C.A.P. celebrates 25 years

The Christian Appalachian Project celebrates 25 years of service to people of eastern Kentucky this year. The roots of the organization reach deeper than its incorporation in 1964. As Rev. Beiting, the founder, was assigned to minister work on the western edge of Kentucky's Appalachian region when he was ordained a priest in 1950. Within 18 years he established churches in Lancaster, Berea, McKees, and Mt. Vernon.

As Rev. Beiting ministered in the four counties for which he was pastor, he saw a need to help people economically and spiritually poor. He saw a need to minister to Catholic and Protestant alike.

For years he provided limited financial assistance in emergency situations and used clothing. Then one day he realized that there was need to do more for people's despair and loss of hope than caring for their immediate needs.

Rev. Beiting has often told the story of returning to Berea from a clothes collecting trip in his native northern Kentucky. He was driving a pickup truck south on U.S. 421, approaching Big Hill near Berea.

"He looked around and thought, 'If I do nothing more, I'll be a truck driver for the rest of my life.' That's when I decided more needed to be done."

In 1957 Rev. Beiting and volunteers started a summer camp for poor children in Garrard, Madison, Jackson, and Rockcastle counties. The camp was located on Herrington Lake in Garrard County, and was called Clifview Lodge.

As Rev. Beiting saw more opportunities for ministry, he expanded his programs beyond human services to include economic development. He added a green house for commercial flowers, a wood products shop, and a farm in Jackson County to existing programs of used clothing outlets, emergency assistance, summer camp, Christmas baskets, and Bible schools. These new programs were designed to create jobs. They eventually became independent businesses.

Founded amidst the War on Poverty, the Christian Appalachian Project is a generally operated independent of government funding. Today donations from individuals in 50 states provide 85 percent of the project's revenue.

This source of income has allowed the organization to grow in programs and in territory. The project's programs, originally offered in the counties where Rev. Beiting pastored, presently touch people in most of Kentucky's 49 Appalachian counties and six Appalachian states.

Volunteers have been instrumental in the development of the Christian Appalachian Project. In the beginning nearly all of the project's work was dependent on volunteers from Kentucky and across the country. Now most of the work is by paid personnel, with more than 30 long-term volunteers providing vital support, and many times future employees.

Volunteers and employees work together in spouse abuse shelters, a home for the elderly services, child development centers, a shelter workshop for the handicapped, G.E.D. preparation and tutoring, literacy, a scholarship awarded on the basis of community service, a Christian school, outreach ministries, which include emergency assistance, home repair for the elderly, handicapped, and low income, Christmas baskets, teen and youth centers, summer camps, health education, used clothing stores, and sharing in-kind donations throughout the region.

The focus of these programs has been the nurturing of the spirit as well as the caring of physical and emotional needs. Rev. Beiting believes that a person is not helped by giving him or her a hand out.

"You must give them a hand up," he often says. "You can always give them fish; that is temporary. If you teach them to fish, that is a lifetime."

Some achievements are listed below: Homes of 4,015 elderly, indigent or handicapped people in Appalachia have been repaired through CAP's Home Repair Program (est. 1978).

Brodhead Christian takes in drama

An estimated 5,000 families have received seeds, fertilizer, canning materials and growing/preserving instruction as part of CAP's Small Grants/Small Farms Program (est. 1979) to provide fresh produce on the table and a supply of fruits and vegetables for the winter.

More than 25,000 Christmas "baskets" of food, clothing and toys have been distributed to below-poverty-line families by CAP's Annual Christmas Basket Program.

An estimated 10,000 Appalachian children have attended summer camps established by CAP. Since 1984, 2,161 men and women have received instruction towards their Graduate Equivalent Diploma (G.E.D.) by CAP teachers.

Some 20,000 Appalachian senior citizens have served by CAP's Elderly Programs, which include visitation, transport, help with chores, health care and social activities. Well over a thousand pre-school age youngsters have attended CAP's child development day care centers since the first center opened in 1972.

During the fiscal year ended August 31, 1988, 82 non-profit Appalachian community and church groups received financial aid from CAP for local social service and educational programs.

The figures do not include the great additional numbers CAP serves through its economic development, health-care, job training, literacy, respite care, after-school and emergency assistance programs, as well as through its shelters, used clothing stores and wide distributions of contributed food and household goods.

Brodhead Christian takes in drama

Several members of the Brodhead Christian Church traveled to see the outside drama, Redemption Road, Saturday evening, Aug. 19. The site of this drama is in Lincoln County, near Stanford.

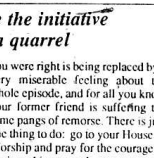

As the audience sat on chairs that had been placed on wide concrete bleachers, they were entertained by musicians until darkness obscured the grassy stage.

The scenes on this stage were spot-lit. Places on the hillside, as well as buildings in the background, offered props for some of the cast of characters.

These actors and actresses depicted the life of Jesus' ministry on this earth. The verbal quotes, from the Bible, were loud and clear. Sometimes it sounded as if the words came from the hills.

Some scenes brought tears to the beholders eyes when Jesus was scorned and rejected as the Son of God. But the spectators left a happy mood, after viewing Christ's victorious ascension!

Faith bids us take the initiative in mending a quarrel

You two have been good friends for a long time. Perhaps you share a common interest, and that might be something really worthwhile project. Your relationship has survived a number of minor disagreements with no hard feelings - until now. Suddenly a major quarrel erupted, beginning with a mere difference of opinion and ending with some heated words; so that you are no longer on speaking terms. However, your assurance that you were right is being replaced by a very miserable feeling about the whole episode, and for all you know your former friend is suffering the same pangs of remorse. There is just one thing to do: go to your House of Worship and pray for the courage to begin making amends, no matter who was at fault. Your faith forbids you to let your pride end a close friendship because of one incident, so take that first step without any further delay. You will feel much better for it.

"If you forgive men their trespasses, your heavenly Father will also forgive you."
Matthew 6:14

Quarrels would not last long if the fault were only on one side.

Rockcastle Manufacturing addition approved

By: Ray McClure

A $1.9 million expansion project that will eventually add 60 new employees at Rockcastle Manufacturing is planned by the Cintas Corporation of Cincinnati, parent company to the local firm.

Groundbreaking for the 16,000 square foot addition has not been scheduled, but it is expected within a few weeks, perhaps days, company officials told the Rockcastle Industrial Authority at a meeting Friday.

The new addition is estimated to cost about $800,000 and the equipment about $1.1 million.

At the authority meeting, an extension of the company's lease until the year 2001 was approved by the authority and owner of the building, Kentucky Highlands Real Estate Corporation of London. The present lease was to have expired June 30, 1992.

The 60 employees will be hired over a two-year period, the company reported. The factory currently has 186 employees. The company opened the plant in July 1979. It makes uniform pants and produces 4,536 a day. When the addition is completed, it will produce over 6,000 a day.

The lot on which the plant is located belongs to the authority for which they receive $113.63 a month in rent.

This will be the second major expansion of a plant in the industrial park. Mt. Vernon Plastics completed an addition several months ago.

Also located in the industrial park is Rockcastle Redi-Mix, a subsidiary of Somerset Redi-Mix.

The industrial park now has about 30 acres still available for industry and several companies have looked at the sites but none have yet committed.

The county also has a 63 acre site available for industrial development. It is located on the former Henderson property on old Ky. 761. It has also been shown to prospective companies but none have made commitments.

Murder trial for Bowling in November

Prosecutors plan to seek the death penalty for a second gas station attendant murderer Ronald Lee Bowling when he comes to trial in Laurel Circuit Court Nov. 13.

Commonwealth Attorney for Laurel County Tom Handy said it was a difficult decision to make, but "in this case the aggravated circumstances are great enough that the death penalty should be an option for the jury."

Bowling, 20, of Burning Springs in Clay County, is charged with the Jan. 20 murder of Ronald Lee Smith at a London service station and the Feb. 25 shooting death of Marvin Hensley of Mt. Vernon, at Hensley's Service Station at Pittsburg in Laurel County.

Bowling is also charged with the attempted murder and robbery of Rick Smith, 32, attendant at Quality Sunco service station at Burr.

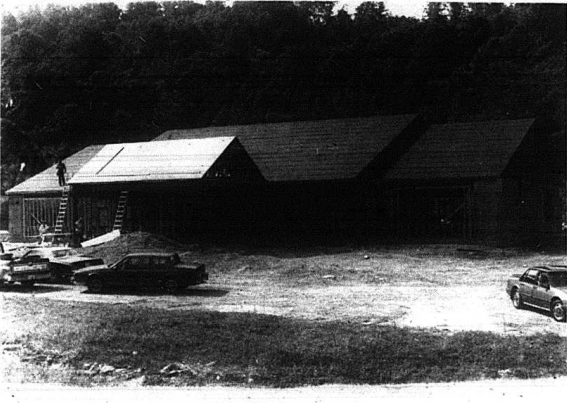

Bowling was arrested Feb. 25 after he shot it out with Smith during a failed robbery attempt at the Burr station.

A high speed chase through Rockcastle, Laurel and Clay counties between Bowling and State Police troopers followed the shootout. Bowling was arrested at his home in Burning Springs.

Bowling is also indicted on two counts each of first degree burglary and first degree robbery in connection with the shootings.

No bond has been set since his arrest because the crimes have been listed as capital offenses.

Bowling is represented by Attorney Cletus Maricle of Manchester.

New Comprehensive Care Center building is under construction just east of Valley View Apartments in Mt. Vernon. General contractor is Eubank Steel of Lexington. Subcontractor is P & R Construction of Mt. Vernon.

Care building progressing

Work on the new Comprehensive Care facility in Mt. Vernon is progressing well.

Plans are to move into the new building, located on old U.S. 25 south, in late fall.

The plant will house a child development program for approximately 40 children - three to five years old. It will also house day treatment programs and training programs for handicapped adults. Outpatient psychiatric clinics will also be conducted there.

All of these services are currently being provided at the Maple Grove Child Development Center, at two trailers across from the hospital in Mt. Vernon, and in the outpatient trailer next to Mt. Vernon Automotive.

The Comprehensive Care Center is operated by the Cumberland River Regional Mental Health/Mental Retardation Board that has programs in eight counties.

The fiscal year 1989 annual report from that agency reveals the following: Total number of clients up by 33 percent over fiscal year 1988; cost per client served down 9.5 percent from fiscal year 1988; received three year accreditation from the Joint Commission "on Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, February 1989; state licensure review found no deficiencies, judged against over 700 standards, May 1989; fiscal year 1989 income over expense was $395,174.47.

The new facility will be called the Cox/Mullins Building. This in honor of the Cox Family (Attorney Jerry Cox, Vicki Cox, William S. Cox, Rae W. Cox) for their contribution of land on which to build the structure. It is also in honor of Roland D. Mullins, executive director of the board, for his efforts to obtain the building for Rockcastle clients.

Mullins indicated that completion of an adequate building in which those services to the individual clients and their families could be delivered has been a dream of his for some time. Further, he is very pleased that it

County tax rate same as last year, Fiscal Court told

By: Ray McClure

The 1989-90 tax rate for Rockcastle County remains the same as the previous fiscal year, according to figures made public at a called meeting of the Rockcastle Fiscal Court Friday.

That was good news for county taxpayers, and there was more. The county continues to grow. The total county tax assessment jumped over $2 million during the year to an all time high of $137,704,431.

The tax rate on which individual county taxes are figured remains at 8.5 cents per $100 of assessed property value. That will bring in $119,615 in tax revenue to the county.

In fact, only one tax rate increased. Bank new shares rate is 23.69 cents per $100 which will raise $15,785 for the county. The bank shares rate last year was 22.78 cents per $100.

In the area of tangible personal property, the county tax rate is 8.2 cents per $100 which will raise $20,513.

Motor vehicle tax rate is also 8.2 cents per $100 which will raise $24,872.

Other tax rates included: School tax rate -- 29.9 cents per $100; Library tax -- 1.4 cents real estate per $100; 1.1 cents per $100 tangible (personal) per $100.

Soil Conservation District -- real estate, .7 tenths of a cent per $100; Health -- both real estate and tangible 3.2 cents per $100.

Extension service -- both real estate and tangible 2.5 cents per $100.

Forest land tax -- 3 cents per acre for forest fire protection on all privately owned forest land.

A breakdown of the county assessment on which state and local taxes are figured shows: Real estate, $137,704,431, an increase of $2,407,874 over last year's assessed $135,296,557.

Tangible (personal) property, $11,344,346 up $2,469,520 over 1988-89. Fiscal year total of $8,874,817.

Personal service company real estate, $1,019,042, up $308,519 over last year.

However, public service company tangible property fell $393,035 from a high in 1988-89 fiscal year of $14,064,941 to $13,671,906.

Water Bids

Bids on a water project for southern Lincoln and northern Pulaski counties came in as a surprise for officials when bids were opened last Thursday.

Karsh Construction Co. of Mt. Vernon was low bidder on the water line at $689,937. Engineer for the project, Jack Crawford of Burnside, had estimated the water line at $801,000.

When completed the line will serve 23 businesses and residences in the Eubank area.

"Pot" vs tobacco in profit ballgame

By: Jim Griesch

Law enforcement officials say there is simply too much money involved to keep some from being tempted to grow marijuana.

"The money, or the chance to make money -- all free and untaxed -- is so great that growers are finding new ways regularly to hide their crops. The marijuana plants can be found in national forests, along creeks, on the tops of mountains, between rows of 'legal' crops such as corn or tobacco, in gardens, cultivated indoors in special planters, and just about anywhere else the inventive mind can find."

The past two summers, state troopers, Drug Enforcement Agency personnel, other federal officers, sheriff's department personnel, city police, conservation officers and others have all been involved in locating and destroying the crops while still in the ground.

Growers have become more sophisticated in how they protect their crops, too.

Explosive devices, listening devices; guns, knives, sharp objects, and armed guards, are all currently used.

For the kind of money found in growing pot plants in Rockcastle County alone, why not.

The estimated profit in the county in 1989 is put at about $6.1 million.

That's over $8 million more than the estimated gross for tobacco growers in Rockcastle.

Harold Ballinger of the local ASCS office puts the 1989 burley gross at $4,958,099.10, or more than $1.1 million less than the projected pot intake.

Ballinger says that burley growers can expect price supports for best grades of leaf at $1.62 per hundred, and of that, growers can expect only about 62 cents of profit.

That means that the next for burley in Rockcastle will only be about $2 million.

What that means is that marijuana is worth at least $4 million more in actual take home pay than burley tobacco.

No other county crop is worth mentioning in terms of money when compared with the two.

Ballinger also says that there are some 1,712 quotas split among about 900 growers, and that the average net per grower is only $15,000.

Very few of the county's growers depend solely on burley for a livelihood, Ballinger said. Many of those growers have full-time or part-time jobs elsewhere, and use their tobacco profits to pay for big ticket items, such as autos, trucks, vacations or for,

Apartment ruined by fire
Lora Lee Duncan's apartment in Valley View was destroyed by fire last Wednesday, Aug. 16. Firemen say they believe the fire began in a couch, and smoke was pouring from the space when they arrive. Duncan and her three children lived there. All their belongings were lost. A workman at a nearby construction, Don Swisshelm, is credited with keeping the fire from spreading by using a garden hose to spray the fire until firemen arrived.

They killed them. The creek was named for the black man who was killed by the Indians.

Mr. Allen had a tomahawk he had purchased from Uncle Jake Johnson, who with his wife and parents, are buried in the Negro Creek Cemetery. The tomahawk was taken from the Indians that had killed the black man and in turn were killed by the white men.

You may want to reprint that article again soon. Let's not take away the respect and honor from the ones who died helping to get the state of Kentucky and Rockcastle County started on the road to becoming the great state and county they are.

If I were to move back I would be proud to live on Negro Creek, with the good people who live there now. Let us all strive to make this world a better place for all people to live in with love, peace and justice for all.

Dear Editor,

The Fair Housing Amendments Act of 1988 became effective on March 12, 1989, and provides that two additional categories -- handicapped and families with children -- shall not be discriminated against. Advertising for rent or sale of all dwelling units must be applied in a nondiscriminatory manner.

Person advertising units for sale or rent are no longer permitted to advertise with the use of the term "adult" or "all adult". This is a violation of the familial status provisions. The law also states that a complaint may be filed against any person, organization, firm or other enterprise associated with the allegations of discrimination. This could include a newspaper or other communication media that published an unlawful advertisement.

Sincerely,
Ginger Van Ness

Dear Editor,

As the debate on the issue of changing the name of Negro Creek Road heats up I feel compelled to join the issue. I grew up on Bowling Ridge Road. I lived there until September of 1941 and still own the land we lived on when we moved away and pay taxes every year to Rockcastle County. My children went their first years to Negro Creek School, for which I am glad. I have both parents, two brothers, one sister, two brothers-in-law, two nephews, three sisters-in-law, and my wife's parents, two sisters, two uncles, grandparents, two aunts, nephews and cousins are buried in the Negro Creek Cemetery.

In December of 1986 we set up a trust fund for perpetual care of the cemetery. It is registered as a tax free non-profit organization with the U.S. government and has a tax free number which we would have to change. I am sure some deeds to land call for the Negro Creek Road as corners or lines.

As for the disrespect to the black people or Negro race, some years ago the Signal published an article by Mr. Millard Allen on how Negro Creek got its name. A group of men or soldiers, I believe, were camped there with a black man who was tending the horses. He was killed during the night by Indians. The next day the men tracked down the Indians and

Points East

By: Ike Adams

I have been asked yet again to expound on my contention that there is a place, if not an absolute need, for old fashioned outhouses in modern society. In the first place, nobody believes that I'd use one if I had it, in the second place I'm constantly reminded that they are grossly unsanitary and inconvenient.

You'll just have to take my word for the fact that I prefer outdoor accommodations to indoor plumbing most of the time. Obviously when the temperature is below freezing and there's a foot of snow on the ground there's some validity to the argument about inconvenience. But unsanitary? Compared to what?

The beach at Fort Boonesboro has been closed for the summer because the water in the Kentucky River is so full of you-know-what that it's not safe to be around. I've personally seen the same stuff that anyone can see by looking down the hole of an outhouse floating on the surface. There's not much protest about the closing either except from a gathering lobby that wants a swimming pool installed. But the point is that the pollution in the river didn't get there because folks have been shoveling it from their outhouses. Modern plumbing is largely responsible for the mess the river is in.

Those of us who live down here can't blame that mess on the counties at the upper end of the river. What I've seen has been too fresh to have floated that far. My best guess is that it originated in either Madison or Clark County! And the same folks who look no in the eye and talk about how sanitary outhouses are get their drinking water out of the Kentucky River!!!

There's nothing so unsanitary about an outhouse that a bag of lime won't cure. And of course digging a new hole every year or two is not a pleasant proposition, but that's about all that's required to keep its contents from getting in the river. You simply cover the old hole up with the dirt out of the new one.

I have a friend who works for an environmental concern in Rockcastle County who maintains that outhouses may help to make a come back. He believes that within ten years legislation will be passed requiring every sewer system in the state to have a treatment system such that the water is fit to drink when it leaves the system. The net result of that would be that 95% of the people living in the Kentucky River Basin would have to commence giving serious consideration to alternative toiletry.

My friend, however, is onto a system that is virtually an outhouse in the house. It's not that dissimilar from the standard john we now use except that it doesn't flush or drain into a septic tank or sewer line. It's a self-contained composting device that literally turns human waste into clean, odorless soil that can be used in the garden or flower bed. I like the idea but it doesn't satisfy my desires.

A proper outhouse, in my estimation, should be a quiet, subdued facility constructed of rough oak lumber. The boards should be spaced just far enough apart to provide some ventilation, a little light and afford the user an ability to glance through the cracks to see what the dog is barking at. It should have a minimum of two seats but preferably three or four hewn to accommodate different sized posteriors.

It would need no distracting electrical lighting and it's owner would necessarily need to purchase a car-bide light for those times when nature called at night. I found out early in my youth that a car-bide flame is one of the most artistic utensils known to man. One quick touch to a wood board left a jet black residue. The light could serve as pen or brush to write or draw on the outhouse walls as my creative urges dictated. Once or twice a year the walls got scrubbed down so that night-time artists and writers could have a clean slate, so to speak.

Loretta is quarreling that I may as well shut up about this nostalgic ranting -- that she's tired of hearing about it and she figures the folks who read the column are too. She's taken a long look around the property we live on and insists that there's no place I can build an outhouse so that it can't be seen from the main road. I personally think it ought to be seen from the main road. Maybe other folks would start wanting one. But Loretta doubts it would have that affect. Besides, she says, "the neighbors think we're poor enough already and there ain't no sense in advertising it."

The candles were lit during Verne's "Carillon" by Miss Carrie Mullins of Mt. Vernon and Mr. Alan Purcell of Brodhead, both former students of the couple.

The bride, escorted by her father and given in marriage by her parents, looked radiant in an elegant gown of white bridal satin and re-embroidered lace. ## County tax

Bank shares totalled for 1989-90 total $6,663,216. Last year the total was $5,661,513.

Motor vehicle assessment is up by $3,490,813. Last year's total was $26,840,406 compared to the new assessment of $30,331,219.

County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker said he was pleased with the figures and the county's ability to keep tax rates the same as the previous year.

The court also accepted the sheriff's settlement for county agencies for 1988-89. It shows the sheriff owes the various county agencies a total of $236.99.

New building

could be realized before he leaves the agency.

Local members of the Regional Board are Bobby Cox and Dr. Joe Korn. The Board Chairman is Attorney Tom Jensen. State Representative for Laurel County.

The special docket of Rockcastle District Court resumed Tuesday with nine separate charges disposed of in a variety of ways.

The special docket had been left at a standstill since late July, due to a variety of duties for some of the court officers appointed from Fayette and Jefferson counties.

Tuesday, two cases were continued for trial in October.

Pot-Burley

Christmas shopping.

Several of the county's dairymen also raise tobacco or other crops.

But, most of the corn and hay are used as feed, and not as a big cash crop as wheat would be in the Midwest.

While law enforcement officers count the actual number of plants destroyed, and multiply by an estimated two to arrive at an estimate of pot production per county, federal agriculture officials count burley in pounds.

Those enforcement officials say they probably haven't found any more than half of the illegally growing plants in any one county. At last count, 3,030 plants had been destroyed in Rockcastle, making an estimate of about 6,100 plants a solid guess.

Ballinger says the county has a 3,015,760-pound base, with 3,060,555 in actual pounds growing.

Law enforcement officials can't even make that close an estimate. And, Ballinger says that some pot plants credited to other counties may actually have been growing in Rockcastle.

He said that one raid announced in Jackson earlier this month netted over 1,300 plants, but that most of them were growing in Rockcastle.

He said he owns land in that area, and believes that the plants were actually growing in the county, based on the description of where they were found.

If Ballinger is right, those 1,300 plants would boost the county's estimated pot production to closer to 8,600 plants than the present estimate of 6,100.

That would merely extend the difference in profit between pot and burley.

That could possibly put the county's pot profits at $8.6 million, not $6.1, and boost the difference in profits to the use of tobacco now.

And, there are so many problems fighting marijuana growing and use, and there are so many negatives to the use of tobacco now.

Law officials can't find all of the growing pot plants to destroy them.

There's no way they can stop every casual user, but ever push.

There's a real continuity of care here; the same nurse is with the patient before, during and after the surgery.

Because patients are usually afraid of the unknown, we answer their questions and explain what's going to happen.

We always include the family. We let them know what's going on with their loved one. We also let parents see their children in the recovery room when possible.

C-F slates Bike-A-Thon for Brodhead

A Bike-A-Thon for Cystic Fibrosis will be held Saturday, Sept. 9, at Brodhead School from 1 to 4 p.m. In case of rain the event will be Sept. 16.

Cystic Fibrosis - a chronic, degenerative disease that primarily attacks the lungs and digestive system - is the number one genetic killer of our children and young adults.

The Cystic Fibrosis Foundation (CFF), established in 1955, is a non-profit, voluntary health organization, dedicated to improving the outlook for the CF patient and ultimately finding the answer to the cause of CF.

The Foundation supports 127 patient care centers nationwide which provides the best available equipment and staff to treat the disease and which work in research seeking a cure or control for Cystic Fibrosis.

Nothing is more valuable than being able to save thousands of lives. Cystic Fibrosis (CF) research has progressed at such a remarkable rate that we are on the threshold of opening up the future for those who have this disease now.

Although Cystic Fibrosis is the number one genetic killer of children, major advances have been made in narrowing the search for the gene which causes CF and in understanding the workings of the cell. When researchers understand these areas, they will be able to develop successful treatments to cure this disease.

Through the Foundation's efforts, the scientific pace has been accelerated and incredible inroads are being made into this disease.

The "sweat test" is currently the only reliable diagnostic test for CF. This painless test measures the amount of salt in the sweat. An abnormally high level of salt indicates that the person has cystic fibrosis.

Children and young adults with this disease require very special care, which is available at more than 120 Cystic Fibrosis Foundation Care Centers across the nation.

Tremendous advances in diagnosis and treatment have significantly improved the outlook for people with CF. In 1955, when the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was established, few children with CF lived to attend elementary school. Today, more than half are entering the early twenties - still an unacceptable fact.

There is no cure, so far. But today after decades of research, scientists are making dramatic strides in their understanding of CF, and that puts the CFF in the home stretch of the race to conquer the disease.

Still we need to quicken the pace if we are to save the thousands of children and young adults who have CF now. By participating in this bike-athon you're helping us to just that because the dollars collected through this event will fund research that hopefully will soon bring us a cure.

Come join the fun and help sick children. You can also win something for yourself. Prizes are:

Collect $35 and win official CFF T-Shirt; $75, CFF T-Shirt and Official CFF Sweatshirt; $80, CFF T-Shirt and Sony Walkman; $300, CFF T-Shirt and AM/FM Cassette Headset; $600, CFF T-Shirt and 3 piece Boombox; $1,000, CFF T-Shirt, CFF Sweatshirt and Sony Watchman, and 2 inch B/W TV.

In addition to these prizes the five collecting the most money will receive one of the following: Skateboard, Sleeping Bag, Basketball, Large ceramic horse or Emerson AM/FM Radio Stereo cassette recorder/prayer with headphone. All these prizes are on display in the window at Fletcher's Grocery. The one collecting the most money may choose - then second - then third - fourth - fifth.

Get pledge sheets from the office at Brodhead School or your classroom or at the Citizens Bank, and help with the fight against Cystic Fibrosis. If under 18 years old, parent or guardian must sign pledge before you can ride.

No age limit on riders!!!

We need your help. The elements needed to end this disease are in place. However, continued support of these life-saving efforts is crucial. With your involvement, we can help those who have CF today. Together, we can make Cystic Fibrosis history.

We've come too far and seen too many recent breakthroughs to turn back now. We must keep the wheels of progress in motion.

This one battle we must win!!!

Lancaster man jailed in theft

A 21-year-old Lancaster man is currently housed in Rockcastle County jail, charged with stealing a 1985 Ford Bronco II owned by Robert Caudell of John Cash Rd.

The auto theft, along with Kentucky State Trooper Gary Lane, says that Arlen Craig Castle, a friend of the Caudell family, allegedly took the keys to the truck after everyone went to sleep Sunday night.

Castle was spending the night at Caudell's. The truck was later tracked on KY 328, a total loss.

Castle appeared in Rockcastle District Court earlier this week, and the case has been continued until September 6.

LEAP to move into new home

Livingston Economic Alternatives in Progress (LEAP) is moving into new quarters. They have purchased the old Miller Market in Calloway on Rt. 100. The facility will be used to expand its specialty food manufacturing operation and to operate a retail store selling its products, under the Golden Kentucky label, locally manufactured crafts, locally grown farm products, and homemade bakery goods. Golden Kentucky products include 100% pure sorghum molasses, clover honey, dessert toppings, handmade chocolates and soup mixes.

LEAP projects include the Sweet Sorghum Project, producing sorghum syrup, and Opportunities for Women, developing women-owned business producing specialty foods. Both of these projects use the Golden Kentucky trade name to market their products. LEAP is a branch of the Central Appalachian Federal Credit Union (CAFCU) and works closely with Heifer Project International to promote small farm opportunities.

Good-bye reminders

Reiko Yamamoto, a 4-H exchange student from Japan who visited April Kendrick (standing, third from left) and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Kendrick for a month, posed with some of the Rockcastle County cheerleaders last Friday under a sign they had made. The sign had all of the cheerleaders' names on it, and the Japanese spelling of their names. Reiko did the writing in the Japanese kanji. Below, she got caught up in the pre-football season fever, and proclaimed the Rockets No. 1 in her native language. Reiko says she will miss a Baptist church camp most. She attended her first week here. She can speak about 60 to 70 English words well now, and has developed a fondness for pizza. She says her all-girls school in Japan doesn't allow make-up, jewelry, earrings, permanents, and all girls must wear black shoes. She also says she would like to be able to spend a whole year in the United States, going to an American high school.

State gets $5,000 hay grant

Kentucky's reputation as the Bluegrass State is widely recognized, but the state's hay growers now want livestock producers throughout the South to know they produce top-quality hay. A $5,000 grant from Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc., is going to help them do just that.

The contribution, received today during the hay show at the Kentucky State Fair, will be used to support a promotional campaign of the Kentucky Pride Hay Growers Association.

"The potential to develop the hay market in Kentucky is an exciting opportunity," said Barney Booher, Pioneer district sales manager for eastern Kentucky.

"Growers in this state have recognized their responsibility to market their crop and to enhance the sale of their product. We're glad to be able to support them in this effort," he said during a presentation following the hay show.

Pioneer is one of the leading seed companies in the world. The company has been a long-time supporter of trade association activities throughout the state and national levels. The company produces a full line of seed products, including alfalfa and annuals.

"It really is encouraging to see an organization take a proactive step to promote the products they produce," said Bill Mescham, Pioneer district sales manager for western Kentucky.

"Along with their product promotions, the Kentucky Pride Hay Growers Association hopes to educate growers about management practices that will lead to better yields and improve the quality of their crop."

"This is another example of Pioneer's commitment to agricultural excellence," Burnette, said.

Lynn Camp lightning stops Rock

By: Jim Griesch

The scores in last Friday's loss to Lynn Camp: Wildcats 12, Rockcastle 9. Thunder 2, Lightning 3, Curt Burgan 5.

After surviving some pre-game thunder and lightning, Rockcastle unleashed some lightning of its own in the second quarter, but couldn't survive third quarter Lynn Camp thunder, and fourth quarter lightning.

Lynn Camp went ahead for good on an 86-yard bomb from quarterback Allen Mitchell to wide receiver Steve Johnson with 7:36 left in the game.

On the play, called slot 1 right, 153 yards by Lynn Camp coach Dave Mitchell, Johnson went inside corner Billy Todd and got in behind safety Scott Parkey. Mitchell hit Johnson in stride at about the Wildcat 45, and Johnson outran Todd across the field from left to right, toward his own end bench, and then kept a two-step cushion up the sidelines for the last 40 yards.

The blazing effort put Lynn Camp up 12-7. That was the lightning.

But, Lynn Camp didn't win until the final 2:50.

After the Rockets survived a fumbled kick-off following the go-ahead touchdown, they marched from their own 35 all the way to the Lynn Camp 10.

Disaster struck on the first goal. Parkey and tailback Dane Cox couldn't make a connection on a hand-off over left tackle, and Lynn Camp recovered at the four.

With the winning touchdown only 72 inches away, the Rockets made a fatal mistake. It was their second lost fumble of the game, and the first from a snap at the line of scrimmage this year.

The big play in the drive had been a 36-yard pass from Parkey to Todd on third and nine at the Lynn Camp 49.

Todd was wide open deep in a scam between the Lynn Camp safety and right corner.

That gave the Rockets all kinds of momentum and a first down at the Lynn Camp 13.

Two battering-ram line smashes by Kevin Rowe and a two-yard sneak by Parkey had put Rockcastle in business at the four.

Mitchell ran out of the back of the end zone on fourth down with 50 seconds to go for a safety and the final score.

Rockcastle had taken a 7-0 lead to halftime by using some lightning of its own.

Todd took a pitch out around right end 63 yards to the Lynn Camp two to set up the only score of the half.

On the play, Todd had to kick free from a would-be tackler who seemingly had him pinned for a five-yard loss at his own 30. He made a second Wildcat miss, cut up through a hole at end, cut to the outside and outran two defenders down the right sidelines.

Rowe went the last yard and a half after a Lynn Camp offside penalty moved the ball halfway to the goal line.

Curtis Cotton kicked the extra point, and Rockcastle had made the most of its one big play in the half.

But, Lynn Camp threw some thunder of its own at the Rockets to begin the third quarter.

They ramblod 65 yards in 15 plays for a score, with Jerry Proffitt slamming over from three on third and goal.

The drive took 8:04 off the clock, and no penalties were involved. A 12-yard pass from Mitchell to David Parin gave the Wildcats a first down on the Rockcastle 41. The play came on a third-and-11 from the Lynn Camp 47 on the fifth play, of the drive.

Lynn Camp had one other third down play they covered for a first down before the score on the third third-down of the drive.

The conversion run for an 8-7 lead came up short, and Rockcastle still led.

Neither team looked especially sharp on offense, except for the two drives late in the game.

Lynn Camp had 12 first downs in the whole game, and five came on the first score drive. Of the other seven, three came as the direct results of Rockcastle penalties.

The winning pass play was partly helped by a penalty.

Sophomore Jeff Houk, who averaged 36.8 on five punts for Rockcastle, had rolled a punt dead at the Lynn Camp four.

But, on first down, Burgan, the field judge, flagged a group of three Rockcastle defenders for a face mask penalty.

That moved the ball to the 19, before an illegal procedure call pushed Lynn Camp back to the 14.

Would Mitchell have tried the pass from inside his five yard line?

Rockcastle had 123 yards rushing in the first half, but 63 of those came on Todd's one magnificent run.

They had four first downs in each half, but drove the ball more than six plays just once in each half.

In the first half, they drove to the Lynn Camp 10, but had to settle for a fake field goal with 11 seconds left.

Parkey's roll out passes to Cox at the goal line fell short.

In the second half, the ill-fated drive to the two lasted 10 plays, the longest possession of the night.

And, no two back-to-back plays worked better for Rockcastle than the first two by the Rockets. Cox, who started at quarterback, dealt the ball to Rowe on two straight traps over right guard.

Rowe went 13 yards on the first play of the season, then 11 on the next, to take the ball from the Rockcastle 30 to the Lynn Camp 46.

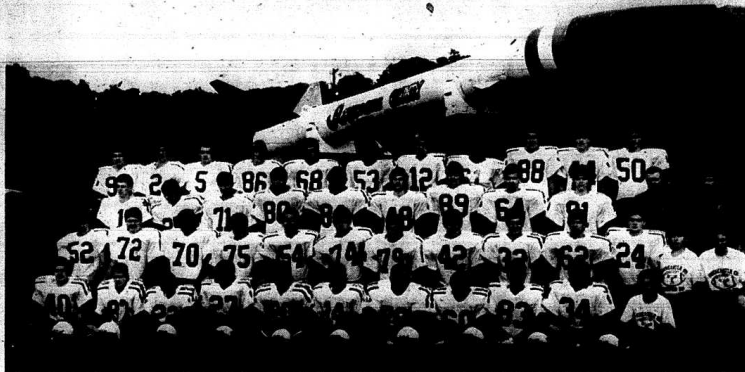

That's about as far as the drive went, and the two teams settled into a back-and-forth struggle to the end of the half.

But, penalties kept Lynn Camp from having to surrender the ball deep in its own territory.

The first flag of the year, a 15-yard face mask call, helped the Wildcats out of a hole. Houk had punted it dead at the Lynn Camp eight when that first drive failed.

But, an eight-yard run by Johnson with the penalty tacked on gave Lynn Camp the ball at their 29.

A Todd interception went for naught, and a weird interference call by Burgan kept a Lynn Camp drive

Williamsburg	L. Madison South. 14-8 (Sat)	at Larue County

Note: Pulaski County at Somerset originally listed as a Friday game, set for Saturday at Lake Cumberland Bowl. Whitley County has several changes. They played Estill last week, not Pineville as originally scheduled. They will play at Knox Central on September 15, not Estill County, and instead of Knox on Oct. 20 as originally scheduled, have added Owen County. The game at Casey County, originally scheduled for Friday, Sept. 29, has been moved to 6:30 p.m., Thursday, Sept. 28. Williamsburg filled an open date on Aug. 28 with a game at Larue County.

This Week: at Russell County (8 p.m., Saturday, August 26)

The game was originally set for Friday, Aug. 25, but a Glenn Campbell concert on Friday caused a change. The school is about 1-2 miles south of the Cumberland Parkway, at the US 127 exit. That is about 35 miles west of Somerset. The field is behind the old high school on the left of US 127, which is right next to the new school building.

Russell County is even bigger than Lynn Camp, but probably without the same kind of speed as the receivers had for the Wildcats.

How big is big? Sean Stevens, one of the tackles, is 6-2 and weighs 300 pounds. The tackle, Tim Loy, goes 6-1, 255. The best lineman is supposedly Ryan Richardson, 5-10, 220 and a senior.

In the backfield, coach Lynn Taylor can throw a 220-pound tailback, Mike Clark, at the Rockets, and a 200-pound fullback, Eric Robertson, who is 6-0 and 200 as a freshman.

Four of the five expected starting offensive linemen weigh between 215 and 300, and can add a 190-pound tight end in Steve Kelsey.

The Lakers have gone to an 1 set offensively within the past year, after running the wishbone for a number of years. With the I, Russell can show a split back, slot, two tight ends, wings, the power 1, the pro-1, or may even line up in the bone.

On defense, Russell County has traditionally used a 6-2 look. But, Russell County lacks the kind of speed that killed for Lynn Camp last week.

And, Russell County is a total of 1-19 over the last two years. Will Rockcastle get well or get bludgeoned to death by the Russell County line?

Lynn Camp wins JV clash

"Deja vu, we got you," might be what they are singing at Lynn Camp this week.

The Lynn Camp JVs, featuring a senior quarterback, topped the Rockcastle JVs Monday, in a game so similar to last week's varsity game.

Lynn Camp scored first, in the second quarter, on a seven yard run. Rockcastle went ahead 7-6 when they sacked the quarterback and recovered a fumble at the Lynn Camp nine. Bobby Coffey scored from the six on second down. Clark Mullins kicked the extra point for the lead with 2:05 left in the third quarter.

But, late in the game, a Lynn Camp end caught a tipped pass at the Rock two. On the play, the senior quarterback threw deep, but short. A Rock defender got a hand on it, but merely batted it into the air as it spun forward toward the goal.

The Lynn Camp end had fallen after jumping for the high pass, and actually caught the ball while lying on his back.

Lynn Camp scored on the next play for a 12-7 win. It came with 3:14 left in the game.

5-of-7 calls made ref a busy man

By: Jim Griesch

Rockcastle County had seven penalties for 75 yards called in last Friday's football opener.

Of the seven, five (for 65 yards) were made by the field judge, Curt Burgan.

They were:
 • a face mask call on which a Rock defender either grabbed the bottom bar of Steve Johnson's mask or his jersey collar on an eight yard run. The run, plus 15 yards on the penalty, got Lynn Camp out of a hole. The coaches have no protest on a receiver.

• a dead-ball offside penalty. No problem with that call.

• a pass interference call on a pass out of bounds at midfield. The ball was touched by a defender on the sidelines about the same time Rockcastle defender tripped a receiver. Burgans reportedly apologized for having to make the pass interference interpretation required by the rules.

• a second face mask call deep in Lynn Camp territory. Lynn Camp fullback Kevin Disney was barreling through left tackle on a power play where three or four defenders moved in to make the tackle. While the coaches wondered about the call after the game, they said that one of the RCHS players admitted he had the mask on the player.

• a 15-yard illegal substitution call. This one came with seconds to go in the game. Billy Todd went almost to the sidelines to set up as a wide out on a desperation play.

First Game Report Card

The Pluses

- ✓ - Showed the ability to come back after adversity. The Rockets knew they can drive down field in the clutch.
- ✓ - Some depth. Scott Parkey, who had a tough scrimmage in early August, looked much better against Lynn Camp.
- ✓ - An overall better pass defense, despite the one long touchdown pass.

The Negatives

- ✓ - The lack of sustained drives. Only two were for more than six plays, and neither resulted in a score.
- ✓ - The need for some beef on the right side of the defensive line. Lynn Camp to the Rockcastle right 10 of 15 plays in the first touchdown drive, and 22 times in 42 rushing attempts.
- ✓ - Lack of a consistent rushing attack. This goes with the first item in the Negative group. A consistent ground game will cause some long, sustained drives.
- ✓ - Failed to win a game that was there's for the taking. The lingering effects are often worse than the original.

Kevin Rowe (white helmet in middle of the middle) scores the first touchdown of the year, from under two yards out, in last week's loss to Lynn Camp. At the time, Rowe's score gave Rockcastle County the lead, 7-0.

down box.
The official is not supposed to let a possible receiver get outside of him. At one point, Burgan let Todd get completely out of sight.

He was back peddling, then threw the flag. When someone protested the call from the bench area, Burgans could be heard saying, "No, No! He was all the way off the field."

Todd wasn't, but Burgan failed on a simple execution of the mechanics of the job.

The play did not win or lose the game, but did put Rockcastle in a fourth-and-25 spot at its own 19.

No magic, no score, no win.

Outside of Burgan, the officiating crew went unnoticed, especially for a first game, when one or both teams are often off-sides, in motion, or trying to get into a rhythm.

Andy Kersey was the referee, Paul Henson was the umpire, Alan Onkst the head linesman, and Kevin Pace the back judge.

alive.
On third and nine at their own 42, Mitchell heaved a pass out of bounds in front of the Rockcastle bench.

But, Burgan ruled that a receiver was tripped near the sidelines, and threw the flag.

Only a fumble at the Rockcastle 15 stopped Lynn Camp.

Todd and Rowe each gained 61 yards rushing to lead everyone in the game. Johnson caught two passes for 90 yards. Profit had 52 yards rushing to lead Lynn Camp.

Jasper Carpenter killed two copperhead snakes while bushhogging near his home. One was 32 inches long, the other 41 inches, but cut into four parts. The longest was also four inches around.

Grandstand

A $21,990 Area Development Fund grant to erect a roof over the grandstand at the Brodhead fairgrounds was announced this week by County Judge/Executive Hubert Thacker.

The grant came through Cumberland Valley Area Development District, and was applied for two years ago but was not included in funding at that time.

The project lists $2,850 for the design fee to Architect Leroy Griffin of Lexington, and $19,140 for the construction.

Judge Thacker said the work on the roof of the main grandstand will begin as soon as possible.

The county will seek bids on the construction.

Cancer ride

The Rockcastle County Saddle Club will hold its annual cancer ride at Joe Martin's farm at Three Links beginning at 9:30 a.m. Saturday, Sept. 2.

Proceeds go to Ephantum McDowell Cancer Research Center in Danville. There is room for campers at the farm and two meals will be provided, compliments of local merchants. Riders pay $5 each, they also solicit sponsors.

There will also be the regular Sunday ride, at the same place. The ride last year netted $2,300.

RECEIVES AWARD-- Pfc. Donovan Durham, who is stationed in the DMZ in South Korea, has been awarded the Expert Infantry Badge known as the EIB. This is a coveted award that is won by weeks of vigorous training in combat situations and passing a very strenuous test which takes three days to complete. Only 10% of those who try for this award pass the test. This badge is equivalent to the combat infantry badge which is awarded to those in combat in war time. Pfc. Donovan Durham has also been awarded the Green Aiguillette since being stationed at the DMZ in South Korea.

EXTENSION HOME ECONOMICS
Linen Can Last a Long Time
By: Cheryl Witt
Extension Agent for Home Economics

Linen is a favorite summertime fabric, which has enjoyed a comeback in recent years, but take special care dealing with it.

When buying a linen or linen look-alike garment, it's important to check the label carefully for specific recommendations.

True linen is made from flax fiber, which is washable. However, unless the fabric has been pre-shrunk by the manufacturers, shrinkage is likely to occur.

If there is a spill or stain on the fabric, blot up any excesses as quickly as possible. Be careful not to rub the stain. Launder or dry clean as soon as possible.

Other tips when caring for linen:
*When the garment care label recommends dry clean, it's best to dry clean.

To freshen a linen garment, press or iron with a spray mist of water or a damp press cloth. Use a high temperature linen setting on your iron.

Knowing how to care for your garments, especially linen, can add years of life to your summer wardrobe.

wash the garment whether the fabric will fade, or if fugitive dyes were used on it.
While most colored prints and color-spliced garments are colorfast, these items occasionally bleed on the first washing. This can occur when fabric manufacturers fail to rinse completely excess dye from fabrics during the finishing process.

Sometimes washable garments can be rescued when this happens. If the fabric dye was not permanent, it probably will not be fixed on other clothes and a simple repeat washing will suffice.

Wash the garment again in warm or hot water with a heavy-duty detergent to remove excess color and brighten light areas of the fabric. Sometimes a color-safe bleach will help lighten white areas. Liquid chlorine bleaches should be avoided because they can spoil dark colors. Home treatments to "set" colors such as alum, salt or vinegar are ineffective.

A consumer's best protection is to select clothing brands recognized for quality, carefully read label information and shop at stores willing to back up their merchandise.

Looking Backward from age 50

Once again my home and lawn have been filled with people and laughter. The occasion was the celebration of my son, Rodney Graves of Sinks Grove, W. Va., 50th birthday. It was an "over the hill" or "looking back" party.

Streamers, signs and balloons told about it from every door - chandelier and even the trees and porch proclaimed the fact Rod was finally at the top of the hill. (Maybe now he can attach a rope to me and hold me back from the valley for awhile.)

Forty friends and relatives were here to help him look backward to many of the events it takes to shape a life. Each person one touches in a lifetime helps in some way to shape that life. Lets look back a little way with Rod and his guests.

At birth he was welcomed by his parents, Mat, now deceased and Zil Tackett Graves and his older sister, Judy Graves Kennedy, who began the program set with another welcome and a comment on his first entry into her life.

Ruth Pearce was his very first "baby sister" and she reminded him of how it used to cry when she would leave. She was a beautiful young teenager then. His uncle John and aunt Verna Graves kept him for a summer during the war and Verna taught him to dust her dining table or so she told him.

City life during our stay there in war time taught him some self discipline and how to get comfort from his teddy bear. He began school there, so the teachers there touched his soul with the love for knowledge and he is still pursuing it.

Back in Kentucky he boarded with relatives in Shopville for one year and met some young kids in the second grade who have become life long friends and have touched his life in many ways. Those who were able to come and share this celebration with him and reminisce their elementary and high school days were Virgil and June Rainey with their adult daughter Sammie and friend Jim, all from Cincinnati. Jackie and Fayrene Gilliland from Somerset and Ronnie and Wilma Hall of Somerset and their son John. Ronnie revealed how he used to copy Rod's papers. Bethel Burdine, principal of Shopville when Rod was a student there, and the librarian, Willena Broyles, had much to say of Rod's high school days and how much he read.

Before he went to high school at Shopville he spent a few years in the Buffalo one room school where he had to walk a couple of miles to attend. Those miles and school days just helped him form more friends and the hours spent on muddy or sunny paths to and from school with friends like Ralph and Dean Cromer, only welded a childhood friendship into an adult one. Ralph and his wife Mary and Dean drove down from Indianapolis just to share this one evening with a few of their memories - a few were about an old pot bellied stove.

Other community people who helped form Rod's roots of home in Kentucky and were present, was Calvin Mize and wife Dean Burdine Mize, Sherman and Anna Mae Taylor, Mize Jean Pearce, Glen Renner and wife Vivian. His eighth grade teacher, Gatlift Craig was a welcome sight to these youngsters of yesterday. He presented Rodney with a picture of the students the year Rod graduated from the eighth grade. Several of those youngsters have and Burdine and Whitakers and Hails, all with a story to share. (Turn backward, turn backward, oh, time you your flight and make me a kid again just for a night). How true when our eyes are turned back to yesteryears.

College years loomed ahead for Rodney and Mrs. Broyles told about her personal answers to the inquiry form she was asked to fill out on his behalf. Thank you Mrs. Broyles for your high opinion of him.

Teachers, fellow students and staff, were all the same to Rod. He loved people and wanted knowledge and you gain knowledge through people.

Cathy Coons, Helen Campbell Graves, Rod's wife, Doan Mize, Judy Kennedy and Larry Greathouse and wife Jina, were on this part of his ladder upward bound. They had many laughs and a few digs and some of the knowledge acquired there. The climb sometimes get rough but good friends and family and perseverance work out and he had all these.

Uncle Sam's turn came I think in 1963. He chose the Airforce and was in Sinks Grove, W. Va., where he owned and operates a good sized dairy farm. Since Birch couldn't be present at this celebration he made a tape to be played when it was his turn to wish his dad a happy birthday. Other guests present were his uncle, my brother, Ishmael Tackett of Apache Junction, Az. and Pauline Kincer of Mt. Vernon, Ann Prokos, Judy's daughter on her way back to Florida State University and Marietta Vis from Holland, Chad Abney, of course, was here to talk about his last summers work on the farm at Uncle Rod's. Chuck couldn't be here for the big party but was here to greet him on his arrival the night before.

Me? Uh huh, I was here. I enjoyed the whole shin dig. I want to thank each person who came, for that was what it was all about. How each of them contributed a part of what Rod is today. Son, I hope you have many more Mom.

Run Away Team

By: John Holbrook

If you've ever driven a runaway team They can almost fly so it seem

They'll run over a hill or through a fence
A runaway team ain't got no sense.

Through a stream or into the wood They'd keep on going if they could

Twice they have runaway with me And its no fun that I could see

One time when I hooked the last trace They immediately began to race

Only one line was in the wagon The other on the ground, there a draggin'

Here I was with two runaway steed The other line was my greatest need

Trying to stop them my brother did commence
But they just dragged him into the fence.

His clothes were torn and his flesh a bleedin'
Where the team was going they were not heading.

There in the wagon was a board with a nail I sat on it but didn't dwell

I got the other line from off the ground I was in control, so I turned them around.

Another time I was at a loss When a bit came loose on the rumbst hoss

Fence on the left a bill on the right I pulled a fixin' the bit I did commence

A rastus plow and a runaway mule Can make you feel like a dawg-gone fool

There is one thing that needs to be said Get them plow lines offover your head

Just stand there and watch them go Knowing you won't have as much tobacco to hoe

I heard of a man with team and wagon Lines in hand so none were drag'in

For an unknown reason they began to run And this predicament was no fun

This man's troubles did really begin When out of the wagon came the pin.

He had to just let the lines go And he sat there helpless don't you know.

Pulling the wagon tongue and double tree How fast they ran was something to see

On each side of a tree they went by You should have seen the harness fly
So all of you who've had a predicament like this You know it's something you'd like to miss.

A Friend

By: Lewis Bowling 1989

I had a friend who lived

Rebecca Faye Graves

Rebecca Faye Graves celebrated her first birthday Aug. 3rd. She spent a quiet evening at home with the family. Rebecca is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Graves of Mt. Vernon. Grandparents are Thomas D. and the late Catherine Graves of Mt. Vernon, Vivian and Charles Sower of Richmond and maternal grandmother Hazel Bullock of Mt. Vernon.

on a hill.
For want of a name,
I'll call him uncle will.

In the year
of thirty-one
He decided to have a car would be lots of fun.

He found one that was very neat.
A twenty-nine Ford with a rumbly seat

A deal was made without delay.
He would use it for work
as well as play.

He got it on Saturday,
along about noon.
Which to him was not
a minute too soon.

He said to his sons,
if we leave now
We can go to town and back in time to milk the cow.

He adjusted the gas,
and set the spark
And off they went happy as a lark.

He said to his sons
I am not bragging
This sure does beat riding in a one horse wagon.

In one big mud hole
they got quite a shock
When in the middle they hit a big rock.

With a lot of pushing and shoving
They got the car to moving.

They got to town and done their buying
With a little bragging and not much lying

The ride back home
was like a dream
With fifty pounds of lard and one hundred pounds of beans.

When they got home
it was getting late.
Uncle Will said,
"Son open the gate."

He said whoa and pulled back on the wheel
The car went on through the gate and out through the field.

As they made the circle
to get back on the way
The youngest son
was heard to say

Pappy you much teach this car to stop on whoa
Even if it doesn't know
Goe from haw.

Looking Backward . . .
By: Christine Harper McKinney
In retirement, it behoves us --
When at times the spirit moves us --
To reflect upon the past without regret;
In each personal meek endeavor
It seemed luck was in our favor,
So we never felt compelled to fuss or fret.

There were those who had these urges
To embark on spending splurges
And then panicked when the bills
came to the door.

We were never into chargin';
Slipped at sales and looked for bargains.
Somehow we just never seemed to care for more.

While our friends were dining,
dancing,
hugging, kissing and romancing

There were those who had these urges
To embark on spending splurges
And then panicked when the bills
came to the door.

Marvin-Scott Alan Barron

Marvin-Scott Alan Barron celebrated his first birthday August 19 with a Care Bear Cousins Party. Those present were his parents Lois and James, his Nana, Margaret; Alice Day; Janet, Renee, April Day; Dale Barnett, Brandon Day; and his brother Benjamin Barron. Marvin-Scott wishes to thank everyone for the money and gifts he received. He is the grandson of Margaret Barnett and the late Charlie Barnett of Brodhead and Henry and Pearl Barron of Somerset. He is the great-grandson of Alice Day and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Barron of Mt. Vernon.

And engaging in some sensual affair . . .
Unlike Dan and Rhonda Davis, like and Julie; John and Mavis,
We just somehow never felt the need to share!

They were into swapping spouses
And the keys that locked their houses,
Going home to spend the night with someone new.
We were shocked beyond our senses
When we heard the consequences:
The divorces from these acts
did cut ensue!

All those battles over money!
Like, for instance, alimony
And who gets the Persian rug there on the floor;
No more happy gales of laughter
As each other's scalp they're after.
Since the creditors have left them little more!

And so now our thoughts remind us
Of those years so far behind us
When our friends' jet-setter lifestyle left us cold;
Like when Fred and Alice Howie
Packed their bags for weeks on Maui;
All the plans for which were something to behold!

My, My
Look who was born in twenty-nine
Happy Birthday

And each year Jack took Priscilla
To some ritzzy Cannes villa . . .
Twas a life for which we heard no
clarion call; Unlike Bill and Clara Jinnis --

Both whom were into tennis --
We would rather take a hike than
- chase a ball.

It is not that we weren't tempted
But good common sense pre-empted
Any thought we had of joining in the fun;
Though we sacrificed to do it

"It's far too early to tell exact figures, but I'd say we will exceed our previous record enrollment of 14,081 students," set in the fall of 1980. In 1987 EKU's fall semester enrollment was 13,999, and in 1988 it reached 13,664.
