

Births & Birthdays

Sakes Alive! Look Who's 75! From your husband, C.S. children & grandchildren.
Mom, We love you very much.

Shelby Brooke McKinney celebrated her first birthday on January 8. Shelby is the daughter of Jeff and Tammy McKinney. Grandparents are William T. and Faye Bullen and Bill and Carolyn McKinney. Great grandparents are Arthur and Clarice McKinney and Bertha Adams. Shelby would like to thank everyone for all the nice gifts.

Larry and Deborah Prewitt of Ferguson, Ky. would like to announce the birth of their second child, a son, born March 12, 1996 at Lake Cumberland Regional Medical Center in Somerset. He has been named Zachary Lee. At birth, Zachary weighed 10 lbs., 5 1/4 ozs. and was 22 inches long. Zachary, who joins his sister, Sarah, is the grandson of Donald and Betty Wilson and J.M. and Rosa Prewitt and the great grandson of one Wilson of Somerset and Max Julia Cromer of Mt. Vernon.

Sarah Beth Burdine celebrated her 1st birthday March 19 with a Minnie Mouse party. Sarah is the daughter of Lisa Burdine of Livingston and the granddaughter of Margaret Burdine and the late Billy Burdine. Sarah would like to thank everyone for the nice gifts.

55 Alive safe driving course to be offered

The Bank of Mt. Vernon has joined with the American Association of Retired Persons (AARP) to offer the 55 alive/mature driving course. AARP offered the eight-hour classroom refresher course to help drivers 55 years of age or older improve their skills and prevent traffic accidents.

The first session of the course will be held on Monday, May 13, 1996 from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the Bank of Mt. Vernon. The second session will follow on Tuesday, May 14, beginning at 8:30 a.m. and ending at 12:30 p.m. The fee for the course is $8.00 per person which covers the cost of materials used. The first 25 people to register at The Bank of Mt. Vernon by Wednesday, May 8, 1996, will attend free.

For further information or to register for the course, call The Bank of Mt. Vernon at 606-256-5141.

The 55 Alive/Mature Driving Course is designed to meet the specific needs of older drivers. Volunteer instructors, recruited and trained by AARP, conduct the course, which is presented through a slide presentation and group discussion. Refreshments will be served.

All automobile insurance companies conducting business in Kentucky are required to provide a premium discount to graduates of 55 Alive/Mature Driving, which is a state-approved driver improvement course.

Comp Care celebrates Mental Health Month

Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center has joined thousands of organizations across the country to recognize Mental Health Month, an annual May celebration of the mental healthcare movement.

"Mental Health Month provides us with a wonderful opportunity to share our success stories with the community," said Ralph Lippes, Executive Director. "We assist people with making dramatic changes in their lives every day. This is a time to celebrate past accomplishments and set new goals for the future."

Nearly one in two of us will experience a mental health disorder at some point in our lives, according to the National Comorbidity Survey. This is a time for the communities to come together in support of mental health services because mental wellness is everyone's business. The public is invited to participate in Mental Health Month by calling the local Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center and the Mt. Vernon office invites all to attend Community Day in December.

Offices are located in Mt. Vernon (256-2129); Corbin (528-7010); Williamsburg (549-1440); Barbourville (546-3104); McKee (287-7137); Middleboro (248-4949); Pineville (227-6137); Harlan (573-1624); Benham (848-5444); Manchester (598-5172); London (864-2104); and emergencies after 4:30 call collect (606-864-2104).

These centers offer a variety of services and programs including: Individual, group, family, rape crisis, and emergency counseling for adults and children; residential treatment programs for adults suffering with developmental disabilities, severe mental illness, or substance abuse; special services for children and adolescents who are emotionally disturbed and infants and toddlers with neuropsychological impairments and developmental delays and consultation and training for businesses, organizations and schools.

Mental Health Month, a Congressionally recognized observance, was first celebrated as Mental Health Week in 1949. In the late 1960's the national observance was expanded to Mental Health Month in an effort to bring even greater attention to the activities and services of the mental healthcare movement. Today, Cumberland River Comprehensive Care Center join the National Community Mental Healthcare Council and thousands of community behavioral healthcare organizations in celebration of Mental Health Month.

Look to the Mt. Vernon Signal for articles concerning mental health matters.

Red Hill Cemetery note

As you know the old section of the cemetery is almost filled.

We are trying to get enough money together to have the land "that Mr. Joe Clark donated" cleared and sowed in grass.

Also a road or roads graded so the new section can be used.

The county has assured us they will gravel the roads. Some of you have shown concern that the church could maybe start charging a fee for lots in the cemetery. Here is what the deed says. This property is given for the use and benefit of the community, with the understanding that anyone wishing to bury their human dead may do so without being charged for the lot.

We estimate it will take between $3,000 or $4,000 to do this work. There is an open account at the Citizens Bank at Mt. Vernon. Right now there is $150.00 in the account.

So for all that want to help with this worthy cause, make your checks to The Red Hill Cemetery, c/o Dell F. Ponder, P.O. Box 238, Livingston, KY 40445.

You will be given a receipt and any donation is tax deductible. We will keep you up-dated "through the newspaper." We will have your name and the amount given printed in the paper, but if you wish that your name not be placed in the paper just let us know.

I want to make one thing clear, what we are trying to do doesn't have anything to do with the money that is collected to pay Mrs. Ruppe for the fine job she does in mowing the grass and the upkeep of the old section of the cemetery.

Thank you very much,
Arnie Renner

Storm system hits Willailla, Level Green

By: Richard Anderkin
A wind, rain and hail storm cut a swath across Rockcastle County early Saturday morning, downing barns, tearing off porches, roofs and destroying mobile homes.
The hardest hit area was apparently the Willailla, Level Green section of the county.
"People ask you why you didn't do more, why you weren't able to find shelter before it hits, but there just isn't time," said Jerry Ham, who along with his wife Dorothy, experienced some of the rough weather Saturday morning.
The good news is that nothing that can't be replaced was lost and the Hams had some insurance on their damaged property.

mind the storm that hit his farm was a tornado.
None of Hams' livestock was lost in the storm and they had about $12,000 of insurance on the two barns. Jerry Ham said it would enable him to build back at least one of them.
The Hams' neighbor Maggie Owens, also lost a barn in the storm. Just across the hill in Willailla the storm did damage to some homes and destroyed at least one mobile home, according to Signal correspondent Carol Martin, who lives at Willailla.
The destroyed mobile home was owned by Greg Cotti.

Mrs. Martin also reported that residents in Poplar Grove village a tornado passed through their community Saturday morning.
According to Mrs. Martin, the storm did extensive damage to the home of Barry and Stephanie Hurst and totaled the Hams' automobile.
Mrs. Hurst was slightly injured during the storm when she fell down a flight of stairs rescuing her small child.
Rockcastle County Judge-Executive Barz Carltofs said Monday that the only significant damage to county property was a bridge at Mullins Station which was destroyed.
Rockcastle County Red Cross reported damage to fifteen homes in the county but the nearby town of Berea was the hardest hit in the state by Saturday's storm system.
Over 800 homes and numerous businesses were damaged by the winds that reached in excess of 90 miles per hour.
Members of the National Guard have been in Berea since Saturday, helping clean up and preventing looting.
Old Town Berea was the hardest hit by the storm.

Accidental shooting

A Negro Creek man was accidentally shot by a hunting companion early Wednesday morning while both were turkey hunting in the Negro Creek area.
Jimmy Brummett was transported by helicopter to a Lexington hospital for treatment of gunshot wounds to the hand, neck and face after he was reportedly shot by his hunting companion John Baker.

Indictments for rape, criminal abuse of child

A Orlando man has been indicted for rape and a Mt. Vernon couple were indicted for criminal abuse of a child less than twelve years of age.
The indictments were returned by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury, Charlie Durham, Jr., 62, of Rt. 2 Orlando was indicted on two counts in connection with a February 18, incident that involved a boy less than twelve years of age.
According to the indictment,

Durham forced the boy to have sexual intercourse and forced him to perform in a sexual act that resulted in physical injury to the child.
Durham, who is free on a $10,000 property bond is scheduled for arraignment on Friday.
Shannon Griffith, 23, and Lori Carlton, no age available, both of Mt. Vernon were indicted on one count

I believe this is the latest arriving Spring that I can remember. I know for a fact that I generally have peasep several inches and onions, lettuce and radishes big enough to start nibbling on by the first of May most years. So far all you can see coming up in my garden is an onion sprout here and there popping up through the tundra. I wouldn't be at all surprised to dig down a foot or so and still hit ice.

Last year on the 23rd of April I was at Cumberland Falls for a seminar and the dogwoods and redbuds were all but gone. Last weekend I was there and red buds were just now coming out good and the dogwoods were barely starting to show that they still had some life left in them. Last year too, if you remember, people were complaining about a late Spring.

In the meantime, I am debating the prospects of dropping my allegiance to NAWWW (the national association of woolly worm winter weather watchers) and purchasing several gallons of the most potent insecticide they sell at the farm stores. I'd have done it already, but the stuff I want to get is so powerful that you have to go to school and get certified before they'll sell it to you. If I don't change my mind there may not be any woolly worms in central Kentucky to predict any weather come Fall of the year.

And Byron Crawford is going to have to do some tall talking before I'll be persuaded to put anything they have to say about the weather in your newspaper.

Heck, I've become the laughing stock of Garrard County as a result of last year's forecast. The only person who's getting more giggles behind his back that I know about is some fellow over in Lancaster who still thinks Pat Buchanan has something besides hot air and empty space between his ears and who still touts him as the next President of the good ole

U.S. of A.

I personally have been trying to stay out of politics. On the other hand, as the old saying goes, if you can't beat 'em you might as well join 'em. The state legislature has been posing on the steps of the Capitol a lot here lately and bragging about what a wonderful session it just completed. As far as I can tell the only thing they did was make it legal to carry concealed weapons and make it legal for themselves to go back to swapping Kentucky off to every big corporation or special interest group willing to whet their thirsts with fine whiskey and their appetites with choice steaks and jumbo shrimp.

Figure they passed the gunslinger law for their own self-protection. For example, when they discover hidden cameras in their motel rooms they can blast them out of the walls. You may have noticed that they made sure the gun law got passed before they announced that they were going to go away on her as so many of us develop ailments.

Last Sunday, John and I took our lunch and drove to the top of Big Sandy Mountain to eat. We took our dog, Spot, who likes to ride in the back of the truck. The trees are so high that the winds passed through their tops like a sigh. These pines and locusts are from 75 to 100 feet high and they grow straight as an arrow. I was so very, very proud when I saw the picture in the Signal of Student Council members at R.C.M.S. and one of those lovely, fresh, girlish faces was of my great niece, Angela Owens, daughter of Stephen and Onna

Kay Owens.

Angela was named after her grandmother, and my dearly loved sister, Angie Phillips. I hope all things go well for Angela in life.

I admired the picture of Judge Buzz Carlotts who is a bachelor, I hear, and a good friend to the schools of Rockcastle. Girls, set your future marks on this man!

Now while I am stirring in the kettle of romance, take a look at Eugene and Hallie Alexander in their picture of their 44th wedding anniversary. The deed was done when Eugene told her tales of what all he would do for her. The date was April 18, 1952. Hallie looks so pretty in that picture. Eugene looks as if he had told her she'd never have to wash in cold water if she would marry him.

Later someone asked Eugene if that was true and he told them, "No, not till she'd heat the water first!" Till next week I'll have a tale to tell you on Elmer Hale and a picture of him too.

Roamin' Rockcastle

Nobody dreamed what about to happen in Berea at 5:30 a.m. on Saturday morning April 20th 1996. Some business places had opened up, a few customers had come into early restaurants and were just giving their early morning order to a sleepy waitress when, without any warning, the gas pump slammed through the front door causing the customer to throw her coffee up in the air and run behind a man crouched in the corner. You can still hear odd stories like that.

I had just gotten up to go to the bathroom and I heard that terrible noise outside as if a train was coming into your yard and going on by. The roof swooshed on by but there was plenty of rain and rising wind. I looked outside and the trees were bending over but I was so sleepy I didn't stay up. Later in the morning when I wandered into the living room, I found John very interested in the air and he said, "Did you know a tornado went through here last night and they say it's awful what it has done up town."

And life has been upside down it seems for us.

Folks have been calling to see what happened to us after seeing television what damage had been done.

My son, Russell came down to check on us and view the sights. He was shocked as so many outsiders who tried to enter town but were stopped and turned back by the National Guard. Young weather tamed, youthful looking just kids who carried rifles and dared us with a strong, forceful look to cross the barrier, that they had put up.

No one saw it but we knew it was there.

The excitement that has been in and near Berea is still around and has caused people to come and see what odd things tornadoes can do and will last for years as folks will tell and retell of the big storm here in April 1996!

Our life has been busy. John was in the woods looking for ginseng. We had a funeral of John's cousin, Edna Gadd Wolfe's husband, Cody, who passed away in a nursing home near Berea with cancer. He and Edna lived in Louisville but she was brought back to the family cemetery, Pennington-Ramsey on Lower Clear Creek to be buried. So Cody came to Berea to be near Edna when he passed away.

Another Mark Sarver, pastor of Dixie Park Baptist Church, said the last words over Cody. I would like to have heard him for he is full of God's grace but I was unable to attend.

Beulah Moore is in the Berea Hospital unable to get around. I must go and see her for she is a good woman. Her body has begun to give

Mr. Coffey, 73, was currently pastor of Climax Christian Church. The body is at Dowell and Martin Funeral Home where arrangements are incomplete.

"Points East" (Cont. from A2) back to eating on the largest bidder's tab. If I was as crooked as some members of the Kentucky General Assembly, I'd want a gun under my arm too.

But since the law passed I guess, I'll go out and try to find a good pistol for twenty five or thirty dollars myself. A man never know when he's apt to become the target of a Pat Buchanan fan and it may get to the point that we'll all need to be armed so that we can march on Frankfort and protect ourselves from the General Assembly.

In the meantime, I may try a little target practice on any woolly worms I see crawling around the farm.

RCHS will be site for forum on high school graduation requirements

The Department of Education's office of Regional Assistance and the Education Commission of the states are hosting regional forums Thursday, April 25 from 7 to 9 p.m. to gather public comment on key policy issues surrounding high school graduation requirements.

Rockcastle County High School is one of 20 forum locations throughout the state. The date and time is the same as listed above. The General Assembly has directed the department to determine whether current high school graduation requirements adequately address the state's six learning goals and 57 academic expectations related to student assessment. A Commission on High School Graduation Requirements was formed in March and is comprised of teachers, administrators, school board members, parents, students, businesspeople and higher education representatives. The commission will use the comments from the forums to help develop strategies for change at the secondary level.

The forums will allow participants to respond to a survey, participate in small-group discussions and give written responses to the following key policy questions:

- Do the current minimum high school graduation requirements address the six learning goals and 57 academic expectations for all Kentucky students? If yes, how? If no, what graduation requirements would address the goals and expectations?

• The current system of accountability holds schools and districts accountable for student achievement. What should be the student's role in the state's accountability system?

For those unable to attend the forums, written comments will be accepted through April 30. Those comments may be sent to Pat Hurt, Division of School Improvement, 6th Floor, 500 Mero St., Frankfort, KY 40601; phone (502) 564-2116.

Copies of the six learning goals and 57 academic expectations and more information are available from Pat Hurt, local high schools or the department's eight regional service centers.

Rockcastle FFA is successful at Regional Paperworks Day

The Rockcastle FFA had huge success at the Regional Paperworks Day recently. Matt Chaliff was chosen to compete for a regional office and was elected regional president.

The chapter got the chance to have our very first Ag. Sales Team. The team consisted of Jon Adams, Matt Chaliff, Darren Cook, and Seth Saylor. The team did great by placing first. The chapter had three officer books being judged. They were Secretary's book, Amy Prewitt, Treasurer's book, Matt Chaliff and Scrapbook, Lee Ann Sigmon. All books received a superior rating, the best they could receive.

There were also several members who entered proficiencies. Ten members applied and five members won. The members were David Carpenter-Poultry Production-Superior 1st, Ag. Processing-Superior 2nd; Matt Ford-Turf, Grass Management-Superior 1st; Jessie VanWinkle-Ag. Mechanics Placement-Superior 1st; Lee Ann Sigmon-Sheep Production-Superior 1st, Landscape Management-Superior 1st; Billy Graves-Beef Management-Superior 2nd; Jon Adams-Dairy-Superior 2nd; J.C. Harris-Diversified Crop Placement-Superior 2nd and Donnie Parsons-Specialty Crop-Excellent.

Matt Chaliff also competed in the Tobacco Essay Contest. He received an excellent rating. All members did well in their contests. The winners will compete at the state level in Louisville June 12-14, 1996.

SCC Dean's List

Somerset Community College announces the following students have been named to the Dean's List for the 1995 Fall Semester. Qualifying students must earn at least a 3.5 scholastic average out of a possible 4.0. Those students from Rockcastle are Phyllis G. Anderson, Regina K. Benge, Markita B. Mink, Christy R. Thompson and Paula G. Wilmont.

Soil and Water Stewardship Week is April 28 - May 5

"Harmony: People and Places," the theme of the 1996 Soil and Water Stewardship Week observance, is reflective of a classic definition of conservation given by Aldo Leopold, an early American conservation leader. He said, "Conservation is a state of harmony between men and land."

To emphasize the need for greater harmony between people and the place in which they live, the USDA Natural Resources Conservation Service (NRCS) and the Rockcastle

County Soil Conservation District is encouraging interested individuals and organizations to join with the National Association of Conservation Districts in celebrating the annual Soil and Water Stewardship observance, April 28-May 5, 1996.

NRCS and the Conservation District, which works throughout the year to encourage soil and water conservation practices, has literature and information assistance available to local churches, civic organizations and schools interested in furthering good soil and water conservation practices in home and communities.

To observe Soil and Water Stewardship Week, the Conservation District will place announcements on WRVK 1460 AM and provide placements to local restaurants. These placements will have tips on how to live in harmony with our land.

Roy Brown, chairperson of the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation Districts, said that the district began as the Brodhead Soil Conservation District on September 5, 1944. On November 20, 1952 the district was changed to the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation District. Since then they have been helping farmers practice good conservation on their private lands. "Today," he said, "we also offer assistance to cities, organizations and individuals who have an interest in conserving natural resources. Although our focus is still on soil and water resources, we have broadened our educational services to include wildlife and forestry concerns as they relate to total natural resource management," he added.

The purpose of the national observance, begun in 1955, is to create greater awareness among individuals of their stewardship responsibility to care for America's natural resources. Since the Dust Bowl days of the 1930's, countless individuals have adopted a stewardship ethic and have applied conservation practices that have reduced soil erosion dramatically.

The nation's 3000 soil and water conservation districts, along with their state and national conservation organizations, devote their time to establish greater harmony on natural resource issues in their community. In many regions of the county, controversies over issues such as wetlands, endangered species, forest management, grazing on public lands and watersheds management, continue to escalate. In an effort to avoid the us versus them battles, conservation districts focus on situations that people can readily identify and understand, and where those affected can work together to restore harmony between themselves and their environment.

To obtain information materials designed with the 1996 theme, "Harmony: People and Places," contact NRCS and the Rockcastle County Soil Conservation Districts during business hours at the Ag Service Center on Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon, or call 256-2541, ask for Angie or Randall.

Storm damage extensive at Ham farm

The storm scattered debris throughout the farm.

Wills and Ruby Thompson's trailer was also destroyed.

Above and below, Jeff Ham and Troy Bradley work to clear debris from a barn which was destroyed after Saturday morning's storm swept through Rockcastle County.

Ham's other barn housed a cattle trailer and two boats which were completely destroyed.

Boys finish 7th, girls 8th in Lake Cumberland Classic track meet

The Rockcastle County Rockets track team participated in the Lake Cumberland Classic last week with the boys finishing seventh out of 18 teams and the girls finishing eighth out of 16 teams.

Individually for the boys, Jason Brown finished first in the 100 dash with a time of 1:1.1 and third in the 200 dash with a 2:2.4 time. Dallas Rigby, Andy Hale, Jon Cromer and Jason Brown finished second in the 400 relay with a time of 46.5. Chris Bullock finished third in the discus with a 129'6 and sixth in the shot put with a distance of 43'. Christian Parsons finished sixth in the 1600 run with a time of 5:53. Chris Benge, Layne Nicely, Andy Hale, Michael Parsons finished first in the 800 relay with a time of 1:43.6. Michael Parsons, Layne Nicely, Stuart Abney, Thomas Coffey finished second in the 1600 relay with a time of 4:21.3.

Junior Derek Tompkins tries for a pitch in the Rockets game with the Corbin Hounds Thursday night. The Rockets were hoping to avenge an earlier season loss but it wasn't to be as the Rockets lost 3-2, snapping a 7-game win streak by the Rockets. George Durham only gave up six hits for the Rockets and the Rockets garnered seven hits in the game but fell just short of the win. On Wednesday night, the Rockets played their first district game of the season and came away big winners over the Owsley Mountaineers 14-0. The Rockets picked up eight runs in the first inning and coasted to the win in five innings. The Rockets didn't fare as well in their second district game, against Clay Co., as they lost 10-5 in a game riddled with fielding errors by the Rockets. On Monday, the Rockets hosted a talented Estill Co. Engineers team and lost 10-2 to bring their season record to 8-7.

Craft Festival accepting applications from exhibitors

The Berea Craft Festival, which is celebrating its 15th year during the 3-day weekend of July 12-14 at Berea, is looking for a few craft exhibitors to fill a very limited number of openings. Some of the craft categories are already closed but everyone is invited to apply.

Professional craftspersons who create quality work are asked to submit five slides or small samples of their craft medium, along with a description of each item and personal resume, to: Berea Craft Enterprises.

P.O. Box 128, Berea, KY 40403. A SASE must be enclosed for the return of the slides/photos/samples.

Approximately 115 craftspersons, from all over the U.S., are selected by application and special invitation, to exhibit and demonstrate their particular craft at the three-day event.

"WHEELS FOR LIFE" BIKE-A-THON RESCHEDULED

The 1996 "Wheels For Life" Bike-A-Thon has been rescheduled due to last Saturday's inclement weather. The event will take place this Saturday, April 27th from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Rockcastle County Middle School.

This community-wide event is being sponsored by Christian Appalachian Project (CAP) volunteers and will benefit the St. Jude Children's Research Hospital in Memphis, Tennessee.

There is still time to sign up if you have not already pre-registered but want to participate. Please call 256-5810 if you have any questions or if you want to participate.

Little League Opening Day

The official Opening Day for Rockcastle Co. Little League was postponed from last Saturday, because of bad weather, to Monday night. But, Monday night, the season was kicked off when David "Diamond Dave" Brock threw out the first pitch to get the 1996 season underway. The day also coincided with David's 49th birthday. In the photo at left, David throws the first pitch to photo at left, Marty Reagan, catcher for the Cardinals. The Cardinals were defeated in the season opener by the Cubs 10-6. The bottom photo is of Matthew Silcox, first batter for the Cubs, going for a pitch. Umpire David Bryant was behind the plate for the opener.

Singleton attends 100th anniversary celebration of Kentucky Growers Insurance Company

Donnie Singleton, an agent for Kentucky Growers Insurance Company, participated in the 100th anniversary celebration of the company. Singleton Insurance Agency represents Kentucky Growers in Rockcastle.

The 100 year celebration was held April 10 at the French Quarter Suites Hotel in Lexington. According to Singleton, it was a monumental event, with over 200 in attendance. Agents came from across the state to celebrate the historical aspects of the company, as well as participate in the annual agent's meeting. "We are proud about representing Kentucky Growers," Singleton said. "The great thing about representing Kentucky Growers is that the customer always comes first. With a one-hundred year history, the company is stable and understands customer needs."

Kentucky Growers was established in 1896. At that time the traditional family farm in Kentucky was the primary source of income, but it was difficult to find insurance for these farms. In fact, it was hard to find insurance in general. As a result of this, a group of citizens concerned about the insurance needs of the Kentucky community started the Kentucky Growers Insurance Company.

Over the years they have grown and now offer insurance on homes, farms and rural churches. Kentucky Growers has grown from writing insurance in 10 counties to writing insurance in 78 counties. Now there are 68 agents, many of whom are the exclusive agency for a county. The company originated in the central part of the state, but is expanding rapidly into other parts of the state. Today Kentucky Growers has over 27,000 policy holders with over 9 million dollars in premiums.

Singleton Insurance Agency of Mt. Vernon is located at 210 East Main Street.

Local student recognized at EKU Honors Day

A Brothead student was among approximately 250 Eastern Kentucky University students recognized for outstanding achievement during EKU's annual Honors Day program. EKU recognized the students for academic excellence, campus leadership and service to the University community during a luncheon banquet Sunday, April 14, in the Keen Johnson Ballroom. Local students and their honors include: Elbert Carl Bustle, the Noble G. Denistown Award. "We believe these students are fine examples of the academic quality that Eastern is always striving to achieve," said Dr. Russ Enzie, EKU vice president for academic affairs and research.

Tiger Pause

The Brothead Family Resource Center Advisory Council will meet tonight, Thursday, April 25, at 6:00 p.m. The public is invited to attend. Parents, Lisa Hopkins and Shari Proctor were elected to the SBDM Council for the 1996-97 school year at the P.T.A. meeting held last Thursday. Also, four new officers were elected for P.T.A. in 1996-97: Teresa Davis, president, Celena Bullock, vice-president, Sherry Hensley, secretary and Shari Proctor, treasurer. A special thank you to this year's parent SBDM Council members and to this year's P.T.A. officers for a job well done. Please remember on Wednesday, May 1, students will not be dismissed until 4:17 p.m. This will continue on Wednesdays during the month of May. The girls scouts have now formed their after school troop. For information regarding that program please contact Mrs. Becky Anglin. Please watch next week's Tiger Pause for information on the in-school day troops.

Federal officials tour projects

Jim Gilliland, the USDA General Council, paid a brief visit to Kentucky recently and stopped by an AmeriCorps site in Mt. Vernon.

While in Mt. Vernon Mr. Gilliland visited Ashlee's House, a local homeless shelter with which local AmeriCorps member Robby Phillips has been assisting. Gilliland, along with Craig Cornell from the USDA Office of General Council, Tom Fern, the RECD State Director, Louis Elliott, Kentucky RECD AmeriCorps Project Director, and Rusty Chevront, Field Representative for Senator Wendell Ford, spent the morning of April 10, 1996 touring Ashlee's House. Ashlee's House has been developed and operated by Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc. in conjunction with Kentucky Housing Corporation funding. Gilliland's purpose for visiting Ashlee's House and Town Hill Rental Project was to review Daniel Boone Development Council, Inc., an AmeriCorps host agency. Mr. Gilliland was impressed with both projects and the tremendous amount of leveraging and community involvement that was taking place in the area to make the projects a success.

AmeriCorps is President Clinton's national service program, passed with bi-partisan support from Congress, that engages 20,000 Americans of diverse backgrounds in performing service that meets critical community needs in return for an educational award, which may be used to pay for college, job training, or graduate school or to pay back student loans. The majority of AmeriCorps members are working in partnerships with state and local governments and non-profit organizations. The United States Department of Agriculture is running three types of AmeriCorps teams in 38 states, composed of approximately 1350 members: an Anti-Hunger Team, a Public Lands and Environment Team, and a Rural Development Team. Many of the AmeriCorps projects are sponsored by community-based organizations, like Daniel Boone Development Council, and all projects are designed to get things done, while boosting community, opportunity and responsibility.

The USDA Rural Development Team in Kentucky began serving in southeastern Kentucky in 1994 with nine members located at different sites. In 1995, that number grew to 14 members throughout the state. In addition to local AmeriCorps member Robby Phillips, Paula Hill, who is also assigned to Daniel Boone Development Council, and three other AmeriCorps members- Rebecca Davidson, Burnam Hudson and AmeriCorps Leader, Laura Duncan-were present for Gilliland's visit. The event was also attended by Buzz Carlolotis, Judge Executive of Rockcastle County; Doug Arnett, Deputy Judge Executive of Clay County and Director of Flat Woods; Mark Aufferman and Tiffany Manharler from Kentucky Housing Corporation; Peggy Jackson, KACA; Sharon Ross, Kentucky Housing Foundation; Betty Carier, County Coordinator of Daniel Boone Development Council; Nancy Meadows, Daniel Boone Development Council; Ken Arterburn, RECD; LuEd Nielsen, manager of Ashlee's House; Albert Robinson, State Senator and other local and state officials.

Renfro Valley Bugle editor receives Berea College Memorial Award

 "Let love of the brethren continue. Do not neglect to show hospitality to strangers, for by this some have entertained angels without knowing it."
 —Hebrews 13:1

Man has not changed much through the centuries. We still build our houses and raise our families, live and love and laugh and get sick and die. Life in this century is not unlike that of the nineteenth and eighteenth or even sixteenth centuries. The basic elements of human existence will remain basic parallels throughout history.

Although we remain consistent in our routines of human existence, our social behavior changes rapidly. It brings forth wars, diseases, treaties and prejudices. We elect leaders and follow their ideals with rigid determination, until we decide it's time to make them the laughing-stock of a generation. We dream of the glories of righteousness and peace and justice and love. But our actions are only the shadows of our dreams. We ignore our neighbors. We lock our doors. We demand safety for our children. We lock out for ourselves only. We protect our belongings. We take no chances. We hate strangers.

We have become self-sufficient, and we no longer need our community, our village, our neighbors, or our families. We have cars, credit cards, and drive-thru restaurants, so we can go nowhere faster and get more to waste. We shut our eyes. We deafen our ears. We say we care but we're afraid to care.

Irish legend tells of the household where an extra plate was set at the dinner table for the stranger who may wander past the farmhouse looking for a meal and a stall to sleep in for a night. In recent times in America, we are scared to think of accepting a stranger into our houses for any reason. We are afraid when people want things from us. Still, there are certain places where the legend holds true, and certain people who have become pinpoints of light in the darkness of prejudice and judgment.

I know of a place called Berea and of a family that refuses to ignore the people that are living around them. They are proof that there are still households where the doors are open to strangers.

Alex and Debby Carrick are a warm and loving couple who never shut their hearts or their doors. They came to Berea in 1991 and have housed foreign exchange students, college students, friends and guests who, for one reason or another, needed a place to stay. They own ten acres of land between Berea and Richmond. A rambling creek and a pasture full of cows, goats, chickens, and ducks surrounds the warm house which has sheltered and nurtured child after child.

Debby Carrick's inner and outer beauty and her Christian love for those around her, draws people to her. She is surrounded by joy, and those near her cannot help but be affected. She attracts those who are like her in thought and attitude, but she also attracts the troubled souls who find in Debby a certain kind of comfort in the knowledge that she will try her best to understand them and never turn them away.

Alex Carrick's strong and compassionate character allows him to succeed as a pharmacist at Berea Hospital and as a father and mentor. He enjoys the presence of his children and their friends and is always ready to play a game of chess, go for a bike ride, or tutor in mathematics. His sense of humor allows him to handle the pressures of running a household where eight people live and work and learn and love. He provides the standing ground beneath the Carrick's principles of human righteousness, decency and Christ-

Anne Brosnan, editor of the Renfro Valley Bugle, was honored recently with an award by Berea College for her feature article on the Carrick family. Miss Brosnan received a cash award for her effort. The prize-winning article is reprinted at left.

Suffering from back problems?
WE CAN HELP!

As many people know, back pain is one of the most common health problems in the United States today. The most common causes of back pain are poor posture, poor body mechanics and lifting techniques, stressful working and living habits, loss of flexibility and a general decline in physical fitness. Back pain can also be caused by arthritis, osteoporosis or congenital deformities.

Back pain occurs most frequently in the lower back and low neck regions where a spinal segment of high mobility joins a spinal segment of limited mobility. 8 out of 10 people will suffer a significant episode of back pain in their lifetime. 90% will recover spontaneously within several weeks although future recurrence is common.

"What concerns those of us that treat back injuries is that people don't realize their injury is probably a result of postural problems, deconditioning, or chronic improper lifting and not the result of one single episode," according to Steve Coy, P.T., Director of Physical Therapy. "If I could recommend one lifestyle change to most people, it would be to participate in some form of regular exercise."

"On average, most patients with an episode of back pain will come to us for 12 one hour visits. We see problems brought on by anything from arthritic changes to an employee lifting boxes they have lifted for 25 years. One of our recent patients continually leaned over her desk at work. She severely strained her lower back through the accumulation of chronically slouched posture in a poorly-fitted chair. Even reading in bed with a pillow under your head can lead to a future episode of back pain," Coy says.

Pain control, therapy, exercise and patient education are all a part of Rockcastle Hospital's Physical Therapy Department's treatment for back injuries. "When people first come to us with their back injuries, we generally begin with the use of pain control modalities. We may use heat or ice, ultrasound, electrical stimulation or a combination of these to promote healing and reduce or block the pain. These are all short term treatment strategies. Long term, we teach strengthening exercises, proper lifting techniques and proper posture. We have an exercise gym that includes aerobic equipment which we like to progress our patients to."

"What makes our program special is that we try to do a lot of patient education. We have great equipment and we are very pro-active in believing the patient should learn everything about their diagnosis, treatment, exercise program and basic back care so they can prevent future recurrence. We are very high on back injury prevention and do a significant amount of patient and community teaching on back injury issues. The answer lies in prevention: posture, exercise and proper lifting. We want everyone to have a healthy back."

ct and think and talk as they wish. A family's love reflects their personality, their culture, their ideals and their philosophy of life. Now here else is someone uniquely individual as when they are in their home. To open up the confines of home to strangers can sometimes feel like opening up your treasure chest and laying it out for all to grab. The Carricks unselfishly share their home and respect the privacy, needs and character of each person living within.

Alex and Debby Carrick have six children living in their home, and only three of them are their own children. My sister and I moved in, in June 1995, and their niece Naomi Carrick came for the beginning of the school year. Our meals are huge, and gathered around the table are many different personalities, characters, backgrounds, and stories. It is not unusual for guests to arrive spontaneously. The table is spread, chairs are added. There is always enough food.

We have learned to live together under the Carrick's principles of peace and democracy. Although mornings are rarely peaceful, with eight people needing showers, breakfast, and packed lunches, Debby's practicality handles all situations and people are fed and off to work and school without too much mishap.

The Carricks believe that no one should be denied the ability to bring out the best in themselves simply because they are lacking in funds, shelter, food or guidance. All six of the children living at the Carricks are students, two at Berea College and three at Madison Southern High School. Debby and Alex have taught their children at home at different times during their lives, and their youngest, Bethany, is twelve years old and is still taught at home. The Carricks enable each individual under their care to succeed in their education by providing unwavering support, guidance and tutoring.

Alex and Debby also provide spiritual and emotional guidance when the tempers run high and the tears start flowing. Debby is a strong Christian and the influence of Jesus Christ in her life and in her home is a blanket of reassurance to those of us who feel discouraged at times. During Christmas time, the celebration of Jesus' birth begins and daily devotions are shared, carols are sung, and peace fills the busy home.

There is never a quiet moment at the Carricks. Their two pianos, three guitars, two banjos, three fiddles, and various recorders and other instruments make the house a literal music box. Everyone who lives at the Carricks is musically gifted, and the clear, sweet voices of Debby and her oldest daughter, Sharon, are often heard singing in praise throughout the day. It is not unusual for many voices to gather in the living room and sing together from the Baptist and Methodist hymnals that are accompanied from the dark walnut piano.

Alex and Debby provide a service that is rare in this country in these recent times. They have into deliberately set out to help people. They do not aggressively search out people in need. They simply keep their hearts open, and the people in need are led to them. They share what they have with people who do not have those things. They guide and love and care for children that are not their own, with the same caring respect they have towards their own children. They are an inspiration to many. You will often hear children and teenagers say, "I want to be like Debby Carrick when I grow up," or "I wish that someday I could be as smart as Alex Carrick."

Debby and Alex do not expect thanks for what they give. In many ways, they probably do not realize that they are providing an invaluable service to so many young people. Those of us who have been touched by them, in one way or another, never forget the lessons they have taught us, and never forget the freedom and joy and acceptance we feel when we sit with them in their home, never feeling as if we are strangers.

This will not change our relationship with our patients. This partnership with Barpus/Quantum better prepares us to serve our patients," said Dr. Griffith.

The practice accepts assignment for most of the major health plans including Advantage Care, Blue Cross/Blue Shield, Bluegrass Family Health, Health-West, Medicaid and Medicare. Other plans are being considered.

Baptist representative, Duane Murray, was enthusiastic about the relationship to be finalized at the end of April. "Dr. Griffith's style of caring for patients is consistent with our mission to serve the communities in Central Kentucky."

New office hours will be 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday effective May 1. For more information or to schedule an appointment, call 606-256-2961.

Dr. Griffith will continue his service association with Rockcastle Hospital.

Last June I found myself starting a full-time job earning little over minimum wage, living in a small, dingy apartment and taking care of my sixteen-year-old sister who had recently come to live with me. The details of my life, and the road I had traveled to get to that point, are inconsequential.

What matters most was that during a time when I needed help, Alex and Debby simply and graciously gave me an opportunity to better my situation by offering to let their home become mine.

Man holds 3 at gunpoint

A Mount Vernon man has been charged with two counts of wanton endangerment for allegedly holding two men at gunpoint outside a Cartersville grocery store.

Leslie Wayne Smith, 56, of P.O. Box 554 in Mount Vernon was arrested by State Trooper Mike Ashley Monday on KY 954 at 5:05 p.m. He is accused of holding Bruce Potter and Chris Robinson at gunpoint for 10-15 minutes and threatening to kill them.

According to the Ashley, Smith was driving around looking for Potter, Robinson and a third individual. "They had a business dispute," Ashley said.

Smith saw Potter and Robinson and a third person outside the Cartersville Grocery on KY 954, stopped and pointed a loaded Smith & Wesson .38 Special at them.

"He decided not to kill them at all," Ashley said.

Meanwhile, Ashley was dispatched to the scene when a passerby reported seeing Smith holding a gun on the three men on the side of the road.

"I was headed to the scene when I came across Leslie Wayne about two miles down the road from the store and stopped him," Ashley said.

Potter and Robinson agreed to press charges but the third person left without filing a complaint, Ashley said.

Smith also was charged with Driving Under the Influence of alcohol and driving with no operators license.

Smith is being held in the Lincoln County Regional Jail until a preliminary hearing scheduled for Thursday, April 25 at 1 p.m.

Sherrie Bullock is "Student Employee of the Year" at Eastern Professional. Accurate. Quick. Trustworthy. Dedicated. Pleasant. These are just a few of the glowing terms supervisors have used to describe Kentucky's Student Employee of the Year, Sherrie Bullock, of Livingston.

Since arriving at Eastern Kentucky University in the fall of 1992, the senior paralegal major has worked in the dean's office of the College of Social and Behavioral Sciences. But her work has hardly stopped there. Besides working about 10 hours each week in the capacity, she has also carried a full load of classes, earning a 3.2 cumulative GPA, completed a 280-hour paralegal internship and is now working 20 hours a week as a data entry clerk at First Insigne in Berea.

"I just like the independence that work allows," Bullock explained. "I don't like to be dependent on other people. And I get bored easily if I don't stay busy."

By her own admission, Bullock arrived on the Richmond campus shy and lacking in self-confidence. "The job helped me meet a lot of people," she said, "and it helped me become more familiar with Eastern."

According to a nomination letter submitted by Dr. Vance Wisenbaker, dean of the College, administrative assistant Carolyn Britt and senior secretary Dana Kearns, Bullock "has contributed significantly to the successful operation of this office. She comes to work in a good mood and never complains about her tasks for the day. She starts to work immediately upon arrival, completes each job accurately, quickly and completely and is always willing to go above and beyond work in the office."

The Fall 1995 semester was a memorable one for Bullock for two reasons. First, her 19-hour class load included a paralegal internship with the public defender's office in Richmond. She became a valued employee there during the hectic days immediately after the arrest of suspected serial killer Glenn Rogers. Then, three weeks before the end of the semester, her father suffered a heart attack that resulted in open heart surgery.

"Even during this stressful family crisis, she managed to keep up with her classes and completed the semester with a 3.8 GPA," the nomination letter stated.

Bullock is scheduled to graduate in August with a bachelor's degree in paralegal science.

"I'd like to find a job as a paralegal and, long-term, I might look at law school," she said.

A 1992 graduate of Rockcastle County High School, Bullock is the daughter of Danny and Betty Bullock of Livingston.

After she was named EKU's Student Employee of the Year, Bullock was chosen as the statewide winner by the Midwest Association of Student Employee Administrators.

Student employment is just one of many options Eastern students have to help finance their college education while, at the same time, earning valuable work experience.

SCC announces new summer school schedule

Somerset Community College will delay the start of summer classes from Monday, June 10, until Wednesday, June 12, in order to accommodate graduating high school seniors. As a result, Friday, June 14, and Friday, June 21, will become class days, with the regular summer schedule being followed thereafter. Rodney Patton, Dean of Students, said that summer school registration will still be held on Thursday, June 6.

For more information call the college at 679-8501.

BES raises $2,786 from Easter Seal Shoot-Out

Brodhead Elementary School recently participated in the 16th Annual Wildcat Basketball Shootout for Easter Seals. Chaired by Coach Rick Pitino, the event raises funds for Easter Seal programs throughout Kentucky.

Seventy-two students at Brodhead Elementary School raised $2,786.21 for Easter Seals by soliciting sponsors for each basket made during the three minute period. These students were awarded prizes based on the amount of money raised.

The top boy and girl fundraisers at Brodhead Elementary School were Justin Wright, raising $216.00 and Mary Saylor, raising $132.50 for Easter Seals. Other students like Derrick Shelton shot the most baskets at Brodhead with 89 in a threeminute period.

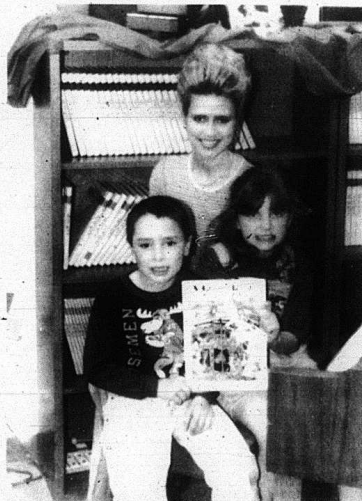

Students from Roundstone Elementary School stand at the base of the statue of Abraham Lincoln in the Capitol Rotunda during their visit to Frankfort on April 10. During their daylong trip they toured the Capitol building which houses the Governor's office and the chamber of the House of Representatives where Representative Danny Ford serves as their legislator.

State Representative Danny Ford, right, welcomed Dr. George W. Griffith and his wife, Charlotte Griffith to Frankfort recently. They are pictured at Rep. Ford's seat in the chamber of the House of Representatives where they were recognized as his guests by members of the Kentucky General Assembly. The 1996 session, which began in January, ended on April 15. During this time, 1,333 bills were introduced by the Senate and House. Of these, 357 bills were passed into laws.

Sherrie Bullock is shown receiving her plaque for being chosen "Student Employee of the Year" at EKU. Bullock, a paralegal major, was also chosen as the statewide winner by the Midwest Association of Student Employee Administrators. The presentation was made by Dr. Hanley Funderburke, EKU president.

Two Mt. Vernon Elementary artists were chosen as winners in the annual Music K-8 cover drawing contest this April from over 15,000 entries across the country. This is a national music educators magazine which is sent to teachers across the United States as well as other countries. All M.V.E.S. students had the opportunity to submit a drawing. Justin E. Hensley, P-1 student from Mrs. Carter's class, was named Most Promising Young Artist. His picture was published in the magazine and he will receive $15 from the magazine. Sarah Bullock, a P-2 student Mrs. Maples class, was named as an Honorable Mention. Her name was listed in this category. Congratulations to these two up and coming young artists! We are very proud of them both. Pictured with their music teacher, Mrs. Jamie Cornelius are Justin E. Hensley and Sarah Bullock.

Our Readers Write

Dear Editor,

I have always believed that law enforcement officers were also supposed to obey the same rules and laws as we do. I know of one policeman in our county that does not do this.

I live in a residential area and a county policeman lives in the same area. The speed limit on the street in this area is 25 mph. I cannot remember ever seeing him coming out the street doing 25 mph. Maybe 40.

The other day I witnessed a scene that almost stopped my heart. The school bus was coming down the street and so was the policeman. The bus had to stop fast or he hit head-on by the policeman (he was in his police cruiser). After he got around the bus he floored it again and almost ran over the bank. He must have been in a real hurry to put the lives of all those children in danger.

Should he be permitted to drive like that in his cruiser or any car on streets were kids play and families take walks just because he is in the law enforcement? I don't think so.

Several residents have called to have something done about this but all they hear is "we have logged it, thank you."

Lite Desserts

By: Hazel Jackson County Extension Agent for Home Economics

While we all know that we should try to cut back the amount of fat in our diets, no one wants to give up the treats they love. Desserts especially tend to be the food item where we "splurge", even though we may be trying to reduce the fat in our diets otherwise...

Why Do We Need To Reduce The Fat In Our Diets? Because the biggest killers today are significantly due to diet. Some dietary related chronic diseases include atherosclerosis, arteriosclerotic heart disease, diabetes mellitus, hypertension, obesity, osteoporosis and cancers of the colon, mouth, stomach, lung, breast, prostate, bladder and cervix.

Approximately 1/3 of all cancer and about 20% of heart disease could be prevented by reducing fat intake and increasing whole grain, fruit and vegetable consumption. These same dietary changes also could reduce the occurrences of hypertension, obesity and diabetes, among other things.

more than 236,000 women annually, and more than 87,000 women die of stroke. Death from coronary heart disease and stroke rank first and third as the causes of death for middle-aged and older women. The three most important and controllable behaviors for women are to avoid smoking, to eat a balanced, low saturated fat diet to control blood lipid levels, and to maintain a moderate level of physical activity to help weight control.

Often we can substitute low fat and low calorie versions of ingredients in a recipe, without a noticeable difference in the taste of the finished product. Here is one recipe that has low fat, low calorie substitutions with all the taste of the original dessert.

CHERRIES JUBILEE

- 1 1/4 cups cold 2% lowfat milk
1/2 teaspoon almond extract, divided

- 1 pkg. (4-serving size) vanilla flavor sugar-free instant pudding and pie filling
2 tablespoons sliced toasted almonds, divided
1 cup thawed light whipped topping
1 can (20 oz.) reduced-calorie cherry pie filling or 1 can of cherries, canned in juice (drained)

Pour milk and 1/4 teaspoon of the extract into large mixing bowl. Add pudding mix. Beat with wire whisk until well blended. 1 to 2 minutes. Chop 1 tablespoon of the almonds; gently stir into pudding mixture with whipped topping.

Mix cherry pie filling with the remaining 1/4 teaspoon extract. Alternately spoon pudding and cherry pie filling mixtures into parfait glasses. Refrigerate until ready to serve.

ready to serve. Sprinkle with the remaining 1 tablespoon sliced almonds. Makes 8 servings.

Thistle control in pastures

By: Tom Mills, County Extension Agent for Agriculture

Musk thistle, also known as nodding thistle, can be a serious weed problem in pastures, hayfield and also roadsides. This plant interferes with grazing and limits the amount of available forage to livestock.

Seed is the only method by which musk thistle reproduce. Therefore, limiting seed production is the key to successful control of this plant pest. Mature thistle plants are capable of producing an abundant amount of seed. If uncontrolled, one mature plant is capable of producing over 40,000 new seed. These seed can then be transported or spread to other areas by wind, contaminated hay, or farm equipment.

As previously indicated, the primary step in an effective thistle control program is to prevent or reduce seed production. This can be accomplished by using chemical, mechanical or biological control methods.

Chemical control of musk thistle can be utilized in permanent grass pastures and non-cropland areas. An important aspect when using a herbicide for control is choosing the proper time for the application. Best results are obtained when thistle plants are in the rosette stage of growth, generally in early spring. The rosette stage is when the plant is growing close to the ground in a circular pattern.

Best herbical control occurs when herbicides are applied during March and April. Herbicides which can be used on permanent

1/2 lb.

For more low calorie, low fat dessert recipes, attend a free class on "Lite Desserts" on Thursday at 12:00 p.m. Call the Extension Office at 256-2403 for information.

Grass pastures and non-cropland areas include: 2,4-D, Banvel and Crossbow.

For early spring applications, wait until thistle plants are actively growing and air temperatures are above 55 degrees Fahrenheit for 2 to 3 days. Complete spray coverage of the plant's rosette is also important. When herbicides are applied after flower stalks elongate, control will be inconsistent and less effective.

When using a herbicide for control, read and understand the label directions for proper use and any precautionary statements. Avoid spraying on windy days or days with high temperature and humidity. Also, avoid spraying when sensitive crops such as tobacco and home gardens are growing nearby.

Mechanical controls, such as mowing or hand-hoeing, should be done before flowers begin to open in the early spring. Some regrowth and production of flowers may occur after mowing; however, seed production will be noticeably less than if plants had not been mowed or hand-hoeed. Thistle plants mowed or removed after flowers bloom contain enough stored energy reserves in the stalk to maintain viable seed that will germinate into new plants.

Chemicals such as 2,4-D, Banvel and Crossbow will kill broadleaf plants like red and white clover. For this reason, farmers will need to plan on working thistle control into their rotation when replacing clover.

For more information, contact the County Extension Office.

Farms with a planting history in one of the past five years of wheat, corn, grain sorghum, barley, oats, upland cotton or rice are eligible to be enrolled in this program. Farmers may plant as they wish under the program, but fruits and vegetables may not be planted on contract acres, except under certain circumstances. A producer may enroll all or part of the farm's contract base acreage in the program and, after sign-up, may request a permanent reduction in the acreage without penalty. Base allotment notices will be mailed to producers in early May. Questions are being directed to the FARM BILL HOTLINE at 606-244-7645.

Dear Editor,

The Kiwanis of Rockcastle is proud to host a style show and dessert extravaganza, with McAlpin's of Lexington, on Sunday, April 28, 1996 at 2 p.m. at the Rockcastle County Middle School. The event is our second annual style show and we look forward to the success of this year's show. The new fashions for spring and summer are simply gorgeous and full of beautiful colors. The models for the show are Pamela and Taylor Martin (mother/daughter fashions), Terry Metz, Jamie Connelius, Maria Towsery, Tammy Stevens, Talona King, Heather Bray, Connie Hamz, Xi Graves, Ryan Graham, Tara Cox, Neal Shepherd, Leon Davidson, Bill Sowder, Natalie Pyles-Barnett (maternity fashions) and Dale Whitaker. So, as you can see, we have a great show lined up.

You can purchase tickets from any member of the Kiwanis or at Bank of Mt. Vernon, Cox Florist and Jeff Burdette's Law Office. The tickets are $10.00, and that includes scrumptious desserts and fruits served by our members of our Key Club from the high school. The proceeds will fund our Ginny Glipnitch Memorial Scholarship Fund. We look forward to seeing you there. Karen K. King Style Show Chairperson

EDWARD B. HATCHETT, JR. AUDITOR OF PUBLIC ACCOUNTS

To the People of Kentucky Honorable Paul E. Patton, Governor Mr. John P. McCarty, Secretary Finance and Administration Cabinet Ms Margaret Handmaker, Secretary, Revenue Cabinet Honorable George Carlotta, County Judge/Executive Members of the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court

Independent Auditor's Report

We have audited the Rockcastle County Sheriff's Settlement - 1994 Taxes as of September 13, 1995. This tax settlement is the responsibility of the Rockcastle County Sheriff.

Our responsibility is to express an opinion on the financial statement based on our audit. We conducted our audit in accordance with generally accepted government auditing standards and the Audit Guide for Sheriff's Tax Settlements issued by the Auditor of Public Accounts, Commonwealth of Kentucky. These standards require that we plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statement is free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining on an test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statement. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audit provides a reasonable basis for our opinion. The Sheriff prepares his financial statement on a prescribed basis of accounting that demonstrates compliance with the cash basis and laws of Kentucky, which is a comprehensive basis of accounting other than generally accepted accounting principles.

In our opinion, the accompanying financial statement referred to above presents fairly, in all material respects, the Rockcastle County Sheriff's taxes charged, credited, and paid as of September 13, 1995, in conformity with the basis of accounting described in the preceding paragraph.

Our audit was made for the purpose of forming an opinion on the statement of the Sheriff's Settlement - 1994 Taxes taken as a whole. The accompanying schedule of excess of liabilities over assets is presented for purposes of additional analysis and is not a required part of the financial statement. Such information has been subjected to auditing procedures and, in our opinion, is fairly presented in all material respects in relation to the financial statement taken as a whole.

In accordance with government auditing standards, we have also issued a report dated November 27, 1995, on our consideration of Rockcastle County Sheriff's internal control structure and a report dated November 27, 1995, on its compliance with laws and regulations.

COMMENT AND RECOMMENDATION

Based on the results of our audit, we make the following comment and recommendation. The Sheriff's Deposits Should Be Properly Protected From Potential Loss By Bank Pledges of Securities.

The Sheriff's deposits, during the month of December 1994, were under collateralized by as much as $862,149. Under the provisions of KRS 66.489(1)(d) and KRS 41.240(4), banks are required to provide pledges of securities for interest-bearing deposits when they exceed the $100,000 amount of insurance coverage provided by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation. We recommend that the Sheriff obtain adequate pledges of securities.

Respectfully submitted,

Edward B. Hatchett, Jr.

Audit fieldwork completed - November 27, 1995. The above transmittal letter accompanying the audit report presented to the fiscal court. KRS 43.090(2) requires that this letter be published in this newspaper. Copies of the complete audit report, including the accompanying financial statements and additional information, are available upon request by contacting the Auditor of Public Accounts, 144 Capitol Annex, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601.

A tornado ripped through Poplar Grove at 5:30 a.m. Saturday, April 20th. Destroyed was a mobile home belonging to Greg Goff and Anna

Stevens. The couple are to be married this summer and were in the process of decorating and furnishing their home. Also destroyed was a mobile home belonging to Randy Hasty on Wabb-Jones Road and two barns belonging to Jerry and Dorothy Ham as well as a barn belonging to Eddie Thompson. Very badly damaged were the homes of Willis and Ruby Thompson, Oscar and Terri Gibbins, Mary and Arlena Todd and J.R. and Linna Stewart.

Gail Keith and Janet Parsons celebrated their birthdays at the home of their parents, Owen and Marie Burton on Sunday, April 21st. Others attending were Kristal and Michelle Keith, Gary Keith, Mary Jane Randolph, Randy Parsons and Dorothy Duval.

The tornado that passed through Poplar Grove on Saturday did extensive damage to Barry and Stephanie Hurst's property. Stephanie had the misfortune of falling down a flight of stairs while rescuing her children from an upstairs bedroom, and a tree was toppled on their automobile and totaled it. Don and Ora Lee Hurst and Billy Joe and Doris Gooch had been on vacation in Fairfield, Glade, Tennessee last week and returned home on Saturday after the storm to find their pictures blown from the walls and water under their carpet.

Clyde Thompson of Quail spent Friday night with his sister, Mrs. Geneva Gentry.

Mrs. Thelma Brown, Mrs. Noretta Thompson and grandchildren Grant and Jessica Thompson spent Sunday afternoon visiting Eddie, Chris, Chase and Lindsay Quail at their new home in Berea.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Herrington, Sr.'s home was destroyed by the tornado which also hit the Maywood Community in Lincoln Co. on Saturday. They are the parents of Bro. Curt Herrington who preaches at Fairview Church of Christ.

Don and Noretta Thompson were in Advance, Indiana, Friday to visit Lovell and Gerry Owens. Lovell is very sick at his home there.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Owens spent Sunday afternoon with their daughter, Mava June Stumper and Shawn in Richmond.

Henry Brown and daughter, Ginger of Ohio, visited his aunt, Sally Brown on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ping, Jr. of Indianapolis, Indiana spent Tuesday with his aunt, Ola Brown and husband, Gilbert.

Travis and Jasmine Martin of Somerset and Jillisa Lay and Davis Faulkner of Brodhead, spent Friday night with their grandparents, Brownie and Carol Martin.

Jillisa Lay celebrated her 6th birthday on Saturday at her home in Brodhead with several of her friends present.

Mrs. Opha Reynolds fell last Saturday and broke her hip. She underwent surgery on Sunday at Lake Cumberland Regional Hospital in Somerset. She is still hospitalized at this writing.

Clyde VanHook of Romulus, Michigan is here this week visiting his mother, Mrs. Bertha VanHook.

Eleya Najarro Smith won First Place in her age division at the America Sweetheart Pageant. She was sponsored by Mike and Sue Brown of S & M Grocery, Beelick. Eleya resides in Eubank with her mom, Tina Smith. Her grandparents are JP and Glenna Smith of Eubank and Ben and Norma Najarro of the Philippines. She is the great-granddaughter of Mabel Rickels of Mt. Vernon. Eleya is four years old and has won four beauty pageants. She is now qualified for the National Competition to be held in Indianapolis in June. S & M Grocery will be sponsoring her for this event as well. Eleya will be a model at all of S & M's car shows and other events this year.

Grain producers need to keep good farm records to establish Actual Production History (APH). This raises your production yield and allows you to get more of your crop insured for the same fee. Copies of sale bills and weigh bills may be used for this. Bins measurements and grain storage records may also be used. These records should be turned in no later than April 30.

FCIC coverage is no longer a requirement for USDA benefits. Producers who elect not to take out the CAT coverage may waive their disaster benefits and still receive price support benefits. A waiver request form must be signed in the county office if a producer decides not to take the insurance. It is also not necessary to come in by the previous

May 2 deadline to cancel coverage. Policies will automatically be terminated if payment is not received in the county office by July 15. Producers may sign the waiver request upon crop certification, signing AD1026 Sodbuster, or anytime earlier.

Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) participants have the option to extend their contracts, or apply for an early release. To apply for an extension or early release, application must be filed by May 31. For more details contact the office.

Fairview News

By Mrs Hubert Chasteen

Worship services were well attended at Fairview over the weekend. Sunday School attendance was 107. Thank the good Lord.

Our spring revival, conducted by Rev. Tim Smothers, pastor of Otawa Baptist Church ended Friday night, April 19th. We heard some very spiritual and well prepared messages that we thank God for. Decisions were made every night, but there were no additions to the church. We thank Bro. Smothers for being with us and hope and pray God continues to bless him, and all other ministers that are out there preaching God's Holy word. They all need our prayers. So please remember them and all our missionaries when you pray.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Keith Smith who passed away last week and was buried in the Scafold Cane Cemetery on Sunday 21st. We have always loved the family and pray that God will bless and take care of them as the children now are without a father. But we are thankful that they still have a kind and loving mother.

I'm sure by now you have all heard about the tornado that swept through Madison, Lincoln and Rockcastle Counties, Saturday morning, April 20th, in the early hours before many people were up and around. So I won't comment on it, only to say, "Thank you Lord for saving the lives of the people." Property damage can be rebuilt or restored but we can't bring back to life one that has passed on. So, again I say, "Thank you Lord for your protection."

A very delicious supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tip Reppert of the Scafold Cane vicinity on Thursday night, April 4th, honoring the birthdays of Tip, whose birthday was April 7th, and his grandson, Ronnie Dale Reppert of Conway, whose date of birth was March 29th. Attending were Tip and wife, Florence; Ronnie Reppert, wife, Helen and son, Ronnie Dale; Lonnie Reppert, wife, Gerry and grandchild, Allis of Berea and Melody Reynolds and Phoebe Sorah. We hope and pray that both Tip and Ronnie Dale will have many more good years of good health and happiness. Tip is a good brother to me and I'm so proud of his visiting the sick and shut-ins. He goes many places to visit these friends and loved ones who enjoy him so much. And the good Lord knows that people need people.

Hubert Chasteen visited at the home of Eugene and Hallie Alexander recently.

Jeremy Davidson of Brodhead celebrated his 12th birthday April 14th (Sunday) at his home. His birthday was April 12th. Present to help him celebrate this very enjoyable occasion were his parents, Rex and Jewell Davidson; and his sister, Jenia Davidson; his uncle and aunt, Gerald and Irene Alexander and children, Courtney and Cody of Mareburg; his grandparents, Eugene and Hallie Alexander and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Isaacs and two small sons all of near Fairview. Jeremy is such a kind and sweet boy and loved by everyone. He is a great help to his grandparents. We send him our love and wish him many more happy birthdays.

We visited at the home of our son and family, Junior, wife, Lynetta and son, Rodney in Berea last Sunday. And they have visited us this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Alexander visited Mr. and Mrs. Woody Gabard of Berea, Wednesday night.

Mrs. Jean Hayes of Winchester visited her mother, Mrs. Mary Cope one day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R.J. Ridgell and Sherry visited his parents in Corbin, Sunday. His father remains very ill.

Please attend Sunday School and church with your children everytime you can. God bless you.

A Farewell to Maud Randolph

Maud Randolph, an outstanding citizen and role model for so many, will be moving back to her former home in Mt. Airy, North Carolina, at the end of this month. Since the death of her husband, Bill Randolph last year, the yearning to return to her former home where children, grandchildren, and old friends live has been strong indeed. For those of us who have come to know and love Maud, her parting will leave us with a real sense of loss.

Maud's impact on our community has been profound. Within a few weeks of moving to Rockcastle County to make a home with Bill, Maud reached out to the community and lent her considerable talents to several volunteer organizations and service projects. Among them the Kiwanis Club, serving as secretary and providing invaluable help with numerous committees and child advocacy projects. She served on the Rockcastle County Library Board and Senior Citizens Board and worked as a volunteer for our local Hospice. As a retired secondary school counselor and graduate of the Appalachian State University of North Carolina, Maud's considerable experience and education brought to these organizations enterprising management and direction. These talents are remarkable due to the wellspring of love and compassion attendant in all her relationships and endeavors. Recently Maud was honored by the First Christian Church as one of five people to receive the "First Light" award for this year. She indeed serves as a beacon, one that shines brightly and leads us to know our better selves.

We'll not say, "Good-by, Maud" but rather, "We'll see you soon." Your promise of frequent visits and attendance at local events will keep you a presence in our community for years to come; and for many of us, traveling to Mt. Airy will further strengthen the tie to our dear friend and companion.

Second annual Ladies Retreat set for May 4 at Teen Center

The Rockcastle Teen Center is hosting its 2nd Ladies Retreat, May 4th 8:30-5:00 at the Family Life Recreation Center. This is a free time to join the fun and fellowship with other ladies.

Girls 9-12 come with an adult. 13 and up can come alone. The youngest lady last year was '54' years old.

We had a total of 34 Ladies in '95, and we would like to double that this year. If you would like to attend or have questions please call the Teen Center, at 256-5512/256-4919 and ask for Glenn.
