"What Saith the Scriptures"

In II Pet. 1:4, we read "Whereby are given unto us exceeding great and precious promises, that by these ye might be partakers at the divine nature, having escaped the corruption that is in the world through lust."

Let's list some of the great and precious promises God has made to us. God promises forgiveness and redemption for any who will come to Christ. "In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins," Col. 1:14. We can be "bought back" or redeemed by Christ's blood if we will believe and obey him. Ac. 2:36-38.

Another promise we can enjoy as a result of forgiveness, is peace of mind. "Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you not as the world giveth, give I unto you. Let not your heart be troubled neither let it be afraid," Jn. 14:27. True peace for the soul, can only be found in Christ Jesus.

God promises us to provide for our physical needs of food and clothes. In Mt. 6:33, "But seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and his righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." God will provide for our physical needs (not necessarily our wants) if we seek first the Kingdom of God.

God promises to be with us, even in the midst of suffering. The Hebrew writer said, "So that we may boldly say, The Lord is my helper, and I will not fear what man shall do unto me," 12:6. Paul talked about how others forsook him at his defense before Nero; but he said "notwithstanding the Lord stood with me, and strengthened me," II Tim. 4:16-17a.

God promises to hear the prayers of his children. "And this is the confidence that we have in him. That, if we ask anything according to his will, he heareth us" I Jn. 5:14.

God promises his children a crown of righteousness in heaven to those who love and serve him. Rev. 2:10, I Cor. 9:25, II Tim. 4:8. A glorified body awaits the faithful at the resurrection, I Jn. 5:28-29. Eternal life with God, Christ, the Holy Spirit, angelic host and all the saints of all ages will be there. Verily, God has many precious promises for the faithful.

Watkins receives 20-year sentence

Thomas Wade Watkins was given a life sentence for killing Stanford Police officer Gary Kidwell and three 20 year sentences for kidnapping three people as he made his escape.

But court observers think that regardless of the sentences, Watkins, 34, will be eligible for parole in 12 years.

Watkins, whose sentence on the manslaughter conviction was compounded by his prior prison record, would be eligible for parole at about 45, since he already has been jailed 13 months since the shooting.

The jury that decided the case in Nicholasville last week found Watkins guilty of first degree manslaughter, which normally carries a penalty of 10 to 20 years in prison. They also found him guilty of kidnapping three people as he fled the scene of the shooting, each count of which carried a possible life sentence.

During the sentencing phase of the trial, Watkins' previous convictions and prison sentences were presented as evidence that Watkins could be considered a persistent felon, which increases the possible prison terms.

The jury was also told about parole possibilities and that with a life sentence, Watkins would be paroled after 12 years.

Final sentencing of Watkins will be held next month with Circuit Judge Robert J. Jackson ordering Watkins to prison.

Jackson said that state statutes make it a moot issue whether to run the sentences on manslaughter consecutively (one after the other) or concurrently. He said that sentencing statutes, say that parole eligibility is determined by the most severe sentence, in this case, life, which would make Watkins serve a minimum of 12 years.

When a prisoner becomes eligible for parole is no guarantee that the state parole board will grant it, however.

The parole board, typically, will consider the views of the prosecutor in the case as well as the family of the victim in addition to the behavior and record of the prisoner in deciding whether to let someone out of prison.

As the jury decided Watkins' prison term, two members of the slain officer's family had to be restrained when they found themselves sharing the same hallway at the Jessamine County Courthouse with Watkins.

Sue Kidwell Miller, the dead officer's widow, and his son Mike, had to be restrained by other family members when Watkins walked into the hallway escorted by deputies.

In other post trial development, Stanford Police Chief Don Young said he knows about two "missing" 25 caliber pistols that Kidwell used.

Banner for convention

This year's annual convention of the Kentucky School Board Association will be held at the Galt House in Louisville on Feb. 28 and 29. School districts from across the state have been asked to submit a banner representing the theme of this year's convention, "Pathways For Progress," to be displayed in the Galt House lobby. Shown in the above photo are Julie Coffey, Sharon Hines and Hope Carmack, Rockcastle Co. High School art students, who painted and constructed this entry from Rockcastle County. Each star is labeled with a major goal or accomplishment of the county school system.

Nannie Shearer celebrates 103rd birthday

Nannie Shearer, of Clear Creek, celebrated her 103rd birthday Monday at the Berea Health Care Center. The center gave Nannie a party last week and this party was given through the White State Homemakers Club. Some of Nannie's relatives are members of the club. Nannie has been at the center for about five years and is still very active and enjoys walking around the center. Nannie is originally from Clear Creek and has lived in this area through most of her life. Nannie said she has always had a love for gardening. "I love to garden but I haven't gotten to do it for quite some time. I'm getting old you know, and it's harder to get around," she said. Nannie is popular among the residents of the center and many of them attended her party. Nannie said she has seen a lot of changes in Berea over the years but that it is getting harder to remember what it was like to be young. Nannie and her friends enjoy joking around to pass the time. Nannie said she didn't get married to her late husband Sam Shearer, (who was her first and only husband) until she was 50 years old. One of Nannie's friends told her that must be why she is living such a long, healthy life.

New Volunteer Center formed

A new source of obtaining volunteers in the county has formed to aid non-profit organizations in locating people who are willing to volunteer some of their time. The Volunteer Resource Center is a new organization that has formed to serve a seven county area. It provides a network to match agencies in need of volunteers with people who are willing to help but may not be aware of the agency or its need.

The counties include Rockcastle, Madison, Clark, Estill, Powell, Garrard and Jackson. The resource center matches the skills and interests of volunteers with agencies that can utilize those skills.

The Volunteer Resource Center is an associate member of the National Volunteer Center of the Points of Light Foundation. Services are free to any non-profit organization such as libraries, schools, hospice, hospitals, extension agencies and others.

The directors of the Volunteer Resource Center is Vicki Bailey. Interested agencies and volunteers can call Vicki at (606) 624-2046 or 1-800-221-3883.

Though the program is just beginning, the results have been encouraging. To date, four agencies in Rockcastle County have registered with the resource center. Volunteer opportunities include:

Support for terminally ill, professionals, to provide legal services, clerical support, hair-styling, etc., accompanying adult education teacher and provide activities for children, teaching adults to read, woodworking electrical, sewing and woodworking projects after school to children, assisting with various county fair judging events, and field trips and youth camp volunteers.

Volunteering can make a difference, and if you are in need of a volunteer and if the criteria listed above or you believe you can be a volunteer, please contact Vicki.

Lincoln Day Banquet

The 54th annual Fifth District Lincoln Day Banquet will be held Saturday, Feb. 29 at the Corbin Civic Center beginning at 6 p.m.

Rep. Dave Martin of New York will be delivering the keynote address. Rep. Martin is serving his sixth term in the U.S. Congress, representing Northern New York's 26th Congressional District. Having served as a member of the Committee on Armed Service for eight years, he is the seventh-ranking Republican on the 54-member Committee.

He is the senior Republican on the Subcommittee on Military Installations an Facilities which has among its responsibilities the authorization of all worldwide military construction.

Rep. Martin is a member of a variety of Congressional caucuses and organizations pertaining to issues such as agriculture, the environment, foreign trade, veteran affairs, and travel and tourism. He is also a member of the Board of Trustees of the Barry Goldwater Scholarship and Excellence in Education Foundation.

Senator Mitch McConnell, Congressman Hal Rogers and Congressman Jim Bunning will also be on the evenings program.

Tickets for the banquet are $15 per person and can be purchased from any club member or at the door.

Tobacco harvest yields 1,460 acres

Rockcastle harvested 1,460 acres of tobacco this year totaling 3,243,000 pounds.

Pulaski had 3,000 acres for a total of 6,750,000 pounds. Jackson County had 1,380 acres in production for a total of 3,080,000 pounds. Madison had 4,460 acres bringing in a total of 10,233,000 pounds.

Top tobacco growing counties were Barron, Washington, Christian, Daviess and Scott.

Rockcastle had an effective quota of 3,879,449 pounds.

In corn, Rockcastle produced 110,400 pounds on 1,200 acres harvested for a yield of 92 bushels per acre harvested.

Allfall figures showed 2,900 acres harvested for 3.3 tons per acre with production 9,570 tons.

All other hay production showed Rockcastle predicted 22,680 tons with 12,600 acres harvested for 1.8 tons per acre.

Cattle and calves dropped in Rockcastle. In 1990 there were 16,000. In 1991 there were 15,500. County estimates for beef cows showed there were 6,900 in 1990 and 1,500 in 1991. Rockcastle had 2,100 in 1989 and 1,500 in 1990. Milk cows and milk production showed 1,300 the average number of milk cows on farms with 11,538 pounds annual average per cow, and 15,000,000 pounds of milk produced.

Local grand jury returns indictment of three local men

The February meeting of the Rockcastle County Grand Jury resulted in the indictment of six men.

Three Rockcastle County men were charged with breaking into the courthouse annex building and stealing miscellaneous tools and items.

David Begley, 45, Charles Arley, 21, and Brian Coffey, 25, were all charged with theft by unlawful taking and third degree burglary for an incident that took place on Jan. 26.

In addition to those charges, both Arley and Begley were charged with criminal mischief first degree by causing damage to the Rockcastle County Courthouse in excess of $1,000. Begley was also indicted for having in his possession a bolt cutter that was stolen from the annex construction site.

All three were released on bond with a court date set for Feb. 28.

Warrant endorsement in the first degree was the charge handed down on Donnie Collins of Rt. 2, Mt. Vernon.

The defendant was charged with pointing a gun at Raymond Thomas on Nov. 15, 1991, and again at Nathan Allen on Nov. 16. The defendant was also charged with committing the same act toward Ebb Allen on an undefined date.

23-year-old Michael Surgill of Mt. Vernon, was charged with second degree burglary, criminal mischief and theft by unlawful taking in an incident that took place on Dec. 18, 1991.

Sturgill was apprehended for unlawfully entering the dwelling of Susan Mitchell, destroying her property causing damage of over $1,000, and taking items in the home worth over $100.

James Stirling Cress, 70, remains housed in the Rockcastle County jail after being indicted by the grand jury for shooting into a pickup truck. Cress was charged with warrant endorsement in the first degree.

Sturgill, Cress and Collins were

- 1. March 7, 1992
- 2. Stella Edwards
- 3. Dr. Sandra Avail
- 4. Daryl Wheeler
- 5. Myrtle and Preston Tucker

Watch for next month's Signal Trivia game and send it in. You could be the next winner.

Check presented

Mayor Troy Welch, board chairman of the Cumberland Valley Area Development District, is shown presenting Mayor Gary Cramer, Fire Chief John Cox and Councilman Lee D. Keene, on behalf of the City of Mt. Vernon, a $9,000 area development fund check. The grant was awarded to the city to assist them with their firehouse expansion project and the presentation was held in conjunction with the Cumberland Valley Area Development District's February board of director's meeting. Also assisting with the presentation was John L. Bruner, II, executive director of the CVADD.

all released on bond and are scheduled to appear in Circuit Court on February 28.

Charges against Morgan dismissed

A recent incident that led to the arrest of Marty Morgan, 35, was dismissed last week in district court.

On Jan. 14, police responded to a complaint at Morgan's Quail home to assist in what they believed was a hostage situation.

According to police reports, Morgan was "unlawfully restraining Anita Smith." Smith had allegedly phoned her mother twice early that morning and stated that she needed help and was "at gun point." Smith's mother apparently phoned police and told them her daughter was being held against her will.

In Trooper Gary Lane's report, he stated that "Marty Morgan fired several shots from an automatic weapon in a threatening manner toward police officers and shouted obscenities while being arrested."

Morgan was arrested on charges of warrant endorsement, terroristic threatening, and unlawful imprisonment.

In the first hearing of the case which took place on February 3, Smith testified that Morgan was not holding her against her will, therefore District Judge William Cain dismissed the charge of unlawful imprisonment.

The hearing was then rescheduled for February 19, at which time Morgan's case was again dismissed due to the lack of a grand jury indictment.

Unemployment still climbing

Rockcastle's unemployment rate for November, 1991, stood at 7.3 percent of the work force, steadily climbing.

In the county, the civilian labor force totaled 8,715. The total employed was 8,081 and unemployed was 634.

The 7.3 percent is up over the 5.5 percent in November, 1990, and 6.3 percent in October, 1991.

Kentucky's jobless rate edged up from 6.9 percent in October to 7.1 percent in November.

Mobile home fire contained

A fire of undetermined origin heavily damaged a mobile home belonging to Mike Alcorn on Owens Street in Mt. Vernon about 11 a.m. Saturday.

Firemen from Mt. Vernon managed to contain the fire in one bedroom, but the remainder of the home sustained smoke damage.

Firemen said the fire started in the bedroom, but how has not yet been determined.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,
I am writing about Linda McWhorter's garbage dump. They keep the garbage clean and nice and out of sight so it can't be seen.

We like the way she comes and picks the garbage up. She's a clean person. I can't understand why the judge wants to do her this way. She's good.

Mrs. Ruby E. Bostic

Dear Editor,
What is the problem about this garbage. What's the reason you are all so against Linda McWhorter. I think she has done wonders.

Especially to us senior citizens. I wonder who is responsible. I know every one has their own opinion, as this is a free America. Our Judge has been good and he knows about this garbage but I think everyone will be happy if each one has their own garbage hauler. So all get together and let each worker keep their job.

We want our garbage lady, they are doing their job good.

Lora Hamilton

Letter to Editor:
Following is the sequence of events relative to the McWhorter Solid Waste Transfer Station at Renfro Valley.

1) State law requires that each county government establish a Solid Waste Plan. This plan must be implemented by ordinance which the state EPA approves.

2) The Rockcastle County Ordinance is designed to recognize and respect the autonomy of city governments - Brodhead, Livingston, and Mt. Vernon. The county ordinance states that haulers and transfer or convenience centers will not be permitted to operate within city limits without explicit approval by the respective city government officials.

3) The Renfro Valley/McWhorter transfer center is in the city limits of Mt. Vernon. The city government did not provide a resolution that would allow McWhorter to apply for the transfer center permit within the city limits.

4) A case was filed in Circuit Court. On January 31, 1992, the Circuit Judge issued a summary judgement - enjoining McWhorter Garbage Service from operating the transfer station.

Currently, the Rockcastle County Office of Solid Waste is soliciting requests for a permit to operate a transfer center in the Renfro Valley area but outside of the Mt. Vernon

People Poll

Should Kentucky's Governors be allowed to succeed themselves?

Yes, I think they should be allowed to for one more term. To implement a program, it takes more than four years to follow through with it.

Alfred McNew

I think it should be like the presidential - two terms or six years because it takes two years at least to get a program going. It would give some continuity.

No. We need a frequent change in the government.

Parker Seal held their service awards dinner recently at Boone Tavern. 1991 marked the first year for 40 years of service at the Berea plant.

40 Years of Service: Gordon Baugh and Pauline Lakes congratulated by Clark Mullins, plant manager.

10 Years of Service: Leroy Caudill.

Protective Parenting

Thrilled by her new skill, one little girl came back to the second meeting of Cynthia Chestnut's coaching group with a ten-foot "chain" wrapped around a cardboard tube. Two seventh graders spent their recess period at Roundstone writing script for "Grease III" that Marketa Mink's drama group is producing at the Teen Center Champions Club. The Mt. Vernon elementary woodworking and environmental group got so wrapped up in the issue of styrofoam disposal that they stopped Jim Maxwell halfway through his planned program to figure out who they would write to about the problem.

About 250 upper elementary students showed up for the first week of Champions (Against Drugs) Clubs. They clogged, they cooked, they did crafts, began working with cameras, and planned service projects for the betterment of the community. Mike Durham had over 20 thoroughly attentive young teens in each of his four long karate classes. Bonnie Wynand and Margaret Burdine down in Livingston had so many in their arts and cooking groups that they had to split them into two separate groups on different days. The Broadhead group fills the cafeteria; three groups cooking in the kitchen with Wanda Carroll and other professional cooks, and fabric crafts with Joanne McClure and her team at the tables.

Transporting all these youngsters home has created some problems and regrettably some did not get home until quite late. But once again, the dauntless spirit of Rockcastle school personnel surfaced. Mrs. Howard, principal of Roundstone, even provided child support for a group of students who were temporarily

Dear Editor:
I would like to take this opportunity to invite you and your readers to support the Rockcastle County Special Olympics program.

Rockcastle County Special Olympics is a year-round program of physical fitness, sports training and athletic competition for children and adults with mental retardation. The program is unique in that it accommodates competitors at all ability levels by assisting them to "competitive divisions" based on both age and actual performance ability. But the impact of Special Olympics reaches far beyond the athletic arena. The self-esteem and self-confidence established through athletics will carry-over to the everyday/living experiences of the Special Olympian - in the classroom, in the home and in the job.

I am the County Director for Rockcastle County. It is my pleasure to offer the Special Olympics opportunity to all persons eligible in this county. Currently, we are serving several athletes who have the potential of achieving many more. I need your support!

With your help, many of Kentucky's boys, girls, men and women will continue to stand on the sidelines.

Sincerely,
Jack Profitt

Rev. Harvey Pensol filled his regular appointment at the Fairview Baptist Church over the weekend with very good attendance and one hundred and twelve for Sunday School and we thank God for each one.

Our average attendance in Sunday School for the month of February was one hundred and ten. We still have some people in our community who are having a difficult time getting over the flu and colds.

Baptismal services were conducted Sunday night Feb. 16th at our church. Baptized were Mrs. Charlene Groves and her 16 year old son, Ronnie of Berea. They moved here a few months ago from Frankfurt. We wish them much success and happiness. May God bless them always.

Our pastor delivered such good messages, both Sunday a.m. and p.m. We all need to grow closer to the Lord and to each other through love and fellowship. Let's all continually pray for our pastors and for each other. We never outgrow our need for prayer.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Christopher Stephen Jones who were united in marriage Saturday afternoon Feb. 15, 1992, at the Fairview Baptist Church. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Harvey Pensol. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Wren, of Fairview and Mr. Jones is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jones of Berea.

They will make their home in

Dear Editor,
I would like to express my thanks to coaches Ms. Beaver and Ms. Bullock for the opportunity to coach 5th and 6th grade girls intramurals again. And also to thank the parents of the girls for making sure they were there for the games each Saturday.

The girls played 5 games, first game was against the blue team of MVES which we won 16-8. The second game was against orange of BES which we won 16-0. The third game was against the grey of RES, again which we won 27-6.

The last game was against the blue. It was a good game with our white team of MVES which had not lost any games, but had one tie against the blue. Game time came but only 3 white players showed up. The white team picked up 3 starters from the blue. It was a good game with our team winning 21-14.

I want to thank the girls on my team for giving 110% of themselves playing and making the coaching so enjoyable. The girls are: Tiffany McClure, Heather Miller, Crystal Childress, Nikki Bullock (these four had played for MVES) Jessica Johnson, Edna Graves, Nikki Cotton, and Linda Renner (these four had not played before but did a great job).

Thanks to each one.
Douglas Bullock, coach.

William Cope and son of Eshank visited his mother, Mrs. Mary Cope recently.

Mrs. Cope was able to attend church at Fairview Sunday. She hadn't been able to be out much this winter. She loves her Lord and her church. She also visited a dear neighbor, Mrs. Cora Hallome last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Ridgell and daughter Sherry were recent guests of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ridgell of Corbin.

Our most recent guests have been our sons Wayne and wife Carolyn and Junior and wife Lynceta of Berea. Also Monica Chasteen, Kim Chasteen and son Cody, also of Berea. Also our grandson Ricky Adams of Owsley Fork and his friend Darrin Sloan and of course Connie Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Alexander and children attended church at Galilee in Madison County this past Sunday with his parents Eugene and Hallie Alexander. On their way home, they enjoyed a nice lunch at Long John Silvers in Berea.

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander recently have been Mrs. Elsie Banks of Boone on Friday neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isaacs Saturday evening; their granddaughter Jewell Davidson, husband Rex and children Jenia and Jeremy of Brodhead on Sunday afternoon.

Until next time, let's remember to pray and read our Bibles. And always attend church services and Sunday School every time we can. (You know we are living in evil times now so we Christian people need to love like Christian people, not just on Sunday but everyday of the week. God knows our heart. He knows our every thought, so some may feel that people, but they don't fool God, and I'm so thankful for that.)

Keep that love in your heart for each other, especially our youth and children. They need all the love and understanding we can give them. May God always keep you in His care as my prayer.

Cards of Thanks

The family of Sallie A. Brummett sincerely appreciates everyone's thoughtfulness during our time of grief.

We would like to extend our thanks to Brother Creech and West Brodhead Church of God, Dr. Arvin and nurses, Sowder Nursing Home, friends, and for all the ones that sent flowers and fixed food.

By All Of Sallie's Family

We would like to express our thanks for the many expressions of love extended to us during the loss of our loved one, R. Earl Bullock. A special thanks to those who sent flowers, to those who called, to Bro. Lewis Walters and Bro. Shawn Madden for their comforting words and prayers, to the Freedom Baptist Church Choir for their beautiful songs, and to the Cox Funeral Home for showing so much care and concern.

May God bless you all.

The Bullock Family

To Friends, Neighbors of Brodhead and surrounding communities:

The family of Bernice Adams would like to express our sincere Thanks to each and everyone for their thoughts, prayers, visit calls, food, flowers, and support during the death of our wife and mother.

Special thanks to Bro. Raymond Flynn, Linda Witt, and Watson Funeral Home.

The kindness you have shown will never be forgotten. We are proud to be a part of this community. The support you have given us will help us overcome this great loss.

Thank you and May God Bless you all.

stranded while waiting for their bus which had made an unexpected detour to Pongo to deliver two students from MVES. An extra bus, and dividing the Livingston group by neighborhoods, should ensure that all children arrive home by a reasonable time. Anyone who can arrange a carpool is encouraged to do so.

Members of Champions Club will be excused for two sessions if they want to participate in the YSC babysitting program. Most clubs will not meet during the week of 4-H sewing classes at each school. Since Champions Clubs will continue thought May, it is important that children not lose the opportunity to take part in the 4-H and YSC groups that meet for only a few days. Champions leaders will catch them up on anything they miss for a good reason but expect regular attendance otherwise since the children are involved in skill building activities.

Put Your Best Foot Forward...

Are you doing the very best you can for your farm?

Sometimes farming is so time-consuming, it's easy to forget that farming is a business too. And like every business, farming requires thorough financial planning.

That's where we can help. Because we're a step ahead. We make it our business to understand farming from the ground up, and the problems you face daily. Whether it's a loan for equipment or supplies, or long-range goals like estate planning, our farm money-managers speak your language.

Stop in and step ahead. With a little help from us, you can put your farm's financial future on sound footing.

BY HILDA PAYNE GABBARD

By the time you read this, it will be two days before March and I'm telling you we have already had some signs by the hard blowing winds. Galites Baptist Church called Bro. Steve Cole of Richmond to be our new pastor. He did some preaching a few times before he was called and the five pulpit committee members liked what they heard. So did the members of the church. We welcome Bro. Cole and his lovely wife, Shirley, to be part of our church family. Come out and hear Bro. Cole sometimes. You will be fulfilled. The pulpit committee members were Deacon Harold Cole, Deacon Woodrow Gabbard, Larry Abrams, Lee Abney and John Gabbard. In Scaffold Cane, Steve Bullen was doing some farm work. Joyce had gone to stay with their grandson while his mother works, then Joyce returns home at night. Steve tells us that he belongs to the Gideon group, men interested in helping others find the Lord. He goes to different places in the county, to the hospital or to the jail, wherever they learn there is a need for spiritual teaching. These men have breakfast together on Saturday mornings, make their visitation plans then go out to the places to visit. People and Places. Lewis Luville from Flat Gap drops in 1-75 Shell. Lewis used to be caretaker for Scaffold Cane graveyard, and really kept it nice looking, but he has given up the job this year. Becky Hogan saying her husband John handled the only Valentine she could write.

Hilda E. Gabbard worked on my car door, took it all apart. I was scared to death that he couldn't put it all back together again. But they are specialists in car repair so I didn't need to worry. I tell you if you get a hole in your pants or slacks, Eula Lamb is tops in mending it. I took my slacks to her and after she did the job, I couldn't find the hole. She does mending for Quality Cleaners' customers and I hope she doesn't quit them. You all will be rock to her down there. Rockcastle County Road Department has done a nice job on some places in northern Rockcastle, one from Madison County line back toward Mt. Vernon where it was needed. We passed and saw Jack Miller from Clear Creek on the job.

Well, I enrolled in Dorothy Christman's Body Recall Exercise Class taught by Carol Lippincott, a whizz at the job (and in looks as well). I have class with some who were with me a year or so back such as Mary Bowman Casey, who plans to put some muscles to work. I plan to leave a stomach (that I get every year) with the place. I believe Bessie Dyk gets more take than anyone out of the walk we took the first thing of a morning. One woman, Lois Morgan, wears a leaf green outfit which is so pretty. I see now why her husband, Jim Morgan, joined the class, not only for the good he'll get in his body, but to keep an eye on his pretty wife. Other new members I met, next

"We stopped in Wildcat at the home of Myrtle Abney Adams to return her picture I had used in this column some time ago. "We really stopped Myrtle, to rent the house in your yard," I told her. "It will need some repairs but John is good at that. I've always wanted to live in a tree house." I pointed to one in her yard. Myrtle began laughing at my joke. "The grandchildren built that and played in it until they grew up. I've been trying to get them to take it down, it looks so bad."

"No, I wouldn't. It looks like kids live here," I said, knowing Myrtle lived mostly alone since her husband, Earl, had passed away. However, Myrtle has good neighbors living in the next yard. In talking to Mattie Gigg at Berea, I learned that her daughter, Joyce Stephens who works for Berea College in the Labor and Financial Aid Department field, with some other employees, to Richmond, Virginia concerning aid the government is going to give for student loans.

Mattie was much concerned, as mothers are, with Joyce's flight in an airplane but Joyce will get enough thrills to tell her grandchildren how exciting it was. I just want to tell 102281 how happy I was to get the late birthday card picturing a beautiful, big yellow rose - my favorite flower. Even though I was 49 (again), I can be childish and say how much I liked the thought.

In Berea National Bank, I ran into Attorney Jim Lambert from Mt. Vernon who was here on business. It's always good to see him for he's an old family friend of the Paynes in Rockcastle. Kaye Abney called inviting John and me to a birthday "get together" that night of a few friends on February 18th, Lee's birthday. We could only go about 5 p.m. for a short time so, taking Lee a birthday card and gift, we went to the Gabbards for we appreciate the songs Lee sings that are our favorites.

We had given Lee a bottle of Old Spice aftershave and, right here, I made trouble for it was perfume which I knew would make the women at church who come around to shake hands give Lee a hug instead. In fact, I had plans myself. I did hate to miss the ice cream and birthday cake by leaving so early. They said Jeremy would take care of my part. As Nancy Baker Gadd, born and raised on Big Sandy of Rockcastle, by breathing her last on February 15, 1992, I thought there has been a true woman of the mountains who gave her life of 96 years, and to within three months of age 97, to a hard way in the hills, raising a large family after she married McKinley Gadd. The family soon left the home for their own lives. After several years, McKinley Gadd passed away leaving Nancy alone to face the trials of daily life.

I would drive past her home on Scaffold Cane and see her sitting by herself in a rocker on the porch. Some of the family came to live with Nancy and take care of her.

One day, I did stop to talk with her and she told me it was her birthday May 15, 1987, Nancy had seen 92 years come and go that day.

She talked of her early life when, as a young girl, she came to my dad's store on Clear Creek carrying a bag of shelled corn on her shoulder to sell in exchange for things she needed.

Nancy didn't complain. It was the way of life in the hills and she accepted her lot, doing the best she knew how. She told of attending church in these last few years at Crestview Holy Sanctuary on U.S. 25 north which is a beautiful, large building. John and I went to visitation night which was at the church where it was held. I only wish this woman who had so little in life could have seen all the beautiful flowers banked around Nancy as she lay in a last peaceful sleep.

And, maybe Nancy did see them as well as the large crowd of family and friends. Maybe God did let her look back and see them as a farewell to earth before she entered the gates of Heaven.

Till next week, the health hint I would give folks is to make a tea of a plant called "rat veins" and drink. Try this, Lonnie Reppert.

Mrs. Gail Reams, Broodhead Post Office clerk, recently received a plaque from Chris Britton, director of marketing, main post office, Lexington. The plaque recognizes the superb effort Gail put forth during Christmas at the Fayette Mall retail unit of the postal service as well as her professionalism, service and courtesy to the customers.

Teen Center Perspectives

BY: Michael Durham

Spring is in the air, well, not quite yet, but spring cleaning is in the air at RTC.

This is spring cleaning week. The staff, and teens will be giving the center some "clean relief." I wonder how many hands will fit a broom and paint brush, we will see.

In other business, last Friday night we had our related parents open house at the RTC. Several parents visited, and a nice chat was enjoyed by all. It is very important that CAP and the RTC build a bridge of friendship between the staff, and parents of our teens, so that a strong line of communication of the needs of the teens can be expressed in order to build a nurturing environment for our teens at the center.

Another bit of business involved our World of Work Program last Wednesday when the staff and teens visited WKXO AM Radio in Berea. It proved to be an interesting trip for everyone to hear and learn about the broadcasting biz from Bob Spradlin, the owner-manager of WKXO, and Charles Napier, one of the station's DJs.

Most of the teens remember Mr.

Napier from his fifth grade class at MVES. Indeed, Charles is a very talented character, teacher, DJ, entertainer and soon to black belt in Karate to add to his many talents. Charles has been a DJ for over 20 years and knows radio business inside and out.

The teens really enjoyed listening to Charles and Mr. Spradlin about radio.

Mr. Spradlin has been a lifelong radio personality as well, and is quite knowledgeable in the areas of advertising, and as to what it takes to be a DJ.

CAP and the RTC would like to thank Mr. Napier, Bob Spradlin and Jerry Bowling (who was on the air for allowing us to visit their facility. Everyone tune into WKXO for the finest in radio entertainment.

This week's schedule:

Monday - 3:30 to 7 p.m., Jr. High Night, 12 - 14 years of age only.

Tuesday - Open recreation, Games "R" Us, 3:30 - 5 p.m. Champion Program, AA - Alanon, Children of Alcoholics at 7:30.

Wednesday - Open Recreation, Games "R" Us, World of Work 5 p.m., R.A.P.

Thursday - Open Recreation, Games "R" Us, 3:30 to 5 p.m. Champion program, "Crossroads with Dana".

Friday - Open Recreation, Games "R" Us, Teen Council, R.A.P., T.G.I.F. Saturday - Special Events, Road trips, Service project.

Roundstone students have been studying several exciting areas in Library Skills during visits to the library. According to librarian Lora Lee Mink, the Primary School has been studying a series designed to encourage young students to use and enjoy the resources of the school library. "The School Library Adventures of the Lollipop Dragon, is a film strip of Lollipop Dragon and his friend Apple Blossom that involves the students in several exciting activities.

Since the school library plays an ever growing role in education, the importance of acquiring library skills increases for the students in middle school and junior high grades. These grades have been studying methods of finding materials and resources in the library and how to use the resources. Study of the card catalog, maps, graphs, and several different kinds of reference books have helped the students enjoy the resources of the library at Roundstone.

Two Roundstone teachers, Lois Cameron and Shelby Foytner, and three parents from Roundstone will attend a workshop on parent involvement in the school. The parents attending will be Anita Todd, Phyllis Harding, and Melanie Lyons. The workshop in Somerset is sponsored by the Chapter 1 program in Rockcastle County.

As a part of the "Find the Good and Praise It" month, mine Robert Huber will be at Roundstone Elementary School on Monday, March 2, to promote self-awareness and creativity. Many other self-awareness activities have been scheduled for the month of March. Watch this newspaper an read will announcements about this special month in the Rockcastle County Schools.

The staff of Roundstone Elementary School would like to thank the Roundstone PTA for making the Open House on Feb. 18, a success. More than one hundred parents and students were in attendance to visit rooms, view creative works, and to watch skits performed by the students.

Tiger Pause

We would like to apologize to Miss Tiffany Hopkins for getting her name wrong in last week's Tiger Pause. Oops!

The classes of Mrs. Kathy Reynolds and Mrs. Katrea Cash would like to thank Mrs. Beverly Sexton for sharing her story telling talent with the fourth grade.

Our teachers continue their professional development. Mrs. Julie Parsons and Mrs. Margie Bishop attended a primary math workshop Friday. Mrs. Jeannine Parsons and Mrs. Lena Hayes spent the day in Richmond, Saturday, regarding the Whole Language Approach to the primary level.

KET representatives, George Benson and Darlene (Hayes) Karl, a Rockcastle native, spent the morning with our sixth graders Tuesday morning, explaining KET's offerings.

We would like to recognize Regina Blanton and Beth Durham for high sales for the annual Tiger Tales.

Monday, March 2, we are encouraging our students to look their best since spring pictures will be taken. Remind your children to wear something bright and attractive.

You are all invited to the sixth grade's DARE Graduation, Tuesday at 7 p.m., March 10. This is an (Cont. to A-10)

Test administered

The last edition of the Mt. Vernon Signal reported that RCHS had begun the new assessments required by KERA 1990. Shown above is Ms. Connie Riddle administering the transitional or NAEP-Like test to a group of seniors. Several seniors reported that the test included items that high school graduates should be required to know and a few seniors even reported the writing section as being enjoyable.

Kim Kirby recently received the second place honor in the district "Voice of Democracy" essay contest sponsored by the National VFW. Other Rockcastle participants included Angela Stallworth and Sonya Morgan. Kim is pictured above with Alfred McNew, VFW, left, and Dale Whitaker, right.

Rockcastle County Director of Student Services, Larry Hammond, watched as County Judge Executive Roland Mullins, right, signed a proclamation declaring March "Find the Good and Praise It" month.

PROCLAMATION

Find the Good - And Praise It

WHEREAS: Being a small rural school district in Eastern Kentucky, Rockcastle County Public Schools have fought hard for their gains in the fields of technology and the arts.

WHEREAS: Test scores have risen dramatically.

WHEREAS: The district is now among the top twenty in school attendance.

WHEREAS: Many of our teachers are receiving national recognition through-union and board appointments.

THEREFORE: I do hereby designate the month of March as "Find the Good - And Praise It" month.

Workshop

On Tuesday, Feb. 18, Mrs. Ann Moll of the State Dept. of Education held a workshop on collaborative teaching. The purpose of the workshop was to introduce teachers to training which would enable the schools to better serve the special needs child. Each of the elementary schools, as well as the high school, had teacher representatives who participated.

Money Matters

A Series Of Informative "Plain Talk" Thoughts Regarding Your Money Matters

Money Is A Form Of Energy

The subject of money is an interesting one. People lie for it, die for it, marry for it — not to mention spending most of their lives working for it. In spite of the fact that money affects us all, most people know very little about money.

Money is a form of energy that makes it possible to go places, have things, as well as serving as a sort of yardstick by which we measure success.

To make money work for you it must be controlled. First, you must control spending it. The next step is taking the excess and making it work for you. This is not always easy because money is easier to spend than it is to save.

Since money is our business, we've got the experience and the expertise to help you get the financial side of your life into a controlled, disciplined plan that will pay you dividends for the rest of your life. Stop in and see us.

We Think Money Matters!

Library News

By: Geraldine Robbins

H. Allen Pensol, the newest member of the Rockcastle Co. Library Board, brings with him the experience and creative talents necessary for the expansion of the library's goals for long term planning. As an actor in and director of numerous children's theatre productions, Allen has worked extensively in fostering the use of language as a means of accentuating all that is positive in young people's lives.

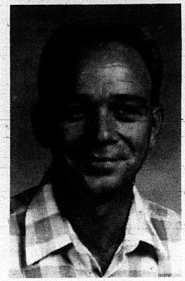

The son of Rev. and Mrs. Harvey Pensol, Allen holds a B.S. degree in Art Education and a Speech and Theatre. Upon graduating from Cumberland College in 1979, he toured with many nationally known theatre companies before returning to Mt. Vernon where he is employed by the local school board as the Basic Arts Coordinator.

"I am looking forward to working very closely with the trustees. They have quite a few new objectives for the library and I hope to make many valid contributions."

And with this statement from Allen, we feel sure he will play an active part in the growth and expansion of the Rockcastle County library.

We will be giving you information about the other members of the library board in the following weeks.

The art show (Images From the Mounaifs) will arrive at our library for display March 8. There will be more information on this next week. We are extending a special invitation to all the teachers in the school system to bring your students in to see the art work. This is a great opportunity for them to see different concepts of art work.

H. Allen Pensol is the newest member of the Rockcastle County Library Board.

Following this art show, we will be offering another opportunity for artists in this county to show their work. This is for amateur and professional artists. We had a Local Art Show last April and it was such a great success, we want to make this an annual event. We cannot accept paintings that were shown last year. More details on this show will be given in March.

A new shipment of large-print books have arrived for those who enjoy the large type. These have become quite popular with a lot of our patrons. Included are westerns, mysteries, romances, biographies and some non-fiction.

Two new books I hope you will enjoy are: BYGONES by Layrle Spencer. Layrle has written a contemporary family novel that sparkles with the vivid, real-life characters, spirited passion and an involving narrative that endear her to millions of fans around the world.

In the six years since her bitter divorce, Bess Curran has built a successful life as an interior designer in the historic riverside town of Stillwater, Minnesota. Still angry with her ex-husband, Michael, for abandoning their marriage, she's proud of their two children, 21 year old Lisa and 19 year old Randy.

Bess, independent but lonely, had counted on her daughter's determination to get her parents back together again. When Lisa invites Bess and Michael to dinner, each is a surprise to the other, and the awkward reunion begins with angry recriminations. While the strained dinner party progresses, Lisa announces that she is pregnant and has plans to marry. Before Bess and Michael can even absorb this bombshell, Lisa tells her she intends to wear her mother's wedding dress and wants both her parents to walk down the aisle -- together.

Moved by the years and longing for the togetherness of their family once more, they are forced to consider if twenty years of love can really be erased by legal decree; and if sometimes, when the times change, people don't change along with them.

HUSTLE is a biography of Pete Rose by Michael V. Sokolove. Michael first covered Pete Rose as a baseball beat writer for the Cincinnati Post.

For months, Pete Rose's name was everywhere. His story was played out on the evening news and in banner headlines across the country. There were details about his sleazy associates, his gambling, and his legal battles. But what was missed, what nobody adequately answered was: Who is Pete Rose? And how could this have happened?

HUSTLE answers these questions by showing us the real Pete Rose. It cuts through the myths surrounding Charlie Hustle and explains how Rose could be both the All-American kid who got the most of out his talent and the bloated ex-adult who broke baseball's one absolute taboo. Based on interviews with Rose's teammates, team owners, sportswriters, police, investigators, even members of Rose's own family, HUSTLE tells the full story of how a man who made himself an American hero ended up an American tragedy.

impressive ceremony and further details will be forthcoming.

The sixth grade classes of Mrs. LaJoy Graves, Mr. Nelson Graves and Mrs. Patsy Morgan will perform "The Lost Pot of Gold" at the next PTA meeting Thursday, March 12 at 7 p.m. This date marks the beginning of a Book Fair, which will run through March 18.

Thursday, Feb. 20, marked the end of the fourth six-weeks grading period. Report cards will be coming home Thursday, Feb. 27.

Our pre-school through third grades will enjoy the performance of Robert Huber, a professional mime artist, Monday, March 2, at 1:30. The focus of his performance is: "how we can feel good about ourselves."

Our All-Star Basketball team came away with a second place win in the Corbin Tournament. We would like to congratulate Anthony Noel and Corey Scott from BES and Eddie Todd and Jarred Singleton of RES for making the All-Tournament team.

A reminder from Mrs. Jane McClure, our lunchroom cashier -- lunch meal tickets go on sale Monday, March 2.

We would like to thank some of our personnel for giving extra time after school to help our students with cooking and crafts classes. Thanks to Wanda Carroll, Geraldine Anglin, Helen Albright, JoAnn McClure, Betty Brown and Barbara Harris. Also, thanks to Mrs. Joyce Clark for help in Community Relations. The Alumni Association is making plans for the annual Alumni Banquet. The banquet, which will honor the classes of '22, '23, '24, '25, '26 and '27, will be held Saturday, April 18 at 7 p.m. If you need to make reservations or have questions, call 758-8512.

School will be dismissed April 6-10 for a Spring Break.

are eagerly awaiting Mrs. Gilpatrick's drug education presentation. They hope to learn a lot.

Mr. Napier's students of the week are Jessica McClure and Kenny Allen. In English, they started learning French. They have been studying poetry in reading. They studied about salamanders when the Fish and Wildlife man was here.

They have 21 weeks of straight A's in spelling, but they're still climbing their way up.

Mr. Woodall's students of the week are Summer Renner and Shannon Stevens. The class is writing headlines of the day for their bulletin board, "Class Headlines."

They are also earning rewards for good behavior. In math, they are studying measurements and plan to measure many different things.

In social studies, they have been studying the American Revolution and discussing Paul Revere's ride and the minutemen.

In Mrs. Kincaid's class in English and Reading, the students read and wrote tall tales. They are also looking forward to reading about the Revolutionary battles in social studies.

We have one student celebrating her birthday on February 26. We are waiting to see if March will come in like a lamb or lion.

Mrs. McKinney's class is working on creative writing in language and Southeast Asian social studies. They are also rehearsing their act for the 4-H Variety Show at Brodhead Elementary School on March 5.

Mrs. Bales' 6th grade class visited Frankfurt last Thursday. They attended a caucus, a session of the House of Representatives, toured the Capitol, the Supreme Court, and the State Wildlife Farm.

They had lunch at Mr. Gatti's and dinner at McDonald's. The day was perfect.

They have been studying the circulatory system. They were fortunate to have Mr. Alexander to provide them with a cow's heart so they could have a real "hands-on" lesson. They are working on an act for next week's variety show. Everyone is participating and they have enjoyed it very much!

Miss Abney's 7C Homeroom received a trip to Apollo's for 10 days perfect attendance. They go to 7C! 8-2 Reading is continuing to have their Junior Achievement class on Mondays. This week's lesson was on the stock market and opening a checking account.

Mrs. Parson's 8-B Class is learning about the Declaration of Independence and how this pertains to them as students.

Friday at 6 p.m. in the school cafeteria, Mt. Vernon Elementary will host the 1992 Athletic Club Banquet. Trophies will be given honoring those athletes who excel in specific areas of basketball and cheerleading. For the results, tune in to next week.

Girl Scout Cookies will be here Friday.

Mrs. Cash will be gone Monday and Tuesday, March 2nd and 3rd, to the Technology Conference in Louisville. The computer lab will be open for those scheduled to use it.

Emily Mullins, Scottie Cotton, Tim Owens, Becky Lawhorn, and Shonda McClure accompanied Mrs. Bales' class on their trip to the State Capital in Frankfort. These are the students who participated in the Kentucky Youth Assembly in December. This time they get to see the real lawmakers in action.

Have a good "Day on Campus" at EKV, eight graders.

LES students have been busy exploring and learning many interesting things about Australia during this month.

Culminating a month long unit on Australia, Allen Pensol, Basic Arts Coordinator has been in our schools doing projects.

Primary Grades - Australia Landscapes; Intermediate - Aboriginal Bark Pictures; Jr. High - Relief Maps of Population, Plant Life, Rainfall, States and Capitals.

We are looking forward to our special program scheduled for Thursday, Feb. 27. This program will feature:

"OZ Music Award Winner, Australian Soona McDowell has delighted audiences of all ages of three musical programs with her family oriented musical programs.

Accompanying herself on guitar and autoharp, Mrs. McDowell's traditional and original music reflects life in the "Land Downunder" as well as her humanitarian and ecological beliefs. Throughout her programs, there are many opportunities for audience participation and family interaction. Whether joining in an Australian folk dance or performing in her "Bush Band" using homemade and "Aussie" instruments, Soona McDowell's concert are something for everyone and is family entertainment at its best!

LES will host Roundstone K-3 at 8:30 a.m. and 9:30 a.m. A special lunch for LES students is planned. Lunch includes: Australian Meat Pie, Kookaburra Corn, G'Day Green Beans, Fais Dindam Fruit and a Warming Mulled Cooler.

Many of our students are involved in the "Champion Clubs," coordinated by Ginny Gilpatrick.

Students are very excited about such clubs as: Clogging, Cooking, Art, and special activities at the Youth Center.

6-8 grade students will begin a Red Cross Baby-sitting Certification classes on Wednesday, Feb. 26. This program is sponsored by the Youth Service Center. About 15 students from LES are involved.

Mr. Michael Robbins and Mrs. Deborah Cummins traveled to Louisville on Feb. 17 for a presentation on The Quality School by William Glasser. Dr. Glasser states that school must be included in the child's "quality world" for motivation and achievement to occur. Also stressed was individual self-evaluation.

Ms. Becky Fain attended a workshop in Lexington on Feb. 20. The purpose of this workshop was to align the curriculum and establish benchmarks for the primary school. Ms. Fain feels that these will be beneficial in helping us to establish our program.

Mr. Bobby Webb, LES Math Specialist, and Mrs. Claudia Clark, Rockcastle Co. Chapter 1 Coordinator, attended the National Schoolwide Math Conference in Dallas, Texas.

Three schoolwide Chapter 1 Schools in Dallas were visited. Principals from schools all over the United States showed ideas they have incorporated in their schools projects. Accountability requirements were shared by national leaders of Chapter 1. The trip was very enlightening and beneficial.

March begins our month to promote many activities and events that will encourage our staff and students to "Find the Good - And Praise It!"

LES monthly PTO meeting will be held March 5. It is very important that every parent attend this meeting since election of officers for next year will take place.

We will be entertained with a play presented by Mr. Robbins' 5th grade and Mrs. Peggy McClure's 1st grade.

The Kindergarten class has been very busy. We have met all but five of the letter people. We are working on recognizing the capital letter, the lower-case letter and the sound for each letter.

We have also been counting, making patterns and matching rhyming words.

With the help of Mrs. Ballinger's third grade, we retold the story of "The Mitten." Our books were in the shape of a mitten. We also used a mitten shape to make a mitten person.

Our favorite song has been about a snowman. We have listened on singing it every day. Since we didn't get any real snow, we have had to be satisfied with making snowmen from such things as cotton balls, marshmallows, and paper plates.

We had a great Valentine's party. It was fun looking at all the different Valentines. The Valentine song we learned included each of our names. This makes us feel special.

For President's Day, we made a log cabin using pretzels as logs. We had to promise not to eat any "logs" until our art was finished and the desks were cleaned off!

Then we got to pretend we were termines and eat the rest of the logs! We're looking forward to the next six weeks. It will be exciting to discover what Mrs. Bullock has planned for us next!

3rd grade news: This six-weeks in language arts we have begun literature based reading. We have read several different books such as Much Bigger Than Martin, Amelia Bedelia, Bedtime for Frances, Kermit the Frog, and we are working on Sarah, Plain and Tall. The students are excited and eager to do our reading now.

Reading these books has led to the students writing books of their own!

5th grade news: The 5th grade has been working with Ms. Cummins' and Mr. Robinson on the importance of school and how our jobs in the future will be affected by our education.

Several adults visited our classroom to share their job educational experience with us.

The following have visited: Mrs. Geraldine Robbins, Rockcastle Co. Librarian; Mrs. Pam Chaliff, Bookmobile Librarian; Mr. Kevin Robinson, farmer; Mr. Roy Cummins, Music final entertainer; Mrs. Laura Doan, restaurant cook; Mrs. Patricia Martin, school librarian; and Mrs. Sharon Everson, factory worker; and Mr. Jim Ed Gibbons, U.S. Army.

Each of these people have shared much and interesting information. We have really enjoyed their visitors and appreciate their help.

The Seventh grade students have been very busy planning and preparing for the Science Fair in March. Many students mentioned that they like working on their project and practicing the Scientific Method.

8th grade news: Students studied the History of St. Patrick's Day. Many are involved with preparing for our 2nd edition of the Livingston Link newspaper.

After attending an information program and tour at RCHS, students' final decisions about scheduling subjects for their freshman year at RCHS.

The following are speeches submitted to Modern Woodmen. Winner and runnerup will receive trophies at graduation.

EKU training for commercial driver's license

As the deadline for obtaining the national Commercial Driver's License (CDL) approaches, nearly half the estimated 96,000 commercial drivers in Kentucky have not passed the CDL examination.

Eastern Kentucky University's Division of Special Programs will be offering three training sessions devoted to help commercial drivers pass the CDL test.

The seminars are scheduled for Friday, March 13 and Tuesday, March 24, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. each day. Registration is required and class size is limited. For more information about course registration seminar cost, call (606) 622-1226.

It's a whole lot of trouble to get one "nut"

A conservative Republican from Western Kentucky has put a little life in a less than bright Kentucky legislative session.

Legislators were discussing the bill that will allow Governor Jones to replace half of the trustees on Kentucky's University boards. Of course the bill was introduced after then Governor Wallace Wilkinson appointed himself to the U.K. board. Allen, who was obviously against the measure, took the floor and told his colleagues that it had never been good practice to cut down the entire tree, just to get one nut.

Of course many Democrats didn't think his comments were funny, but he did get a chuckle from most of his Republican cronies.

Of course the bill passed, but I'm inclined to believe that Allen was probably right. It may not have been the most ethical thing to do when Wilkinson appointed himself to U.K.'s board, but what he did was within the law and I don't think it hurts anything to have a variety of people on a state university board.

Jones will most likely replace Wilkinson, and others, and the next Governor will probably do the same thing, in order to take care of personal friends and supporters, so the bill in itself will probably do the university boards more harm than Wilkinson's appointment.

On a separate day during this legislative session, Democrats were plugging for Presidential candidate Bill Clinton.

One Democrat made the comment in his back pocket. Allen then commented that while it may be true that Clinton has the nomination in his backpocket, he can't find his pants.

A friend of mine who runs a local American plant asked me the other day why I didn't write an editorial bashing Japanese. Of course he was only kidding. I guess to see what kind of response he would get from me. I'm not sure where all this will end, especially with the announcements Monday that General Motors had lost 4.5 billion dollars and would phase out 16,000 jobs in three years. That kind of news makes many American workers even more bitter toward the Japanese, who they think have caused all of their problems.

Just My Opinion

By: Richard Anderkin

Of course the Japanese haven't caused all of our problems, they are much deeper rooted than the huge trade deficit between our two countries and bashing them will not solve any of this country's economic problems.

People should understand a couple of things. American farmers sell more products to the Japanese than any other foreign country and you don't hear them bashing their good paying customers.

And, like it or not the Japanese have opened American plants, they employ many American workers and in most cases they try to cooperate with our governmental agencies.

We should take a look at our problems at home before blaming another country for something we have actually caused ourselves.

Points East

By: Ike Adams

There is, among the press and even among people who are intelligent, much concern about the quality and qualifications of the people some of us elect to public office these days. Some of us still vote and, according to the critics, we're doing a lousy job of choosing the folks we send to the places where democratic thinking and decision-making is supposed to occur.

I don't personally have much quarrel with that. I've been watching the Kentucky Legislature at work over the last several weeks and frankly, I have much more faith and trust in the monkey cage at the Louisville Zoo than I do in our State House. The monkeys are, categorically, more honest than the accumulation of political hacks assembled in Frankfort right now. I also believe that an argument could be made and substantiated that there is more raw intelligence in the zoo. It would certainly be interesting to give both cages an IQ test.

Of course, if we tried to do that, emerge from The Committee on Animal Abuse and a certain gentleman or lady would bring, before the Floor, some contention that asking animals to do paper work might put them into dire stress. Such action would be considered inhumane and contrary to the well being, warmth, satisfaction, procreation, longevity, livelihood, motherhood, fatherhood, etc. of monkeys and heaven knows they have enough trouble already.

Asking monkeys to compare themselves with state level politicians, the good gentleman or lady would argue, might possibly lead them to the verge of extinction. And, heaven help us again, The Good Lord knows that this state would be up *%&# creek if they *%&# monkeys ever stopped mating.

So, let's ask for the ayes and nays. "All in favor of House Bill 67895 say aye." Silence. "All opposed to monkeys taking IQ tests say nay," and there is thunderous applause. Once again, the state legislature has saved us from a travesty of enormous proportions. And, if you're an average Kentuckian you have to lay back and say a solemn prayer and thank the Lord that democracy has prevailed, yet again.

On the other hand, if you're like me and if you've been to the zoo lately, it seems that thomonkeys are doing just fine when it comes to pre-creating. Used to be five monkeys up there. There must be over a hundred now and every single one of them seems to have a baby. I'm talking happy, well-fed and apparently well-adjusted monkeys at that. They're still in the same cage. There's just more of them. But the point is that they seem to be getting along just fine.

The head monkey sits out top of a rock and looks for fights. When he sees one, he breaks it up. He just jumps in the middle and pushes out with both arms. Sometimes he has to yell a little bit, but mostly the other monkeys respect his judgement. It wasn't there when they had the election, but I'd bet even money that every single monkey in the cage had something to yid that guy getting into office. I'd bet even money they all voted for him.

I'd also bet that he could administer an IQ test at almost no cost to the taxpayers of this state. "All in favor of Democracy stick up your hands." And, every monkey in the cage would vote.

More than half of all eligible Kentuckians don't even register to vote. Of those who do, fewer than half go to the polls. The vast majority that doesn't vote makes a past time of speaking ill about the politicians who so ineptly pass laws that hurt the state when they take time away from looking for opportunities to line their hip pockets. And that, in essence, is what our State Legislature is all about.

We have a few people sending a few scoundrels to Frankfort on a regular basis and those scoundrels are almost exclusively concerned about what they can do to make life better for themselves at the taxpayer's expense.

I can count on the fingers of both hands the elected folks gathered in Frankfort right now who give the slightest *%& about making life better in this state. Special interests and profiteering are the order of the day and you know that as well as I do.

My problem is that I don't know what to do about it. The problem for all of us, is that we -- none of us -- know what to do about it.

On the surface, it would seem that an easy solution might involve finding some honest candidates who truly represent the people and getting them into office.

Thomas Jefferson maintained that four years was the maximum that anybody ought to have to serve and, at the end of that term, they could go back to tending care of their personal business. Jefferson believed that serving democracy was more than a privilege -- it was an obligation within certain limits and he believed we should all have a shot at it.

The trouble is that hardly anybody capable and competent is willing to make that obligation anymore. We are too content to turn our affairs over to professional crooks who bleed us to the fainting point and instead of doing something about it we simply support the one we believe to be less evil than the others. In Thomas Jefferson's philosophy, there was no room for such an animal as a professional politician, but name me one who isn't.

So they gather in Frankfort and they seek longer terms of office. They trade us like cheap cattle and we bow and bend and complain when they are not in earshot. We kiss their behinds when they come around. They look at the multi-billion dollar pot of money they have wrested from us and they try to figure how much more money can get into their own hip pockets. And they call it Democracy and we let them.

Shame on us!!! The monkeys at the Louisville Zoo could pass the IQ test. Have no doubt of that. I guarantee you they would be cheaper, if not more effective, at running our government than the bunch we have put in charge. If no other honest people are going to do it, I vote we give the monkeys a chance. What do we have to lose?

My gray hairs say that you're sixteen. Your mirror says the same. But when that day is Leap Year day, Only four days can you claim! Happy Birthday Sarah Wilson Love, Dad, Mom Kate and Matt

Conley entertains; makes appeal for museum

John Conley sang "Blue Moon of Kentucky" to the House Tourism Development and Energy Committee at Frankfort last week.

Conley, a country music performer, was there to join a chorus of music enthusiasts in seeking state financial backing for a museum showcasing Kentucky's contributors to the music industry.

Conley, of Woodford County, told the committee that tourists would flock to the proposed Museum of Kentucky Music and Hall of Honors.

The list, he said, of who would be honored includes country stars, Loretta Lynn, Crystal Gayle, Tom T. Hall, Ricky Skaggs, Dwight Yoakam, Steve Wariner and the Judds.

The museum would be developed at Renfro Valley along I-75 in Rockcastle County, he explained. It remains in the planning stages, while organizers try to raise $3.2 million.

To date, they have gathered about $300,000 and received local worth about $250,000.

In related meeting, the Kentucky Tourism Council, a statewide tourism industry association, has released its 1992 Legislative Policy. The Kentucky Tourism Council has addressed various issues it feels are key to the growth and development of tourism in Kentucky.

The mission of the Council is to unite Kentucky's tourism industry; its goal is to increase tourism spending and development in Kentucky in 1992-94. Other concerns of the council include increasing tourism within the state by allowing the voters within a precinct to determine the availability of alcohol by the drink, and to remain competitive by not imposing any new taxes on tourism businesses that are not dedicated to tourism development and promotion.

According to Horace Shrader, Chairman of the Council, "We as an organization must have a vision of the tourism industry in the year 2000 and beyond, if we are to remain competitive in this ever changing economy and world. We must be prepared to meet the challenges that lie before us and shape the future to an ever growing an increasingly important industry."

Dale Ann Bradley and New Coon Creek Girls to perform at Renfro

One of Dale Ann Bradley's dreams has always been to be a "Coon Creek Girl." One of the Coon Creek Girls' problems was trying to decide just how to ask Dale Ann Bradley to join their band. Neither of them realized it was a mutual dream until one day last year when Vickie Simmons, leader of the New Coon Creek Girls, decided to take the chance and ask Dale Ann to seriously consider becoming one of the "Coons."

"I got up that morning," says Vicki, "and I told myself, 'Before I do another thing, I'm going to drive down to Mt. Vernon and offer that girl a job!'"

"We had watched Dale Ann on stage and every time she'd sing, we'd just die thinking 'How can we do this?'"

"We were sittin' in the Dairy Queen," says Dale Ann, "and she asked me if I'd be interested in doing what they do. My eyes about popped out of my head!"

"I wasn't sure how to approach it," says Vicki. "I knew she wouldn't leave Renfro Valley, but we came up with a proposal that suited everybody. We ended up with the best of both worlds."

Dale Ann will be traveling as one of the New Coon Creek Girls, but in between show dates, they will all be on the Renfro Valley Barn Dance stage. Dale Ann will continue to do the "Gatherin'" as well as some work with the Renfro Valley Quartet.

Dale Ann never had a doubt about the "rightness" of her decision. "This has all worked out so well, and we all get along so great, that it feels like it was something that was just meant to be."

"My only thought," Vickie adds, "when I asked Dale Ann to join us was 'Wow! I should've done this a long time ago!'"

"The New Coon Creek Girls' band is made up of four talented musicians: Vickie Simmons, who plays bass guitar, Ramona Church on banjo, Jennifer Wrinkle, the fiddler, and Dale Ann, rhythm guitar. All four of the girls sing.

Many people today still remember the Original Coon Creek Girls with Lily May Ledford, who were popular from the late 30's to the mid-50's. "In many ways, our band is similar to the Original Coon Creek Girls," says Vicki. "Mr. John Lair gave both bands their start, and naturally, we're all girls just as they were."

"When they started in 1939, they were the first all-girl band in country music. When we started in 1979, that was still a novelty; but now, in 1992, there are a lot of really good female musicians."

"We still do several of the original band's songs. There's Pretty Polly, Banjo-Pickin' Girl, Blue-Eyed Boy, and How Many Biscuits Can You Eat? But we've taken the older group's traditional music and expanded it into a more marketable Bluegrass. We travel more than the Original Coon Creeks did, too."

"Does traveling and all that time spent on the road present a problem for the New Coon Creek Girls, especially those with youngsters at home? Vicki has two children, a son and a daughter, and Dale Ann has a four-year-old son.

"I couldn't do this if it weren't for my mom and dad," says Dale Ann. "I wouldn't leave my son, Gerald, if I couldn't leave him with them."

Three of the four "New Coon Creek Girls" were in Renfro Valley lately. From left: Ramona Church, Vicki Simmons and Dale Ann Bradley.

"My mom's a lifesaver. I couldn't do without her," Vicki admits. "I guess I would figure out something else if I had to, but I wouldn't feel near as good about it. I don't feel bad getting off knowing that she's taking care of things."

One of those recent road trips gave new meaning to the word "togetherness" for the girls. "We were right together for the whole show (two days)," Ramona tells us, "and then on the way home the van broke down. We came home in the cab of a wrecker -- ALL of us. We laughed and sang and had a big time. We never once got on each others' nerves!"

A ride in a wrecker is but a small inconvenience for girls who have been determined from childhood to be Bluegrass musicians.

"We're a mountain family from the foothills of North Carolina," says Ramona. "My dad played, and my grandpa played. I'd watch my grandpa play and I'd think, 'I want to do that! I want to do that!' My grandpa said if I really wanted to learn, we'd get me started taking lessons. That was when I was eight, and now I'm almost 18!"

"My uncle played," says Vicki, "but he lived in Ohio, so I only got to see him at family reunions and things. When I did see him, I'd aggravate him to death. I got $35 for Christmas when I was about 12, and I took it and bought a guitar. I learned to play by watching educational television. Later, Mom got me a better guitar and I started playing with my uncle. He was playing Bluegrass -- I mean, he was Flatt/Scruggs! Bill Monroe all the way -- and I just got took up by that kind of music. I'm sure the girls know what I mean when I say you're in a minority in high school if you play Bluegrass music. It's not the popular thing to do!"

Dale Ann got her first guitar at 13. "I sang before then," she says, "and I kept aggravating Mom and Dad for a guitar. I finally got one, and they never slept another night after that!"

"I learned chords and stuff. I played mostly folk music. At about 15, I got to listening to Bluegrass and it just caught my ear! That was the sound I had looked for since I was little! I got real interested in it and learned all I could. It was so different than other music. I think that's what appealed to me."

Jennifer Wrinkle was in Texas at the time of the interview, so Ramona told us how they found The New Coon Creek Girls' current fiddle player.

"We were looking for a fiddle player, and Deanie Richardson told us about one who was really good. We went to Nashville and Jennifer came over and auditioned."

"She was AWESOME!" says Vicki.

"She had so much knowledge about music itself," Ramona continues. "And I mean she could just tear a fiddle up!"

Deanie Richardson, the one who recommended that Vicki check out Jennifer Wrinkle's fiddlin', herself played fiddle with the New Coon Creek Girls. She now plays with Holly Dunn. Over the years, Vicki has seen several of her "girls" go on to other bands. Both Pam Gadd and Pam Cox joined "Wild Rose," and Carnella Ramsey, a fiddle player, joined Patty Loveless.

"I think it speaks well of the band," says Vicki. "It shows the high quality of our musicians." That quality landed all the New Coon Creek Girls jobs, at different times, in Renfro Valley.

Vicki introduced Ramona to Renfro Valley, and when Dale Ann quit singing for three years, it was Vicki Simmons who re-kindled her interest. That renewed interest eventually led Dale Ann to send an audition tape to Renfro Valley. Vicki herself came to the valley, though, by being in the right place at just the right time with the right skills . . . and with a double helping of determination.

"I was working at Mt. Vernon Florist," says Vicki, "and Country Charlie (Napier) came in selling advertising. Now, I wanted to learn to play the upright bass because my uncle needed a bass player. I had decided to get one and learn how to play it so, when Country Charlie came in, I asked him if he knew anybody with an upright bass for sale."

"He said, 'Do you play one?' and I said 'Not yet!' Then he said, 'They need a bass player down at Renfro Valley. Come on down Saturday.'

"I said okay, but I didn't have a bass. I did get one in a few days, and I'd been playing it two or three weeks when Charlie called again. He said he had talked to Mr. Lair and he would like for me to be down there Saturday night!"

"Mom looked at me and said, 'Vicki, are you ready to do this?' I said, 'Well, no, not really.' She said, 'Let's go anyway!' so we packed up and came down to Renfro Valley. Of course, anybody that plays music, once you've played guitar, you've got the fundamentals."

"I played with Jan and Kelly (Cummins) that night. Mr. Lair said he was trying to make this a unit and I'd want the job? I said yes, and that's how it all got started. It seems like fate or something, all those things happening like that."

And now that they're all here, how do the New Coon Creek Girls feel about Renfro Valley?

Ramona says, "I'd never played here until I came with

Renfro opens March 7

For the 53rd year in a row, Renfro Valley opens March 7 with a Saturday night Barn Dance and a Sunday Morning Gatherin'.

The one-weekly Barn Dance at 7 p.m. Saturday and the Sunday Morning Gatherin' at 8:30 a.m. Sunday, will continue through March.

There will be all the special events to be held during the year including an Easter Egg Hunt on April 18, a Rodeo on June 5 and 6 and on Sept. 25 and 26, and a clogging competition on May 23 and 24.

The 12th Annual Rockcastle Street Rodeo's Car Show is set for June 7, and Old Joe Clark Bluegrass Festival July 2 through 4.

The All-night Gospel Sing will be Aug. 1; Talent Roundup on Aug. 15; 'Lasses Makin' and Harvest Craft Festival on Oct. 2, 3, and 4. The Fiddlers Festival will be Nov. 6 and 7.

Many more special events are scheduled.

Lady Rockets end regular season with 16-10 record

The Rockcastle County Lady Rockets lost another close one Monday night as they fell in overtime, 52-50, to Garrard County.

But, had the Lady Rockets hit more than six of their attempted 23 free throws - the outcome may have been different.

"Our free throw shooting killed us," head coach Christy Beaver said, "that was the difference in the ballgame," she added.

The Lady Rockets jumped out to a 12 point lead, 43-31, with 7:05 left in the ball game forcing Garrard to call a time-out.

This 12 point lead came about behind good defensive pressure by Beth Amys, Kristi Sargent, Cindy McCauley, all of whom are on the front of the Lady Rockets full-court press.

Garrard came out of the huddle on fire outscoring the Lady Rockets 8-0 in two minutes.

Amys ended the Lady Rockets dry spell by getting an offensive rebound off a Sargent missed free throw and fed Thacker for the easy bucket, extending the Lady Rockets lead to seven, 45-38, with 4:55 left in the game.

The Lady Rockets had a chance to go ahead by three with :42 left but Sargent was called for a foul and the bucket was waved off.

Garrard County had one more chance to end the game as they had the ball with :31 left. Garrard went for the last shot and Christy Coleman was there for the big rebound to send the game into overtime.

"It's always disappointing to lose, but the girls have to keep their heads up, they played hard, that's all you can ask for," coach Beaver said.

The Lady Rockets were plagued by turnovers--21 on the night--in the overtime period, which led to Garrard outscoring the Lady Rockets, 4-2, for the victory.

"Unfortunately, the momentum went Garrard's way toward the end of the game," coach Beaver said, "that really hurt us," she added.

The Lady Rockets had one more chance with :07 left as McCauley drove down but good defensive pressure by Garrard County denied the Lady Rockets a final shot.

"We have to learn to be smart in crucial situations," coach Beaver said, "we need to find someone who wants to take that last shot," she added.

Cindy McCauley had a big night on the boards as she grabbed 14 rebounds in the losing effort.

The Lady Rockets took a two-point lead into the locker room at the half, 19-17, and were able to extend that lead at the end of the third quarter to six, 37-31.

But the fourth quarter was for the Lions. The Rockets made turnovers and missed free throws which led to Garrard outscoring the Lady Rockets, 17-11, to tie up the ballgame.

"We need to really practice our play down in crunch time, that really hurt us," coach Beaver said.

Scoring for the Lady Rockets were: Cindy McCauley, 17; Jennifer Thacker, 16; Kristi Sargent, 14; Christy Coleman, 2; Beth Amys, 1.

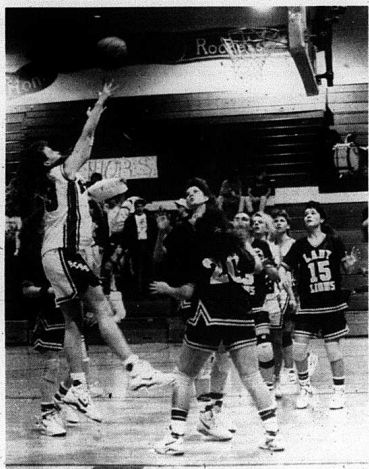

The Lady Rockets traveled to Madison Southern last Thursday night and came away with an impressive victory, 61-51.

The Lady Rockets jumped on the Eagles early taking a big 11 point lead at the end of the first quarter, 20-9.

The Eagles cut the Lady Rockets lead to seven at the end of the first half, 32-25.

Center Cindy McCauley shoots for two of her 17 points against Garrard County during the Lady Rocket's final home game Monday night. The Lady Rockets lost by two in overtime.

Rockets defeat Barbourville, 87-75, during last home game

The Rockcastle County Rockets won a big one Tuesday night as they defeat the Barbourville Tigers, 87-75.

The Rockets were avenging an earlier loss to Barbourville on the road.

The Rockets had only one point lead at the end of the first quarter, 19-18 but came out hot in the second quarter to take a 19 point lead at the half, 47-28.

The Rockets pressure defense was too much for the Tigers as they kept coughing up the ball for easy buckets for the Rockets.

The Rockets played with great intensity as they were beating the Tigers down the floor almost every possession.

The Tigers cut the Rocket lead to only 14 at the end of the third quarter, 62-48.

The Rockets never could put the Tigers away as they would get an 18-20 point lead and the Tigers would claw back cutting the Rocket lead to 11 at times.

But, J.D. Bussell's aggressive defense on Barbourville's point guard turned into turnovers and easy buckets for the Rockets.

Everything seemed to be going for the Rockets as they would get some streak shooting from Micah Parkerson and William Bullens to keep shutting the door on the Tigers.

Barbourville kept fighting back in the fourth quarter but the Rockets kept answering with fast breaks and easy baskets for the final score of 87-75.

The Rockets played aggressive defense all night sparked by blocked shots by Parkerson and Corey Craig and numerous turnovers by Barbourville.

The Rockets style of play Tuesday night showed a team that is finally getting to know each other and teamwork was definitely a factor in

"We came out and played really aggressive and really never gave Southern a chance to get into the ball game," coach beaver said.

The Lady Rockets had a big third quarter as they took a 13 point lead, 48-35, but Southern could never catch up and the Lady Rockets took home the victory.

"Cindy McCauley played a really good game, she gave us the lift we really needed," coach Beaver said.

Scoring for the Lady Rockets were: Cindy McCauley, 26; Jemitter Thacker, 14; Kristi Sargent, 11; Beth Amyx, 6; Irene Gruter, 4.

The Lady Rockets have ended their regular season play with an impressive 16-10 record. This record does not reflect how good a season the girls actually had.

They lost a lot of close games and they really deserve the credit they get.

The Lady Rockets will now go on to face the Jackson County Generals next Wednesday night, (March 4th) in district tournament play at Clay County beginning at 6:00 p.m.

next Monday night at 7:30 p.m. Grace Baptist I continued to roll by scoring 94 points in tournament action Monday against Scaffold Cane for a final score of 94-60.

Shaffer I scored 27 points in the first quarter and never looked back. With a combined scoring attack of Scott Parrett and Danny Offutt, Cane easily came out victorious. Parrett scored 35 and Offutt nailed six three-pointers for 33 points.

Grace I had great team action play from Dwayne McKinney, Dale Robinson, Jesse Mahaffey, Tony Mahaffey and Shannon Burton who passed up shots to get the ball to the open man. This unselfish style has been the reason for the team's success this year.

Scaffold Cane was again led in scoring by Kenny Graves with 27 points, 12 of those coming in the fourth quarter alone. Mike Lear, who played one of his best games of the year, added 12 points.

Bible Baptist squared off against Teen Challenge in the last game of the night. The game was close all the way with Bible coming out victorious, 56-50.

Darren Allen, coming back from an injury, had one of his best games scoring 20 points. David Bryant added 16.

Teen Challenge was led by Jeff Edwards with 20 and Bryan Reed with 18. These two players have led Teen Challenge all season by playing outstanding basketball.

Teen Challenge finished the game with only four players due to foul trouble.

Tournament action will resume this Monday night with the complete schedule of games as follows: Grace II vs. Scaffold Cane at 6:30 p.m.; Ottawa I vs. Teen Challenge at 7:30 p.m.; Grace I vs. First Baptist I at 8:30 p.m. and the winner of the 6:30 game will face the loser of the 8:30 game at 9:30 p.m.
