For Livingston's Trail Town Fiscal Court approves purchase of 43+ acres

The City of Livingston's Trail Town just got bigger - and eventually better - after the Rockcastle County Fiscal Court approved the purchase of 43+ acres of land directly across from the bridge at Livingston for $40,000.

The action, passed by a voice vote with no magistrates voting nay, came after the proposal was put before the court by County Judge/Executive Buzz Carloftis.

Carloftis told the court that the property, known as the Arnold Property, had the most potential to expand Trail Town activities in Livingston, an important feature for Livingston to retain their designation as a Trail Town. It also gives Livingston the chance to obtain state and federal grants to develop the property, Livingston Mayor Jason Medley, who was at the meeting, told the court.

Elaine Wilson, South Eastern Kentucky Tourism Director, also at the meeting, spoke glowingly of Livingston progress as a Trail Town but also said that Trail Town designations are not forever. "Trail Towns are evaluated every year to see if they are moving forward with their strategic plan. Trail Towns must maintain progress," Wilson said.

Livingston will move city hall; discusses new traffic ordinance

Livingston residents will soon have a more visible city hall. The council decided, at its Monday night regular meeting, to renovate the former fire station and use half of it for city hall and the other half for city maintenance supplies. "I have always thought city hall should be on Main Street," Mayor Jason Medley told the commissioners.

Plans are to brick the front of the building, leaving the fire doors intact so they can be lowered at night, behind the new brick, for security. The commissioners originally planned to renovate the former Foster Mullins building, which they own, for city offices but decided instead to use the old fire station. Medley told the commissioners the Mullins building would still be renovated for businesses/offices. "There are three to four entities waiting to get into this building and this will return revenue to the city," he said.

Police Chief Carl Swannigan told the council he had been getting complaints about semis illegally parking their rigs on Main Street and side streets. He said he had given warnings about the infractions but the commissioners needed to consider an ordinance banning the practice.

Swannigan also said that u-turns, parking the wrong way on Main St. and in yel-

Mt. Vernon man overcomes odds to become police officer

By: Doug Ponder
 A local man has overcome daunting odds, after recovering from a motorcycle wreck, to become a police officer for the City of Mt. Vernon.

Shay Helton, 27, of Mt. Vernon said he always dreamed of becoming a police officer since he was a child and that there are many reasons why he chose to pursue his dream when he became an adult.

"I can remember playing cops and robbers when I was growing up. As I got older, I tried pursuing other careers but I always came back to wanting to be a police officer," Helton said. "One of the main reasons I chose to be a police officer is helping and protecting innocent people. We live in a dangerous world and somebody has to be there for the people."

Helton was hired as a police officer for the City of Mt. Vernon and started attending the police academy in Richmond in October 2013. Helton said he was excited to get the opportunity to serve and work in his hometown.

"I was excited to become a police officer, in Mt.

Vernon," Helton said. "This is where I grew up and I know a lot of the people in the community, which makes the job that much more rewarding."

However, Helton's excitement at becoming a police officer and attending the police academy would soon be overshadowed by a motorcycle wreck.

On January 5, 2014, Helton was traveling on his motorcycle on northbound Hwy 25 in Mt. Vernon when someone in an SUV struck Helton's motorcycle as they were turning left out of Wendy's parking lot. Helton was airlifted to the UK Medical Center where he was treated for internal bleeding, six broken ribs, lacerated liver, lacerated kidney, minor head swelling and several other injuries.

Helton said numerous thoughts rushed through his mind while he was lying on the roadway moments after the accident.

"I remember first thinking that I needed to get up but I immediately realized I couldn't move at all and that I was also having a hard time breathing," Helton

Gambrel indicted for attempted murder at rock quarry

By: Doug Ponder
 Several indictments were returned by the Rockcastle County Grand Jury last Friday, including a high-profile indictment against a Pulaski County man for the recent attempted murder of another Pulaski County man at an abandoned rock quarry on Mullins Station Road in Mt. Vernon.

Jason Dewayne Gambrel, 30, of Science Hill was indicted for attempted murder and robbery, first degree. The indictment stems from an incident that occurred on July 16th when Derek Kissee, 23, of Somerset was found severely beaten and completely buried under large rocks inside a cave at the abandoned rock quarry.

According to Rockcastle County Deputy Sheriff Matt Bryant, who was in charge of the investigation, Kissee was last seen with Gambrel before the incident occurred. He also said that investigators discovered evidence that suggests Gambrel was in close proximity of Kissee and the abandoned rock quarry at the time of the incident.

Bryant said that Kissee was missing approximately $700 in cash and several other personal items when he was found. He also said that Gambrel had made several statements to him that have proven to be false after they were investigated.

Kissee was recently released from the Cardinal Hill Rehabilitation Center in Lexington and is now at home recovering from mul-iple skull fractures.

Gambrel's bond was set at $1 million cash/property.

Other indictments handed down, included:

Sammy Stewart, 38, of Orlando on one count of tampering with physical evidence and one count of possession of a controlled substance, first degree. His bond was set at $25,000 cash/property.

Michael Wayne Smith, 35, of Mt. Vernon was in-

Buras withdraws candidacy for Brodhead Mayor in November General Election

By: Doug Ponder
 The filing deadline for the fall General Election in November ended Tuesday afternoon with a mayoral candidate withdrawing his name from the ballot.

Brodhead City Commissioner Mark Buras withdrew his name from the ballot before the deadline. Buras had originally filed to run against incumbent Brodhead Mayor Walter Lee Cash. Buras' withdrawal makes Cash the sole candidate for Brodhead mayor.

Buras has served as a commissioner since March 2013 when he was appointed to fill the seat of former Commissioner Vernon (Mush) Cash who resigned.

Brodhead City Clerk Becky Bussell said Buras is still a commissioner. However, she said he has not attended a Brodhead Council meeting since April.

Three arrested on drug charges

Three people were arrested on drug related charges in two separate incidents this past week.

In the first incident, two people were arrested for trafficking synthetic drugs last Thursday morning after police made a traffic stop on Hwy 150 in Mt. Vernon.

Arrested at the scene were Bridgette Lashay Denny, 19 and Zackery Shane Mullins, 25, both of Brodhead.

According to state police reports, trooper Brian Maupin and Mt. Vernon po-

Yards to Paradise

By Max Phelps

Consider the Daylily
In your landscaping, or in your flower or vegetable garden, consider the tough but lovely daylily. It's versatile, comes in about every color but blue, and is super easy to grow. You should definitely consider growing this hardy perennial.

The Latin for daylily is Hemerocallis. They are related to other lilies. Most hemerocallis species are from Asia, but hemerocallis fulva is a wild orange daylily found over much of America. There are over 60,000 registered daylily cultivars in the world now, and about 12,000 are available for purchase from lots of daylily growers and roadside markets, as well as by mailorder. The American Hemerocallis Society is the certifying organization in the US. The daylily plant is generally propagated by dividing an existing clump. One or more 'fans' are planted to begin a new plant. Part of a dormant root can also be planted. And, from seed, you might get an entirely new variety altogether if you have the patience.

Growing in moist or very dry conditions, in sun or part shade, in poor or rich soils, the daylily is one of the easiest plants for the beginner to have success with. From a small plant or clump, the clump gets bigger as the years go by. Like all perennials, eventually it will do better if dug up and divided. (Sell, give away, or eat the extras, anyone?) Blooms come in spikes of a dozen or more buds, one flower opens and is in bloom for just one day. For several weeks a plant will bloom. And if it is a 'rebloomer', more shoots will come and there will be more blooms right up until cold weather.

Daylily plants are evergreen, semi-evergreen or dormant. (You don't want to plant dormant ones in Florida or Southern California—and you don't want to plant evergreen ones in North Dakota.) Most begin to bloom in either June or July, and produce for several days to a few weeks. Again, rebloomers will continue to bloom sporadically the remainder of the growing season. Most daylilies open in morning and are finished the same day. A few are nocturnal, meaning the blooms open late in the evening or at night and continue through the following day.

With modern breeding programs by dozens of plantsmen, you can have about any size or color of daylily you want. Prices for fancy ones, rare ones, or newer cultivars may be a bit steep, but with so many varieties out there, even the most modest homeowner can buy a few from the 'big box' store at a reasonable price (or beg or borrow a start from a neighbor).

Landscapers typically use a common reblooming variety such as Stella d'Oro or Happy Returns. But with so many options, with a little research, there is no reason to limit one's design or planting to just the popular common ones. A massed planting of several complementary colors with both early and late bloom times, making sure some are rebloomers, a landscaper or homeowner can have flowers constantly from late May until a hard freeze. Specimen or accent plantings where daylilies are used sparingly, but with a dramatic flare, can really put some pizzazz into a garden or landscape.

Besides long blooming, low maintenance, and everybody's favorite color (except blue)—there must be a spot in your yard begging for a daylily.

What other value besides looks is there in a daylily? Well, they are pretty good at erosion control and weed suppression. And the obvious, but usually overlooked, is that they are edible!

In Asian markets, look for 'gum jum', golden needles, or 'yellow flower vegetable'. The flowers are edible, the flower buds are especially delicious, and on most the leaves (blades) and also the nodules on the roots are edible. I invite the reader to pick a few large buds from a daylily plant and toss into their salad before they dismiss this notion that they are edible. Try it, I bet you'll like it! Then, there is fried breaded flowers, pickled daylily buds and so on. The tubers where carbohydrates are stored (like tiny potatoes or peanuts) are also a good nutritious addition to a salad, soup, etc.

As Scripture says: "consider the lilies of the field... for even King Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed as one of these!"

"Arrests"

lice officer Adam Stallworth stopped a Chevy Malibu at a safety checkpoint on Hwy 150.

Once officers approached the vehicle, they could smell an odor of marijuana coming from inside.

Mt. Vernon police canine Laky alerted officers to several different areas of the vehicle. After receiving consent to search the vehicle, officers found a large bag containing synthetic marijuana and several other small baggies containing residue.

Officers also noted that the bag containing synthetic marijuana was found in the floorboard where Denny was previously sitting in the vehicle. Officers also found $50 in cash in various denominations inside Denny's purse.

Upon further investigation, $302 in cash in various denominations was also found inside Mullins' wallet along with a folded up dollar bill containing a white powdery residue. Mullins told officers the white residue was methamphetamine.

Officers also found a .22 semiautomatic pistol on Mullins at the time of his arrest.

Mullins and Denny were charged with trafficking synthetic cannabinoid agonists or piperazines. Mullins was separately charged with possession of a controlled substance (methamphetamine) and Denny was separately charged with drug paraphernalia.

Both Mullins and Denny were lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center. Both were later released on a $3,500 unsecured bond.

In the second incident, a local man was arrested for meth possession last Wednesday night after police raided a home on Richmond Street in Mt. Vernon.

Arrested at the scene was Jordan Michael Carpenter, 20, of Mt. Vernon.

According to state police reports, trooper Brian Maupin originally went to the residence to investigate reports of a stolen cell phone.

Once Maupin arrived, he observed Carpenter walking across the driveway. When Carpenter noticed Maupin's cruiser he ran to the front door of the home and yelled, "it's the cops, let me in!" After the front door was unlocked for Carpenter, Maupin observed him run inside the residence.

Upon further investigation, Maupin discovered there was an outstanding warrant for Carpenter's arrest and he found him hiding in a bedroom at the residence.

During questioning, Carpenter told Maupin that he had hid meth, needles and a scale inside the bedroom. After searching the bedroom, Maupin found the needles, scale, and small silver box containing suspected methamphetamine. Carpenter also admitted to Maupin that the items belonged to him.

Carpenter was charged with possession of a controlled substance (methamphetamine), tampering with physical evidence, fleeing or evading police, drug paraphernalia and public intoxication. He remains lodged in the Rockcastle County Detention Center on a $2,000 cash/property bond.

Another good fall squirrel season expected

Generations of hunters have honed basic hunting skills and techniques and provided tasty table fare by stalking the forest for squirrels.

For a young Chris Garland, squirrel hunting provided a gateway into the woods and remains a family tradition.

"I still enjoy it," said Garland, now an assistant director in the Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources' wildlife division. "Opening weekend comes and I almost feel obligated to go. I'll go a little bit in the early season and I like to go after deer gun season. That's another fun time to hunt because there is a little less pressure on other species and fewer people in the woods, especially on public lands."

Kentucky's fall squirrel season opens Aug. 16 and continues through Nov. 7. It resumes Nov. 10 following a pause for the opening weekend of modern gun deer season and ends Feb. 28.

The outlook is encouraging.

"I think we'll have another good season," said Ben Robinson, small game biologist with Kentucky Fish and Wildlife. "We've been trending up for a little while. The squirrel population is in really good shape right now."

Hunters help Kentucky Fish and Wildlife monitor the squirrel population by volunteering for the annual Squirrel Hunter Cooperator Survey.

Last year, data provided by 81 hunter cooperators showed they saw an average of two squirrels per hour and hunted for an average of three hours. Dogs were used on 5.6 percent of squirrel hunts.

Biologists expect more of the same this season.

The fall mast crop plays a considerable role in squirrel populations. Following a good mast year, squirrels typically enter spring and summer in better physical condition and female squirrels tend to produce healthier litters.

"Fortunately we had a pretty good mast year last year," Robinson said.

As children, many of us were taught to stop, look and listen before crossing a roadway or railroad tracks.

The concept also applies to squirrel hunting during the early fall season when trees are still full of leaves and the dense foliage can conceal squirrels from a hunter's sight. That's why a lot of people prefer to use a shotgun in the early season.

Look for stands of hickory, oak and beech trees. Freshly cut nuts falling from above or shavings piled around the base of a tree are tell-tale signs of a good place to set up. Soft mast like dogwood berries and black gum fruit also is an important food source for squirrels in the early fall. As the season wears on, there's a variety of hard mast available, particularly acorns.

"Even if it's kind of dry, usually there's enough dew on the ground in the morning that you can sneak around without making a whole lot of noise," Garland said. "You can hear them cutting and barking or just see the movement in the tree limbs. If it's a really foggy morning or it's rained recently, when they jump from limb to limb, you can hear the water hitting the forest floor."

Setting up in the early morning or at dusk are good bets. Squirrels are most active during those periods.

"Be patient. Wait for noise. See the treetops moving. See the leaves bouncing around," Robinson said.

Novices may find squirrel hunting to their liking because it doesn't require an abundance of equipment or gear to get started.

A 20-gauge or smaller shotgun is preferred by many for early squirrel season while a .22-caliber rifle is a late season staple once the leaves have fallen. Some comfortable camouflage clothing, a grippy pair of boots along with bug spray, and you're all but set for an early season outing.

"It's nice time to get out and a good way to introduce kids to firearms because you don't need a high-powered rifle," Robinson said. "You can take a .22 or a .410 out and get kids oriented to firearms and hunter safety. And if you're using dogs, you're up walking and moving. You're not going to be bored. There's a lot to look at and a lot to do."

Hunters are allowed six squirrels per day, with a possession limit of 12 squirrels. Consult the 2014-2015 Kentucky Hunting and Trapping Guide for additional information about squirrel hunting.

Fall Squirrel Hunter Cooperator Survey logs are available by calling Kentucky Fish and Wildlife at 1-800-858-1549 or online at fw.ky.gov. Click on the "Hunt" tab, select "Game Species" from the dropdown menu and click "Squirrel." Each year, hunting log cooperators receive an annual report and a small gift for their participation.

Run Bike and Hike is this Saturday

The 5th annual Rockcastle Regional Hospital Run Bike and Hike will be held in Rockcastle County this Saturday, August 16.

The event, which will begin and end at the Lake Linville Recreational area, will feature a 2-mile walk, 5K run, and a duathlon, which consists of a 5K run, followed by a 16.8 mile bicycle ride, followed by a 2.2 mile run. Nearly 200 are expected to participate in all of the events for approximately $20,800.

The project calls for blacktopping on West Street, Albright Street, Willow Street, Sycamore Street, Smith Street, Cass Street and Castle Village Drive.

Councilman Cash said that contractors advised him that they didn't need to patch potholes or other small sections of the roadway. He said the contractor advised them to lay the blacktop in large sections so it wouldn't cause uneven sections on the city's roadways.

"They actually said it turned out to be cheaper for us to lay blacktop in large sections instead of just patching potholes. It comes out cheaper and we get more blacktop," Councilman Cash said. "If they patch a pothole then move a few yards to patch another one we actually spend the same amount of money then if we just pave the blacktop in larger sections because they still have to move their equipment."

Councilman Cash said that the city also needs to fix a galvanized tile that has "rotted out" on Willow Avenue. He said motorists will turn their vehicles over if the problem doesn't get fixed soon.

Mayor Walter Cash agreed and said due to that being an emergency they didn't have to bid the work.

Councilman Cash went on to say that the rotted

The 5K run and 2-mile walk will be held on Lake Linville Rd. The second run of the duathlon will be on Barnett Rd. The bicycle portion of the duathlon will begin at Lake Linville and will go up Mount Zion Church Road and Brindle Ridge Road to Brodhead, then onto Chesnut Grove Road, back on Brindle Ridge, to Hurricane School Rd, then Renfro

Mt. Vernon Fire and Rescue responded to an RV fire last Saturday on northbound I-75 at the 65 milemarker. Authorities say a family of eight was driving to Ohio when the driver noticed smoke and was able to pull the RV into the emergency lane before it caught on fire. Officials say everyone escaped and no one was injured in the fire. The cause of the fire remains unknown.

The American Revolutionary War Patriots of Rockcastle

By Karen Hamm Adams

To celebrate and honor the county's American Revolutionary War Patriots and to enlighten the community about the service and sacrifice of these brave men, on behalf of the Rockcastle Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution, I have compiled highlights of the service of the known patriots living in the county and who applied for a pension between the years 1818 and 1842. All information was taken from the patriot's own account from his pension application and other historical documents. More information can be found on each patriot at the local library or the Rockcastle Historical Society. (Copyright pending). If you are interested in joining the Daughters of the American Revolution, please contact Debbie Brown (606) 758-8659 or Iris Young (606) 256-2851.

Henry Haggard

Henry Haggard was born 25 March 1759 in Albermarle County, VA and died about 1838 in Rockcastle County, KY. According to his pension application, Henry gave the following account of his service on 12 September 1832 in Rockcastle Co. KY at the age of seventy-four: He volunteered as a private in the militia in the Army of the United States in the year of 1776 as well as he could recollect in the company commanded by Captain Barnes Brown in the Regiment commanded by Colonel Cole in the Virginia Line for a term of six months. This volunteering took place in Albemarle County state of Virginia where he lived and entered the service. He served out his tour of enlistment when he was discharged in the same county by his Captain.

In 1778 in Washington County State of Virginia, he was drafted for a period not now recollected. His Captain was Duncan in the Regiment commanded by Colonel William Campbell, who commanded at Kings Mountain. He was discharged at Abingdon, VA by Captain Duncan before his term of service expired, but it was in lieu of the tour of three months. In 1780, in Sullivan County, TN, then North Carolina, he was drafted for six months in the company commanded by Captain Solomon White in the regiment commanded by Isaac Shelby, formerly Governor of Kentucky.

He served a portion of his time a little upwards of three months but he couldn't remember the time but was discharged by this Captain on the Broad River, SC.

Henry lived in Albermarle Co. VA when he entered the service. After the war, he lived in Hawkins and Sullivan Counties of TN and later moved to what was to become Rockcastle Co. KY and had lived there for forty years at the time of his pension application. Henry did receive a pension in the amount of forty dollars annually on 11 May 1833. His last payment was received on 4 September 1838. Death date is unknown. His final resting place is also unknown.

Henry did not mention a spouse or children in his pension application, but was listed as the parents (Henry and Mary Haggard of VA) on the death certificate of their daughter, Eleanor Haggard Sutton in 1876 Rockcastle Co. KY. According to the 1820 Census, Henry was married living with his spouse and children in Rockcastle County, KY. Children consisted of four sons and two daughters.

Probable Children of Henry and Mary: Marry Haggard (1788-About 1860 Pulaski Co. KY) married David Warren (1787-1872) on 1 March 1808 Lincoln Co. KY. ### Money Tips for Students

Learn the difference between a need and a want

One of the biggest steps to financial security is learning the difference between a need and a want, according to the Kentucky Higher Education Assistance Authority (KHEAA). Students who have learned that difference will find that their bank accounts grow more quickly.

Needs include clothes, food and, for many students, transportation.

With clothes, a want may mean wearing only designer items that cost more than clothes that last just as long and look just as good.

Students might want to eat a deluxe cheeseburger at a fast food restaurant every day, even though they can save money by making their own sandwich and brown-bagging it.

If a student needs a car to drive to and from school, a want would be a new sports convertible instead of a reliable, used car with good gas mileage and less flash. A student who lives in a city, however, might save more money by taking public transportation.

Each time students are faced with a purchase, they should ask themselves if they really need it or if they can get by with a less expensive item — or without it completely. They should save the money they don't spend so it's there when they really need something.

KHEAA is the state agency that administers Kentucky's grant and scholarship programs, including the Kentucky Educational Excellence Scholarship (KEES). It provides financial literacy videos at <http://itsmoney.kheaa.com>. KHEAA also provides free copies of "It's Money, Baby," a guide to financial literacy, to Kentucky schools and residents upon request at publications@kheaa.com.

Rick Brummett for Jailer

My name is Rick Brummett and I am a candidate for jailer of Rockcastle County in the upcoming general election.

I have worked at the Rockcastle County Sheriff Department for over 10 years. I have also had six years experience as head of Security at Renfro Valley Entertainment. While supervising approximately 15-20 employees, our area was always within our annual budget.

Housing inmates can put a strain on a county's budget. One area of improvement I suggest would be the feeding of inmates. We need to find a solution to cut the excessive cost of food. An alternate would be having a garden and having inmates work in a garden. This would bring the cost down to taxpayers and would be a good skill for inmates to become better citizens.

Another improvement would be a substance abuse program for families who have family members in jail. They would not have to drive as far to visit inmates.

We also need an effective inmate work program to help bring down the housing cost. Instead of sitting in a jail cell, inmates could be doing meaningful work.

I am asking for your vote in the November General Election. It is time for a new way to operate our Rockcastle County Jail.

Thank You, Rick Brummett

Davis receives "Fellow" distinction

For several years, Stephen E. Davis, partner at Davis & Hylton Accounting & Tax Service, PLLC in Berea, has been a member of the National Association of Enrolled Agents that specializes in representation work. These Enrolled Agents (EA's) are America's tax experts. Their members are the only federally licensed tax practitioners who specialize in taxation and have unlimited rights to represent taxpayers before the Internal Revenue Service.

Last summer, Davis began his quest to become a member of an even more elite group within the NAEA organization, the National Tax Practice Institute (NTPI) Fellows. NTPI awards the "Fellow" distinction to Enrolled Agents who successfully complete three levels of extensive study in representation of clients before the Internal Revenue Service. These NTPI Fellows are considered the top specialists in representation before the IRS.

Davis attended the first level of the program in August 2013 in Las Vegas, Nevada. In December 2013, he attended the second portion of the program and graduated from the NTPI leadership academy in Orlando, Florida. This month, Davis attended the National Association of Enrolled Agents Conference in Las Vegas, Nevada for the third portion where he was awarded the high distinction of NTPI Fellow.

Thinking About Cleaning Your Carpet?
Some things to think about...
What is the best way to clean my carpet, should I use the old technology of steam cleaning or the new technology of dry foam?
Test results from Consumer Report, 2008.
Option 1: Steam Cleaning-How does it work?
A. Steam Cleaners saturate your carpet and floor pad with hot (150° degree) soapy water containing lye and bleach to help dissolve stains.
B. After your carpet reaches its maximum saturation point the solution is then extracted by means of a commercial shop vacuum.
The results: Removes less than 20% of the soil from the carpet driving the remainder down deeper into the carpet fibers. The lye/bleach solution used by steam cleaners to dissolve stains fades carpet colors. Drying time is 1 to 5 days depending on the carpet texture. As a result of the water saturation, carpet fibers harden and the floor pad remains damp, which promotes bacteria growth and mildewing, causing carpet threads to rot, shorting the life of your carpet. Carpet manufacturers recommend that you do not steam clean carpets.
Option 2: Dry Foam-How does it work?
C. Carpet fibers are agitated with carpet combs to separate the fibers loosening dirt particles, which are then dry cleaned with an industrial strength vacuum.
D. The carpet is then shampooed with horse hair brushes using Dry-Foam lather, a solution that contains six different cleaners and fabric softener, color brightener, deodorizer, disinfectant, crystalline agent, scotch guard, & degreaser. Does not contain lye or bleach.
E. Carpet fibers are then groomed to fluff up worn walk areas to give a uniform look to the carpet.
The results: Removes over 90% of carpet soil. Rejuvenates and brightens colors and patterns of carpets. Drying times is less than 2 hours. Floor pads remain dry-Fabric Softener makes carpets soft again. Promoting the life of the carpet.
Carpet manufacturers recommend Dry Foam to clean Carpets.

or 10 years, the chemotherapy clinic at Rockcastle Regional Hospital has combined the best local care with the expertise of a nationally recognized cancer center. Our affiliation with UK's Markey Cancer Center means their specialists travel to our hospital to deliver care alongside our highly skilled nursing staff.

The result? Less driving and more rest for our patients and their families.
