to all of you who have been so kind as to offer your encouragement and support since I announced my candidacy for the office of Rockcastle County Judge Executive.

I would also like to take this opportunity to remind everyone of the importance of Monday, April 27th. If you are not a registered voter, then this will be the last day in which you will be able to register to vote in the Primary. The right to vote to choose those who will serve you is a privilege that more and more persons are neglecting or even completely giving up. It seems that many people have become indifferent because they feel that government no longer cares about the problems of the common man. However, if you, the people of Rockcastle County, choose me to be your next County Judge Executive, I assure you that I will not forget that you elected me to serve you, and not the other way around.

I have a deep love and respect for the people of Rockcastle County and I have a sincere desire to work for the betterment of our county, not only for ourselves, but also for our children and grandchildren.

So, please take time to register before April 27 then you will be able to cast your vote for those who you feel will serve you best. I would very like very much to serve you as your next County Judge Executive.

Young Taylor County Farmer Depends on Burley Tobacco

In days of inflation and recession, economic security is sometimes hard to find. Farmers face even more uncertainty than others, since weather and pest problems plague crops and animals. But Taylor County farmer Stephen Crawley believes he has found a sure thing — burley tobacco.

"Tobacco is the most dependable income we have," Crawley said. "With our other crops, we lose money as many years as we show a profit, but that's not the case with tobacco."

Twenty-six-year-old Crawley was named an Outstanding Young Tobacco Farmer in March in a recognition program sponsored by Philip Morris U.S.A. and the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. Each year, seven Kentucky burley growers, under age 35, are recognized for sound tobacco production practices and strong leadership qualities.

Crawley farms full time in a family operation. Along with his father, Herman, and his brother, Charles, Crawley owns and operates a 600-acre farm in their south-central Kentucky county.

They grow 115 acres of corn, 100 acres of mixed hay and 25 acres each of alfalfa and wheat. They also have a 165-cow beef herd and farrow 50 sows, from which they market 150 feeder calves and 750 hogs each year.

The farm also produces about 11 acres of burley tobacco, a crop smaller in size than the others but just as important. Crawley realizes half his income from tobacco.

"The man in general makes more true profit from tobacco than from the other operations," he said. "Cattle and hogs take more time, but in an average year, don't bring in as much income as the tobacco."

Crawley learned early the value of tobacco. His grandparents and parents always had raised burley; he grew up with it. At age 13, he first had his own share of the family crop — an acre that yielded 3,000 pounds.

He continued to work the farm — and the tobacco — as he earned a bachelor's degree in mathematics and a teacher's certificate from Campbellsville College. He did not look for a teaching job, however, but returned to farming full time, in partnership with his father and brother.

Crawley is primarily responsible for the tobacco crop, although the entire family pitches in, including Crawley's wife, Lora, 25. She is a home maker, caring for their 20-month-old daughter, Cara, 5.

The family provides most of the labor necessary to work the tobacco — one reason they have been able to keep down production costs.

"Our out-of-pocket expenses are just under 10 cents a pound," Crawley said, "not including the costs of family labor, land or machinery."

But the Crawley family cannot provide enough hands or man-hours to raise as much tobacco as Crawley would like. Not much experienced hired labor is available either, he said.

"There's a lot of industry in the area, so there's competition for what labor is available," he said.

Because of labor shortages, Crawley has rented out tobacco acreage for the past three years. In 1980, he grew less than half of the total crop raised on his farm. This year, three others besides the family — a neighbor, a local farmer and a school teacher, will raise tobacco on Crawley land.

The option to lease is one reason tobacco is an economic sure thing.

"We still have the quota," Crawley said, "so tobacco guarantees us an income whether we raise it or rent it out to someone else."

The arrangement brings mutual benefits. Although the crops are separate, Crawley and the others work together to make up a full crew, especially at cutting time. "We're all in the same shape — short on help," he said.

Crawley sees no fast or easy solutions to the labor problems most tobacco producers face. A breakthrough in mechanization, such as a tobacco harvester, or baled tobacco, or alternate barns, may help ease labor problems, he said.

In the meantime, Crawley strives for increased yields of highest-quality tobacco. He looks for innovative, efficient production practices that make good use of valuable time and labor.

He uses recommendations from the UK Cooperative Extension Service and has conducted his own experiments to determine the tobacco varieties, herbicides and insecticides that work best. He has his soil tested to determine what fertilizers he needs. He also applies insecticides directly into the soil before setting in the tobacco, instead of hand spraying later.

To ensure high-quality leaf, Crawley uses recommended varieties, tops and sprays for suckers and houses and strips the tobacco in three grades.

Crawley is active in tobacco affairs in his county as he attends tobacco meetings held locally by UK and is working with James Perkins, Taylor County Extension agent for agriculture, to establish a county extension tobacco committee. He also serves as director of the Green River Feeder Calf Association and is a member of the Central Kentucky Pork Producers Association.

Crawley believes that in spite of problems tobacco growers face, such as labor shortages and rising production costs, tobacco will continue to be an important — and profitable — crop for producers in his area, because, he said, "it's something they can depend on."
